PRESIDENT SAYS U. S. DEFENSES ARE NEGLIGIBLE

Walsh Sees Need to Recall Navy.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sen. David I. Walsh.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Ominous warnings in the senate today concerning the vulnerability of our coast cities to possible enemy attacks were corroborated later by President Roosevelt.

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference that our present state of unpreparedness is such that a Japanese attack on Alaska, the shelling of New York City, and even the bombing of Detroit are possibilities at any time.

Admits Inadequacy.

Asked whether the navy and the air force in the Pacific are strong enough for any contingency, the President replied that they certainly are not. He could give no assurance, he said, that Alaska will not be attacked. So far as that goes, he added, enemy warships under certain conditions could come in and shell New York City tomorrow night and enemy warplanes could drop bombs on Detroit.

Similar warnings were uttered in the senate during debate on a deficiency bill appropriating $163,000,000 for miscellaneous government agencies, including $100,000,000 for the Office of Civilian Defense. The senate passed the bill without a record vote and returned it to the house for a conference on senate amendments.

Sen. David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], chairman of the naval affairs committee, warned the senate that the United States is "in the perilous position of being almost defenseless in the protection of our own property and our own shores."

Navy May Have to Return.

"The day may come when we shall have to bring back from the four corners of the world our depleted navy to be a source of defense for our own shores," he said.

Sen. Walsh's warning was prompted by an impassioned appeal by Sen. Hiram Johnson [R., Cal.] for protection for the west coast states of California, Oregon, and Washington. Apparently referring to the possibility of a Japanese fifth column uprising simultaneously with a Japanese attack from overseas, Sen. Johnson warned that "we are likely to see in the near future another Pearl Harbor" unless adequate protection is provided for the west coast.

Sen. Walsh replied that it is not only a question of protecting the west coast. The Atlantic and the gulf coasts are equally vulnerable to attack, he said. His office has been overwhelmed by letters and telegrams from alarmed citizens of Massachusetts, he added, as a result of a newspaper story on Sunday indicating that the city of Boston is defenseless.

Reflects General Alarm.

The senate debate reflected widespread alarm in congress resulting from the activities of German submarines in the Caribbean defense zone, within a few hundred miles of the Panama canal.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] warned the senate of recurring disasters such as the burning of the Normandie, when he introduced a resolution calling upon the naval affairs committee to investigate the loss of the French luxury liner taken over by the United States navy.

If the Normandie, renamed the Lafayette, had been sunk by the enemy at sea, it would have been hailed by our foes as a major victory, the Michigan senator declared. "Indeed," he said, "it represents a loss in war tonnage equivalent to about half the tonnage which the entire German submarine campaign has been able to sink in all its activities off our Atlantic coast since war began. It was not sunk by an enemy at sea. It was sunk by an enemy at home—which is infinitely more ominous—and that 'enemy' was either sabotage or negligence."

Asks Separate Inquiry.

Noting that Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox has ordered an investigation of the Normandie disaster by a court of inquiry, Sen. Vandenberg nevertheless said the naval affairs

NEWS OF MAJOR DEVELOPMENTS ON WAR FRONTS

Latest developments on war fronts:

A dispatch from Batavia, Netherlands East Indies, disclosed that Japanese planes attacked islands in the strait between Sumatra and Java. A member of the Netherlands Indies council in a broadcast warned Java's 40,000,000 inhabitants that the "enemy is at the gates of Java and will soon storm these gates." The Dutch announced their planes bombed enemy ships and an airdrome at Palembang, great oil center captured by the Japs in Sumatra.

British commanders in Burma announced they were regrouping their positions along the Bilin river, 50 miles from a railway which feeds supplies to the Burma road.

Japs Celebrate Today.

Japanese radio messages from Tokio declared a group of hand picked troops today would make a "formal entry" into Singapore city and the Japanese people would celebrate the conquest of Singapore, which the Japs have named Shonan—"light of the south."

The United States war department announced the award of the congressional medal of honor to a Filipino mess sergeant of the Philippine scouts.

Gen. MacArthur advised the war department that Japanese bombs killed 18 Filipino women and five children in a refugee camp behind the battle line on Bataan peninsula. A communique said Japanese aerial and artillery activity was increasing. Japanese shore guns were reported to be pounding American fortifications in Manila bay.

Reds Claim New Gains.

The Russians claimed the Red army continued to advance in the face of repeated German counterattacks. A Moscow dispatch said Kharkov, steel city on the Donetz front, and Novgorod, south of Leningrad, "appeared to be threatened" by Red troops.

On the African front the British reported that RAF planes had torpedoed and set afire two Italian cruisers and two destroyers in the central Mediterranean. British headquarters said that in Libya German scouting detachments withdrew from positions in advance of the main axis lines. "Considerable enemy forces" were acknowledged to be stationed 100 miles west of Tobruk.

NORMANDIE FIRE RE-ENACTED BY SAME WORKMEN

New York, Feb. 17 (AP).—The spark that set the Normandie afire has been recreated by navy investigators to strengthen their conviction that the blaze which ruined the former French liner was accidental and not caused by sabotage.

At navy yard, Brooklyn, officials set up a steel column similar to the one on which an acetylene torch operator was working Feb. 9. The same operator who had been working on the Normandie took his place and near him stood the same men who were nearby at the time of the fire.

Bales of life preservers like those on the Normandie were set up near the steel column exactly as they had been placed on the ship. The torch wielder went to work. In a few minutes, despite all precautions, the hot sparks hit the burlap covering the life preservers and the bundle burst into flame.

83 SURVIVORS LANDED; TELL OF TORPEDOING

3 Women and Child Among Rescued.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 17 (AP).—Eighty-three survivors of the Brazilian steamer Buarque, which the navy announced tonight was torpedoed and sunk Sunday by an axis submarine off the Virginia coast, were brought ashore here yesterday and tonight after many hours in lifeboats.

The 5,000 ton passenger cargo vessel, carrying 11 passengers and a crew of 74, was sent to the bottom by two torpedoes early Sunday morning. Forty-six survivors were landed here Monday and 37 others and one body were brought ashore tonight, leaving one person unaccounted for.

Three Women Among Survivors.

Three women were among the survivors landed Monday. This group of 46 was picked up from two lifeboats late Sunday by a rescue ship after they had been sighted by navy planes earlier that day. Two other rescue vessels brought in the 37 and the body.

Passengers praised highly the courage of 5 year old Frederick Ferreira, who came up smiling after being seasick, cold, and wet for 18 hours in a lifeboat. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Ferreira of Newark, N. J. His mother was a "good sailor," too, they said.

John P. Dunn, New York, Pan-American Airways construction engineer, said that in their lifeboat "Freddie became seasick; he was cold, wet, and cramped. But he didn't complain and he smiled when any one spoke to him."

Freddie asked Dunn if he had "brought along my portable phonograph and his favorite records."

Declines "Shivery" Food.

Safe at Norfolk, Freddie's mother tried to feed him a jellied dessert. Freddie looked at it with distaste and pushed the plate away. "It's shivery," he said. To Freddie, "shivery" meant 18 hours in an open boat; a little stomach that was convulsed with each new wave.

Fifth naval district public relations officers refused to permit newsmen to interview the group brought ashore tonight, saying these survivors were too "fagged out." All the survivors who came in last night left for New York.

Walter F. Shivers, New York, who said he was a "trouble-shooter" for Pan-American Airways, related that the Buarque had "the Brazilian insignia painted on both sides and an illuminated sign pointing to the insignia should have been plainly visible at some distance."

Ship's Boilers Explode.

The 33 year old Dunn told interviewers that shortly after the second torpedo struck the Buarque the ship's boilers exploded and she sank "within 30 seconds." There was a terrific screaming sound as the water rushed into the ship's open spaces. I think she was ripped in half by the explosion," he said.

Shivers said that "a young tidal wave which followed the explosion almost swamped our lifeboat. The screaming of the sinking ship was almost human. It was the most eerie sound I've ever heard. It made my blood run cold."

No general alarm was sounded aboard the Buarque after the torpedoing, Dunn asserted, adding that "we never received an order to abandon ship. I don't know whether everybody got off the ship."

Awakened by Blast.

Dunn, who had been working on an airport development in Belen, Brazil, said he and Shivers were asleep in their cabin when the first

Senate Votes Inquiry Into U.S. Burocracy

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Sen. Millard E. Tydings [D., Md.] today called upon the senate for a special investigation of the possibilities of converting the government, as well as industry, to the conduct of the war. His resolution, unanimously approved, assured a definitive survey of federal burocracy.

Under the resolution, an exhaustive questionnaire will be sent to all employing units of the federal government, from the smallest to the largest, and will result for the first time in complete information respecting their functions, their expenditures, the amount of office space they occupy, and the number, qualifications, and duties of their personnel.

Draft Status Demanded.

Among other things the section, subdivision, division, bureau, department and agency chiefs will be required to produce detailed information concerning the draft status of their pay rollers. If they have been deferred as "necessary men," they will be required to say so and explain why.

Such agencies as the Office of the Coördinator of Information, headed by Col. William J. [Wild Bill] Donovan, and the Office of Facts and Figures, headed by Archibald MacLeish, are reputed draft dodger havens.

Each agency will be required to fill out a total of 15 questionnaires, one for each six months from Sept. 1, 1939, to March 1, 1941, and one for each month from March 1, 1941, to March 1, 1942. The questionnaires thus will show how the bureaus have grown since the outbreak of the European war.

Calls It "Monstrosity."

Sen. Tydings asserted in a senate speech last Friday that the federal government "is a monstrosity from top to bottom."

The senator's resolution calls for an investigation of the possibilities of converting the government burocracy to the war effort by curtailing nonessential activities.

Sen. Tydings contends that much greater efficiency can be achieved and billions of dollars of the taxpayers' money can be saved by such a streamlining of the federal government. Such a program also would give the people confidence that the administration is prosecuting the war with the seriousness demanded by the national peril, and not approaching it as a political and social reform project, according to the Maryland senator.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Rep. Paul Shafer [R., Mich.] surprised many of his colleagues in the house today with the disclosure that the Farm Security administration has reported loans of $799,000 to aid agriculture in the District of Columbia, the nation's capital—69 square miles in area and teeming with government offices and war activity.

Shafer said he has demanded a complete list and explanation of the FSA loans to capital farmers. The uproar thruout the nation over the law giving pensions to congressmen, he asserted, is merely a sample of the reaction which could be expected if taxpayers were acquainted with "other misuses and abuses of their dollars."

Under Committee Fire.

The Farm Security administration has been under fire before a special senate committee investigating nonessential federal expenditures. Witnesses accused the FSA of sundry abuses of authority and misuse of government funds and attributed to it a long range program to collectivize American agriculture. Under questioning, its officials admitted that taxpayers' money had been loaned to pay poll taxes in southern states.

"Congress and the people are entitled to know the facts of these farm loans within the District of Columbia," Shafer said today. "Think of it. Loans of $799,000 in a thickly populated, nonagricultural section such as this, of all places.

"On the face of it, it appears to me that the boys of Spokane, Wash., who originated the campaign to send bundles to congressmen because of the pension law, should have included the gentlemen farmers of the capital.

People Feel Tax Burden.

"The people of America are becoming tax conscious. They are just beginning to realize what it means to underwrite a world-wide war for this and other nations, and at the same time pay the tremendous costs of their own government, which have grown by leaps and bounds during the New Deal administration.

"If there is any member here today who believes that the people will continue silently to endure waste and extravagance in government, I need, but to remind him of the indignation that descended upon us as a result of the passage of an amendment to the civil service retirement act which provides for the extension of social security to the President and the congressmen."

According to the bureau of census, Shafer said, there were 65 farmers in the capital area in 1940. The farms average 36 acres.

Fail to Obtain Democrat O.K. for McKeough

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 17.—Downstate sentiment for State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney of Chicago today derailed the plan of the Nash-Kelly organization to obtain an indorsement from the state central committee for their candidate for senator—Congressman Raymond S. [Small Potatoes] McKeough.

The effort to get an official party O. K. for McKeough was abandoned for the present, at least after attempts to whip up strength for the Chicago congressman had been elaborately staged at a luncheon of downstate county chairmen and legislators.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago came down in his capacity as national committeeman to aid McKeough. The mayor gave McKeough a soaring vocal approval and also carried an absent member's proxy into the indorsement meeting to be voted for McKeough if opportunity offered.

Courtney Strength Alarming.

From midmorning until late afternoon, when the committee finally sat down to do nothing, the hotel where the Democrats met was a cauldron of rumors, reports, and alarms.

All of them dealt with Courtney and they held variously that he was on the point of announcing against McKeough; that he had formed his own ticket; that a group of insurgent county chairmen were plotting a Courtney movement in an upstairs room, and that Courtney could carry Chicago against McKeough despite the machine.

Apparently in an effort to offset this, a call for a rising vote for McKeough was put thru at the luncheon, on motion of former Gov. John Stelle. It was announced as unanimously carried altho a few in the rear of the room remained in their chairs.

Other Indorsements Delayed.

Hearing that former State Rep. Benjamin S. Adamowski, a friend of Courtney, was interested in the nomination for congressman at large, those in charge of the meeting first dropped a plan to ask the committee to indorse W. D. "Don" Forsyth, Champaign, for congress; John C. Martin, Salem, for state treasurer, and John A. Wieland for a second term as superintendent of public instruction, in addition to McKeough. They decided to try for McKeough and let the rest ride for the time being.

Finally the committee got together and McKeough joined them as Chairman Arthur A. Sullivan was telling reporters that he thought the congressman would be approved. Then the door closed.

As McKeough explained it later, he asked for the floor as soon as Sullivan rapped for order, to say that since the rest of the ticket seemed to be in doubt, he felt it would not be the thing to do to make any endorsements until a full slate had been agreed upon. He therefore asked that no action be taken.

Rebellion Is Hinted.

Others present agreed, but they added that when McKeough sat down James C. Mayor of La Harpe, former state senator and a follower of the late Gov. Henry Horner, remarked that he thought the suggestion a wise one since he felt no indorsement should be given.

He left the impression that he spoke for other downstaters present and that had an indorsement been attempted a bloc of them would have rebelled. Chicago committeemen, casting a majority vote, could have slammed thru whatever they wanted, but that was recognized as bad strategy and was not tried.

The day ended with nothing accomplished and Sullivan said he thought no action would be taken until after Feb. 28, the last day for withdrawing candidacies.

McKeough's speech at the luncheon was about equally composed of expressions of loyalty to President Roosevelt and attacks on THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. He delivered a second talk in order, he said, to get in a line left out of some copies of his speech, to the effect that the issue "is the upholding of the leadership of President Roosevelt—or THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE." He had omitted this line in his initial appearance.

SLUR ON G. O. P. LOYALTY STIRS STORM IN HOUSE

Bare Secret Letter by Democrat.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rep. Clarence Cannon.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Disclosure of a secret letter from a Democratic leader to his colleagues of the majority—which was described as one of the most astounding missives ever penned in connection with legislative processes in this country—threw the house into an uproar today as it debated and then passed, 371 to 0, a new war appropriation bill totaling more than 32 billions of dollars.

Rep. Clarence Cannon [D., Mo.] chairman of the powerful house appropriations committee, was revealed as having sent to all Democrats yesterday a letter marked "personal," in which he in effect urged Democratic opposition to all Republican amendments to the bill coming up today, whatever their merit.

Bewails Curb on OCD.

Cannon bewailed the fact that house Republicans put over the amendment to the civilian defense bill last week which forbade "fan dancing" in the Office of Civilian Defense.

He asserted the minority's only purpose in offering amendments to pending bills was to gain "partisan advantage" in the congressional elections this fall. The letter was viewed as an indictment of the patriotism of all Republicans in the house and brought forth scathing criticisms from minority members, which left Cannon squirming in his seat.

In the heated discussion the question frequently was asked whether congress was to be deprived of its right to criticize measures offered by the administration. The rights of a free press also were discussed because Cannon, in the letter, condemned "the vicious newspaper abuse of the last two weeks."

Kansan Begins Criticism.

The house, accustomed to huge appropriation bills in the last few months, was placidly discussing the features of the latest national defense measure which carries $32,070,901,900, the greatest total of any single bill in history, when Rep. William P. Lambertson [R., Kas.] took the floor.

The Kansan undertook to criticize President Roosevelt for not increasing the efficiency of the war production program. He said that despite the virtual dictatorship granted the President there was evidence that the scores of billions voted by congress were not being spent in the most efficient manner.

He said that Mr. Roosevelt was interfering with the efforts of the nation's generals and admirals and called upon him to apologize for his elevation of Adm. Husband E. Kimmel over 46 others to the command of the fleet.

Warns on Danger of Defeat.

"If the President doesn't change his ways so that we get some efficiency in our war program, we won't win this war," Lambertson concluded.

This remark stirred Majority Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts to fury. Such criticism, he roared, tended to disturb the unity of the nation. He said men like Lambertson had not followed the President prior to the outbreak of the war, and declared that "decency" demanded silence from such congressmen today.

McCormack's tirade gave Rep. William E. Ditter [R., Pa.] the opportunity he desired to read to the house the Cannon letter, a copy of which had been given him a short time before.

No Monopoly on Patriotism.

"I want to say on behalf of the minority," Ditter began, "that we do not concede that all the patriotism and efforts toward unity are confined to the Democratic side. There is just as much loyalty and love of country on this side of the aisle as on the other side."

Ditter reminded the majority that a great Democrat, Woodrow Wilson, once said: "We do not need less criticism in time of war but more. It is hoped that criticism will be constructive, but better unfair criticism than autocratic repression. Honesty Disclose Secret Letter by Democrat.

Part of Cannon Letter.

The letter began:

"Personal.

"Dear colleague:

"The chairmen of the Democratic and Republican National committees officially opened the congressional campaign the first of the month.

"And the next week, on the first administration bill up, the house Republicans handed us a Pearl Harbor.

"With no national issues and no ammunition they closed two days of debate with one of the cleverest coups and one of the most effective political appeals to the country that has been seen in the house in the last 20 years."

Refers to 'Donald Duck' Curb.

Cannon was referring to the "fan dancer" and "Donald Duck" amendments [the latter forbidding an $80,000 fund for a Walt Disney movie cartoon intended to encourage the nation to pay its taxes] which Republicans, aided by some Democrats, added to the OCD appropriation bill.

"I deplore the use of 'Pearl Harbor' as a synonym for a political disaster," said Ditter. "Pearl Harbor is a name of sorrow in the homes of thousands of Americans.

"I categorically deny that politics had anything to do with Republican consideration of the bill. The letter asserts: 'The only purpose in offering the amendments was to gain partisan advantage in the congressional elections this fall. They were planned to beat Democratic congressmen and elect Republican congressmen and control the house in November. When they amended an administration bill that was news and hit the headlines in every metropolitan newspaper in the United States.'"

Hails Independent Thought.

"Have we come to the point of judging legislation by space in the newspapers?" Ditter asked. "I am glad that it is still news that some independence of thought remains in congress."

Quoting Cannon's letter further, Ditter read: "Democratic members were responsible for the success of the Republican blitzkrieg. Out of the 263 Democrats in the house, the highest number of Democrats on the floor for any teller vote was 80. The Republicans had their members on the floor and won by 8 votes.

"A similar bill comes up tomorrow. The Republicans will again be on hand to make political capital of it. Every item in these bills is needed to back up American armies fighting losing battles on a dozen different fronts. Their passage ought to be controled by military considerations and not the political considerations the Republicans inject into them.

Predicts More "Abuse."

"The flood of vicious newspaper abuse of the last two weeks which has been making political medicine for this fall will be intensified by Democratic support of Republican amendments."

"What the gentleman from Missouri refers to as a blitzkrieg," said Ditter, "was an exercise by the minority of its responsibility to take an appropriation bill and perfect it by amendments.

"And when the time comes when the press of the country can no longer carry not only the news but its impressions of legislation in congress, we will be in a sorry fix.

"This is a narrow, confining, partisan appeal. I plead with the house that, as we make the effort for all-out unity, that methods such as these be avoided."

Woodrum Defends Criticism.

Cannon sought to answer, but Majority Leader McCormack quickly waved him down and pointed to Rep. Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], one of the most respected members of the house.

"This is not the time for ill-considered speech, whether it be made from patriotic purpose or because of partisan zeal," Woodrum began. "The people of this nation have just cause to be alarmed because the menace of war hangs like a heavy pall over our land, and when a congressman takes the well of this house, his words fall upon listening ears.

"God forbid the day ever come when a man cannot criticize if he wants to criticize, but let us apply the acid test to our words and utterances.

"The constitution has made the President the commander in chief. Whether we like it or don't like it, we must follow his leadership."

The new appropriation measure contained $22,888,901,900 for the war department, $1,502,000,000 for the maritime commission, plus a contractual authority of $2,350,000,000 and $5,330,000,000 for lend-lease operations.

Total Tops 142 Billion.

The appropriations committee submitted a table showing that the total funds for "national defense" for the fiscal years 1941, 1942, and 1943, came to the aggregate of $142,005,354,613.

The objective of the new measure is to provide equipment for an army of 3,600,000 men by the end of this year, including an air force of 1 million. The ultimate objective of the administration remains officially a secret, altho reports that an armed force of 10 million men eventually will be formed have not been denied.

Many members arose to inquire why some assistance could not be given to Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his men in the Philippines. Rep. Woodrum told the house it was not humanly possible to send planes to MacArthur because the Japanese control the ocean within a 1,000 mile area around the islands.

"Douglas MacArthur is doing his job as a soldier," said Woodrum. "God grant that we do it as well as he."

Prize Posters

Helene Blum, 5, and Frank Burke, 18, winners in public school poster contest.

Winners in the public school contest for the best designed poster, advertising defense bonds and stamps, were announced yesterday. President James B. McCahey of the school board awarded $70 in defense bonds and stamps to the winners.

The winner of the first prize, who designed the poster that will be used for the next month, is Frank Burke, 18 years old, of 1037 Loyola avenue, a senior in Sullivan High school. He was given a $25 defense bond. His poster shows a sailor in action.

Edward Kubisak, 11, of 7721 Burnham avenue, a sixth grade pupil in the Bradwell school, won a $25 defense bond by designing the best poster in the elementary school competition. Helene Blum, 5, of 3732 West Huron street, in the kindergarten of the Ryerson school, won $5 in defense stamps for the best poster submitted by kindergarten pupils.

F. D. R. ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF NATHAN STRAUS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—President Roosevelt's acceptance of the resignation of Nathan Straus as United States Housing authority administrator, was announced today by the White House.

Straus resigned Jan. 5, and moved out of his office, but the President withheld acceptance of the resignation while looking around for another governmental post for Straus.

The administrator said that he wanted to leave his post because of the manner in which congress, and the house in particular, proposed to handle defense housing. Actually, he said, a house bill would make defense dwellings eventually the "slums that will blight our nation for generations to come."

AMERICA MUST UNITE: BROOKS WARNS OF TASK

Leaves for Washington to Oppose Pension.

Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] pleaded last night for a country united to prosecute the war successfully and keep alive the freedoms founded by Washington and preserved by Lincoln. He spoke at the annual Washington-Lincoln celebration sponsored by the Woodstock Civic club in the community high school.

More than 1,000 listeners applauded the speaker's explanation of his early departure. Sen. Brooks said that he must return to Washington to aid the fight on the senate floor to revoke the measure providing pensions for congressmen.

Absent During Vote.

Absent when the pension bill was voted, Sen. Brooks left by plane in order to be present for the debate today. He said he had been informed the amendment to kill the pensions would be contained in a bill which has been given the legislative right of way.

"We have no right to let our government send a single boy to foreign shores until we have let him know that we are united behind him," Brooks said. "We must produce as fast as we can the best machinery and the finest ammunition to place in his hands before he sets off for a foreign battlefield, perhaps never to return."

Brooks told his listeners that he did not believe the people of the United States realized the gigantic program to which the country is dedicated. He pointed out that we are fighting three nations and are committed to continue fighting until the dictators are conquered.

"This means," he warned, "that we must dominate the Atlantic and the sky above it for 3,000 miles before we can land one single soldier on hostile land. It means that we must dominate the Mediterranean and the skies above it; the Pacific—which we do not tonight or we would send help to Gen. MacArthur—and the skies above it for 11,000 miles before we can start the conquering process."

Need Huge Army.

He asserted that the United States would need an army of 7 to 10 million men under arms, and 20 million men in war production work before the goal can be attained.

"This year we have the largest tax bill in history—and I am not one to measure liberty in dollars and cents. We have appropriated 27 billions in one day for the navy—and that is only the beginning.

"This is not a matter of defense, but an offensive war. Our sons will fight on all the seas and all the battlefields of the world under the program to which we are committed."

In carrying out this gigantic task, Brooks told his audience, the people of the United States must guard their form of government. They must, he said, keep alive minority opinion, the spark of freedom.

Bucket Brigade Battles Blaze on Cudahy Farm

A bucket brigade helped yesterday to save six large buildings from destruction by fire on the estate of Edward A. Cudahy, Chicago packer, on Lincoln highway, four miles west of Aurora. The fire broke out in a storehouse, and the flames threatened nearby buildings. Twenty-six farm neighbors of Cudahy assisted the Aurora fire department by carrying water from a well and a farm tank to a booster pump which in turn pumped the water into the storehouse. Damage was estimated at $3,000.

Bond for Baby

Mrs. Thomas P. Helt, 5549 North Spaulding avenue, with son, Robert, 6 weeks old, as she bought him a $50 defense bond yesterday at the Tribune Public Service office in Tribune Tower.

The Salvation Army said yesterday that arrangements have been made for it to coöperate in the defense savings program. Cadets from the training college, 700 Brompton place, will hand out leaflets urging purchase of the bonds and stamps at elevated stations in the loop during the rush hour this evening.

Gov. Green will buy $1,500 worth of bonds this year, the amount representing one-eighth of his salary, it was announced by the Chicago office of the treasury department. More than a thousand employés of the state department of finance bought $12,000 in bonds in January under the pay roll allotment plan.

Twenty-five hundred employés of United Air Lines have subscribed for $250,000 in bonds, B. B. Gragg, director of sales for the company, said. The company itself has bought $100,000 worth of bonds.

The Tribune Public Service offices yesterday sold $168.75 in bonds and $121 in stamps.

Mrs. Thomas P. Helt, 5549 Spaulding avenue, bought a $50 bond for her 6 weeks old son, Robert, whom she brought to the Tribune Tower office with her.

Bond sales thru the Chicago Federal Reserve bank and its agencies now total $626,850,000. The postoffice has sold $26,605,250 in bonds and $8,311,815 in stamps.

PENSION REPEAL BILL SPEEDED BY SENATORS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—Insistent demands in the senate for repeal of the congressional pension act resulted today in an informal agreement whereby the civil service committee will consider repeal proposals tomorrow.

Majority Leader Alben Barkley [D., Ky.], who forecast that the senate would vote to repeal pension benefits before the week-end, told his colleagues:

"I think the senate wants to vote on this now. The country wants this repealed. The country wants assurance that congress is not deliberately spending its time in frivolous, unwise, untimely, or questionable legislation."

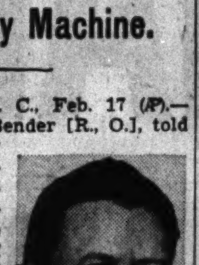
Sen. Vandenberg's Son, 34, Enters Army as Private

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr., son of the senator from Michigan, answered reveille today at Fort Meade, Md. He entered the army as a private yesterday after delaying the trip two days in order to have a tooth pulled. He enlisted several weeks ago. Sen. Vandenberg said his son, who is 34 years old, was anxious for training and had no plans other than to serve as a private soldier.

CONFUSION SAPS WAR PROGRAM, HOUSE WARNED

Bender Asks Overhaul of Military Machine.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—Rep. George H. Bender [R., O.], told the house today that the war effort is being hindered by confusion and "the sacred cows of military usage" and demanded an overhauling of the nation's military machine.



Rep. George Bender.

In a statement in the congressional record Bender said the country needs a unified command to "weld our navies, armies, and air fleets into a unit of dynamic, irresistible fighting power."

He declared inefficient organization was hampering the selective service organization and the fighting forces.

Cites Instances of Delay.

He cited the following:

"A young man connected with my office enlisted in the army during the first week in January. He was sent down to Fort Hayes, O., for assignment. He has been there ever since waiting for part of his uniform.

"A doctor and his wife were stationed at Columbus, O., several months ago by the army medical staff. Right after Pearl Harbor the doctor was called in by his commanding officer. 'Get ready to leave for immediate service; you have six hours' time,' he was told.

Speeding West by Evening.

"The doctor's wife came from New York City. The army got her a railroad ticket. They sent over an orderly to help pack the trunks. They were in so great a hurry that the doctor did not even have time to close up his apartment. All this was done for him. By evening his wife was on the way to New York and he was speeding across the country to San Francisco. He is still there, altho more than eight weeks have gone by without a single assignment for duty.

A Long Train Ride.

"The Lakeside hospital [Ohio] unit was assembled in a great hurry one day a few weeks back. They rushed out of Cleveland, ready for action. They got a long train ride. First they were sent down south to Fort Bragg, N. C., and then almost immediately thereafter across the country to the west coast.

"One hundred and sixty-five dentists are in the army serving as privates, doing absolutely nothing connected with their professions, when they could be far more intelligently used as dentists.

"Draft boards are calling in doctors and registering them for service on the same basis."

Postoffices to Register Aliens on Two Holidays

The main postoffice, the old postoffice annex and eight branch postoffices in Chicago will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sunday and Monday, Feb. 22 and 23, to accept applications from enemy aliens for certificates of identification. Registration climbed to a new daily high of 3,083 on Monday, Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen announced. Last week the average was about 1,000 daily. Nearly 50,000 German, Japanese, and Italian citizens in Chicago must register before the Feb. 28 deadline or face internment for the duration of the war.

NELSON TO CURB DOLLAR-A-YEAR APPOINTMENTS

Qualifications Posted to Stop Lobbying

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production board, today ordered a scrutiny of dollar-a-year appointments on his board. The senate committee investigating the National Defense program two weeks ago charged that some of these men were acting as lobbyists in behalf of their civilian employers while ostensibly donating their services to their country.

Nelson instructed all of his division heads to examine the lists of dollar-a-year men and to terminate appointments of all who do not qualify. The announcements said that these appointees "may serve in an advisory capacity as government consultants working in the public interest and not as representatives of a private employer or industry."

Report Within 30 Days.

Sidney J. Weinberg, assistant to the chairman, was designated to supervise this review of personnel. Each division head was asked to report within 30 days, giving the names of such employés as can continue on a dollar-a-year basis, the names of all dollar-a-year men who have been transferred to a salary basis, and the names of all whose services have been terminated.

Governing procedures announced by Nelson for appointment to dollar-a-year positions include the following:

"Each appointee must be an American citizen of high integrity and good moral character, of outstanding experience and ability, qualified for a responsible administrative, technical, consulting or advisory position, and in receipt of earned income from his current nongovernmental employment at a rate of at least $5,600 a year.

Experience Required.

"The position to which the appointment is made must be one requiring special business or technical knowledge and experience.

"No dollar-a-year appointee shall make determinations directly affecting the affairs of the firm or company in which he is employed.

"No permanent appointment shall be made except after a thoro investigation of the proposed appointee by one of the investigatory agencies of the government.

"Any person serving on such a basis may not be permitted to assume any administrative responsibility or to exercise any authority over, or direction of the work of, executives or employés of the war production board."

U. S. MEASURE TO AID JOBLESS NEAR DEATH OR MAJOR OPERATION

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (Special).—Drastic revision or outright killing of the administration bill to provide increased unemployment compensation for displaced war workers appeared probable today as the house ways and means committee concluded public hearings on the measure.

A majority of the committee has expressed determination to vote against the bill in its present form, while several of the members have said they would refuse to support it in any form, it was learned. The measure would create a fund of 300 million dollars to subsidize a 20 per cent increase in state unemployment compensation up to a maximum of $24 a week for six months.

During the last two weeks the committee has heard the bill denounced as putting a premium on idleness and as an attempt to federalize state unemployment aid plans under the cloak of wartime emergency. Thru administration leaders word has come from the President that he believes the bill necessary and wants it acted upon at once.

Java Takes a Lesson from Fall of Singapore.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Feb. 16 [Delayed].—Thousands of British refugees from fallen Singapore—weary, unshaven, many wearing bandages—jammed Batavia's hotels to overflowing today.

Last night they slept in chairs, on the floors, beneath tables, on hotel porches—any place where they could find a few square feet of space.

Today, with word that Singapore was in the hands of the Japanese, they sat on the hotel verandas, and wondered how it happened.

Most of the women looked drawn and tired. They had spent a sleepless night wondering if their husbands in the Singapore defense corps had gotten away, or whether they were among the 60,000 troops believed to have been on the island when the surrender took place.

Try to Go to Australia.

Hundreds of these wives, some of whom have not heard from their husbands in weeks, are trying to get to Australia, but the shipping offices have long waiting lists and it is not certain when they can get away.

They have lost their clothing, homes, and everything they possess with the exception of what they could cram into a suitcase. Some appeared to be dazed.

The main topic of conversation was the reason for the collapse of the so-called "Gibraltar of the western Pacific." The refugees blamed everything from the weather to the American fleet, but it seems that there is considerable criticism of the military leadership in Malaya.

The Dutch have taken a grave view of the fall of Singapore which Batavia's leading newspaper, the Java-Bade, characterized as "the beginning of the end of the British empire in its present form."

Tribute to MacArthur.

The paper said the surrender of the island fortress is a "lesson to all of us never to depend on outsiders for help; but to trust to our own strength, just as the brave American, MacArthur, and his troops are doing in Bataan."

There is a rapidly mounting atmosphere of tension here as inhabitants put the finishing touches on air raid shelters.

Dutch Menus Cut Down.

Because of the crowded conditions in the hotels and the shortage of help following the air raid of a week ago, Dutch menus have been cut down somewhat, but there is still plenty of food. The Hotel Des Indes is still serving the famous Rihsstafel [rice table], but the line of 25 waiters who formerly carried armloads of dishes to diners has been reduced to 15.

Five Europeans and two natives who escaped from Pontianak, Borneo, in a boat arrived on the north coast of Java with 700,000 guilders [about $371,000] saved from the Pontianak postoffice. They had been at sea six days and had the money, all of which was in silver coins, packed in bags, boxes, barrels, and other containers.

Claim Japs Lost 200 Pilots.

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Feb. 17 (AP).—The Japanese lost at least 200 pilots in the battle for Singapore, according to information given the news agency Aneta by three Australian flyers who escaped to Java in the final hours of the siege.

The pilots said that last Saturday, with the Japanese already in possession of the Kelang airdrome, they repaired their damaged planes in a nearby garage and took off for Java thru a hail of enemy machine gun fire.

Find Dummy Periscopes in Sea Off Pearl Harbor

HONOLULU, Feb. 17.—Pacific fleet officers today revealed that dummy periscopes made of wood, glass, tin cans, and coral had been found in the sea off Pearl Harbor, apparently set adrift by the Japanese to lure army and navy patrols into wasting bombs. Officers said the device could not have duped an aerial observer.

First Silver Star

Gov. Green presenting first silver star to Mrs. Jewell Organ Coleman.

Gov. Green last evening presented the first of the state's silver stars of service to Mrs. Jewell Organ Coleman, president of the 33d Division Women's club and commander of the Women's Defense Corps of America. The star, set against a circular background, was designed at Gov. Green's suggestion for display in windows of homes from which sons have gone to the armed forces. Mrs. Coleman's son, De Witt P. Organ, 20 years old, is with the 33d division at Camp Forrest, Tenn. The first 5,000 of the stars will be distributed among families of the men of the 33d division. After the presentation at the Palmer House the governor autographed Mrs. Coleman's star.

GREEN OUTLINES SCOUTS' PART IN NATION'S FUTURE

It will be the Boy Scouts of today—the leaders of tomorrow—who will reconstruct the world after the present holocaust has passed. This was the statement last night of Gov. Dwight Green, addressing the 30th annual meeting and defense rally of the Chicago council of the Boy Scouts last night in the Palmer House.

Surrounded by fresh faced youths whose neckerchiefs brightened with color the dull khaki of their uniforms, the governor said the foundation of American citizenship rests upon the scouts and that citizenship is the nation's first line of defense.

Maj. Raymond J. Kelly, regional civilian defense director, and other leaders addressed the rally, which saw presentation of the Silver Beaver to nine volunteer leaders of the Chicago council. Recognition also was given to 210 Eagle and Sea Scouts—among the pick of the city's 25,000 Boy Scouts.

GETS JAIL TERM FOR DEROGATORY REMARKS ON U. S.

Carl Swanson of 623 Madison street, accused of making derogatory remarks about the United States in front of the city hall, faced Judge Oscar S. Caplan in the South State street police court yesterday.

"I might better be in Tokio," Swanson told the judge. "In this country I can't get anything to eat or drink, and there is no place to sleep."

The judge fined Swanson, who is 40 years old, $100 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct. Swanson was taken to the Bridewell when he was unable to pay the fine.

British Fix It So None Will Have to Go Naked

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Col. John J. Llewellyn, president of the board of trade, rejected in the house of commons today the proposal that all persons with a gross income of more than 1,000 pounds [about $4,000] yearly or more should receive no clothing coupons. Llewellyn explained that the object of rationing was to provide supplies for all irrespective of income. Sir Alfred Knox remarked, "Would not a logical extension of this principle be to compel all people with over 5,000 pounds [about $20,000] yearly to go naked?"

JAPAN'S PLANES BOMB ISLANDS AT EDGE OF JAVA

'Enemy Is at Our Gates,' Dutch Warned.

BATAVIA, Java, Netherlands East Indies, Feb. 17 (AP).—The Japanese sped aircraft today to attack islands in the thin Sunda strait between Sumatra and Java and the people of this last major Indies bastion were told plainly: "The enemy is at the gates of Java and will soon storm these gates."

The warning came from Charles O. Van der Plas, a member of the Netherlands Indies council, in a broadcast to the island's 40,000,000 people. He said:

The population now is called on to meet its test. Much depends on our courage and tenacity."

Call Material Damage Slight.

Japanese bomb and machine gun attacks on the small Sunda strait islands killed and wounded some of the inhabitants, but a communique said the material damage was slight.

Meanwhile Dutch bombers were striking at air and sea strength of the Japanese about Palembang, the great South Sumatran oil center which the enemy seized yesterday after bitter fighting and widespread demolitions by the defenders.

The Dutch pilots reported one "direct hit" on a Japanese transport and one "near hit" and one "probable hit" on another similar ship. Other bombers raided an airdrome occupied by the Japanese at Palembang and shot down two enemy fighters.

Face 3 Pronged Drive.

In Java the Dutch realized the attacks on the Sunda strait, only 27 miles wide at one point, might well be the preliminary to invasion of this island. They knew also that the attack could come from three directions—Sumatra, Borneo, and Celebes, all holding Japanese invasion bases.

The Batavia newspaper Nieuwsblad estimated the value of the oil fields destroyed by the Dutch at $540,000,000 and said that for the first time the Indies would have to import oil to supplement its supplies.

Grim application of the scorched earth policy to Palembang, to Tarakan and Balik Papan in Borneo and to other oil producing areas where the Japanese have landed leaves the Indies defenders only the relatively low gravity fuel supplied by the wells of Java and Ceram.

Oil Reserves in Java.

Large enough reserves have been stored in Java to obviate immediate needs, however, the newspaper said.

Demolition of the Palembang fields was called the "largest voluntary sacrifice in the history of the world, exceeding destruction of the Dnieper dam by the Russians."

Refugees who got to Batavia from Palembang said they left the oil refineries a blazing inferno and that when they were miles at sea they still could hear demolition charges exploding—interspersed by the roar of the battle between allied aircraft and the Japanese fleet.

Madras Advises Civilians to Go as Soon as Possible

MADRAS, India, Feb. 17 (AP).—With the fall of Singapore and increased dangers of a sea attack on India the local government advised those who planned to leave the city in the event of an attack to depart "as soon as convenient." Day and night tactical exercises were ordered for the Madras garrison.

Alfred M. Landon, 1936 Republican candidate for President, during visit in Chicago yesterday.

Alfred M. Landon yesterday defended the American people against the charge that they are complacent regarding the war. The Republican nominee for the Presidency in 1936 spent most of the day here with friends while on his way from the east to his Kansas home.

"I found the American people thoroly on the alert," Mr. Landon said. "Instead of the complacency reported from some quarters, I found a unanimity of sentiment that this war must be fought thru to victory, and the realization that everything this country has is at stake. They know there are no intermediate stages."

However, the people are much disturbed about many aspects of the way the war is being run, he said. Last week in a Washington speech the Kansan demanded that New Dealers stop conducting the war like an alphabetical agency and warned against short-circuiting the democratic pattern of government

AMERICAN GROUP MISSING; LEFT SINGAPORE BY SEA

[Copyright: 1942: By the New York Times.]

BATAVIA, Netherlands Indies, Feb. 18 [Wednesday].—Kenneth S. Patton, American consul general at Singapore, was among a group of Americans who are missing after having left Singapore, presumably for Batavia, a week ago. Patton and two other consulate staff members, Harold C. Robison and Charles O. Thompson, were seen on the docks at Singapore on Wednesday by Singapore refugees who have arrived here. It is presumed they boarded a ship for Java.

A number of ships carrying refugees from Singapore were sunk by the Japanese.

C. Yates McDaniel, correspondent in Singapore of the Associated Press, Robert Scott, foreign representative of the British ministry of information, and Kao Ling Ki, Chinese consul general at Singapore, are among others missing who boarded ships at Singapore for Java last week.

[The last message received by the Associated Press from McDaniel was sent from Singapore at 3:45 a. m. Chicago war time last Thursday. At that time McDaniel was aboard a ship in Singapore harbor awaiting clearance. He was the last American war correspondent to leave Singapore.]

Frenchman Executed as 'Red' for Aiding Allies

VICHY, France, Feb. 17 (AP).—The German authorities in Paris announced tonight the shooting of another Frenchman—Eugene Marie Lumeau of St. Quen, Seine department—for "activity favoring the enemy as the consequence of communist agitation."

SHALL WE SAVE BURMA OR JAVA? BRITISH PROBLEM

Danger to Australia and China Admitted.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 17.—With the Japanese only 50 miles from the Burma road, the big question in military circles tonight was whether the Pacific or the Atlantic theaters of war are now more important to the British people.

Not only that, but observers pointed out that the western Pacific problem has two phases—is it more important to defend Burma and keep supplies going to China, or to concentrate on saving Java?

Australia, with scattered great cities and numerous different railroad gauges, represents in the opinion of Australians here, an easy target for invasion, as it is certainly difficult to protect sprawling key points simultaneously.

Australia Is Weakened.

Australia's fighting strength has been weakened by the sending of her troops outside her own country, and her losses in Malaya. Therefore, the defense of Java and Australia are correlated, and their defense must be considered of major importance.

At the same time Burma represents the base for operations on which depends the fate of China and India. The loss of China in the war, as leaders of Chiang Kai-shek's government and Ambassador V. K. Wellington Koo have stressed constantly, may result if the Burma road, thru which Anglo-American supplies reach Chungking, is cut off.

Competent observers are on record that with the American loss at Pearl Harbor, and the Philippines, and the British loss of Hongkong and Singapore, the only hope the allies have of defeating Japan is on land, with Chinese military strength.

It is admitted here that the Japanese are only 50 miles from the Burma road. The Japanese claim, however, that they are even closer—32 miles from Pegu. Therefore the danger of a separate Chinese peace with Japan is immediate.

India's Loss a Disaster.

India represents the very core of the British empire. Loss of India would overshadow any disaster the British empire has suffered since the war began, including the collapse of France. Even if the Japanese fail to cut the Burma road and make any advance into India by land, their control of Singapore opens most of the major ports of India.

There is a sympathetic appreciation in London for the failure of America to take a more active part in the battle of the Pacific. The Pearl Harbor loss and that of Guam admittedly are crippling the range of American aircraft carriers. America's own problem in the Philippines is understood.

Even the Russian front is affected adversely, because, with the Japanese raiders, submarines, and aircraft loose in the Indian ocean, British and American supplies to the soviet by way of the Persian gulf, or to the British commander in the middle east, Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, by way of the Red sea, are constantly menaced.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY MAY WIN BRITISH RECOGNITION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Britain may give official recognition to George Washington's birthday, Prime Minister Churchill told I. C. Hannah, Conservative, who made the request in the house of commons today. Churchill said he would bear in mind the suggestion that "our close relations with America" merit such a gesture. Routledge's Universal Encyclopedia describes Washington as the "American soldier, statesman, and first president," who fought for England against the French in Virginia and then became definitely anti-English."

CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL AWARDED TO FILIPINO HERO

Sergeant Rescued U. S. Battery in Bataan.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—The award of the congressional medal of honor—the highest military decoration—to a Filipino mess sergeant in the Philippine scouts was announced today by the war department.

The decoration was awarded to José Calugas for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action on Jan. 16 at Culis, in the northeast section of Bataan peninsula. The award was announced in this communique, No. 111 of the war:

"The war department will announce in general orders that the President has awarded, in the name of congress, the congressional medal of honor to Sergt. José Calugas, battery B, 88th field artillery, Philippine scouts, for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action above and beyond the call of duty.

"The award was made on the recommendation of Gen. MacArthur, who will represent the President in presenting the award to Sergt. Calugas.

Restores Battery to Action.

"The action for which the award was made took place near Culis, Bataan province, Philippine Islands, on Jan. 16, 1942. A battery gun position was bombed and shelled by the enemy until one gun was put out of commission and all of the cannoneers were killed or wounded.

"Sergt. Calugas, a mess sergeant of another battery, voluntarily and without orders ran 1,000 yards across the shell-swept area to the gun position. There he organized a volunteer squad which placed the gun back in commission and fired effectively against the enemy, altho the position remained under constant and heavy Japanese artillery fire."

This was the second award of the congressional medal of honor during the present war. It was awarded posthumously to 2d Lieut. Alexander Ramsey Nininger Jr. of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Gen. MacArthur reported today that Japanese flyers who have been dropping propaganda leaflets professing great friendship for the Filipinos have now substituted bombs for pamphlets, and have killed 18 Filipino women and five children in a refugee camp behind the Bataan battle line.

Jap Artillery More Active.

Meanwhile Japanese pressure upon MacArthur's troops was steadily growing. Air activity was on the increase; artillery fire in greater volume was prominent all along the battle line. Japanese guns ashore pounded the American island fortifications in Manila bay.

Telling of the bombing of the refugee camp, a communique said that for several days the Japs had been dropping "poorly printed leaflets" behind the lines.

"These pamphlets, in English, Spanish, and Tagalog professed great friendship for the Filipinos and exhorted them to coöperate with the invaders and join the greater Asia co-prosperity sphere," the communique said.

"Messages of Death."

"Yesterday bombs were substituted for pamphlets. These potent messages of death fell on the refugee camp at the defenseless village of Cabcaben. Eighteen women and five children were killed in this attack, and 13 women and 9 children were wounded.

"Heavy artillery fire from the Cavite shore bombarded our harbor fortifications with increasing intensity during most of the day. Damage to our installations and casualties was not great.

"In Bataan, the enemy is bringing up artillery reënforcements and there is increased artillery fire all along the front. Enemy air activity is increasing."

Mrs. Thomas Connors, 9322 Constance avenue, who has 10 sons registered under the draft act and eligible for military duty, claims this is a national record. Six of the sons registered when the age limits were 21 to 35. The four others registered Monday when the limits were expanded from 20 to 44.

The sons are Thomas Jr., 44; George, 42; Harry, 41; Roy, 39; Earl, 37; Archibald, 34; Frank, 32; John, 25; William, 24, and Frederick, 20. All live in Chicago except Archibald, whose home is in Cleveland, O. Archibald, John, William, and Frank are in class 1A.

Mrs. Connors said she is proud to have so many sons in the draft. She is 63 years old, and the widow of Thomas Connors, who died four years ago after 46 years as an employé and foreman of the Carneigie-Illinois Steel company.

Eye Tests Used for Entrance Into American Armed Forces

Letters taken from eye test charts used in determining whether a man's sight is good enough to permit him to serve in the American armed forces. The chart is placed 20 feet from the subject. If the subject can read the top line at that distance without glasses his vision is classed as 100 per cent efficient and good enough for the army and navy air forces. If he can read it at 12 feet he is acceptable to the navy. Ability to read the center line at 20 feet indicates 85 per cent visual efficiency, and the bottom line 20 per cent visual efficiency. The army will accept men who can read both the center line with glasses and the bottom line without glasses.

ARMY TO DRAFT MEN WITH ONLY 20 PCT. VISION

Will Compel Correction of Minor Ailments.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

Relaxation of sight requirements for induction into the army, one of the new regulations which is expected to place many heretofore deferred draft registrants in class 1-A, fit for military service, was explained last night by Maj. E. Mann Hartlett, state medical director of selective service.

Normal vision—or 100 per cent visual efficiency—is indicated by the figures 20/20, meaning that a person without glasses can at a distance of 20 feet read with each eye in turn a line of letters 5/16 of an inch high [This is the height of the first line shown above, taken from a standard hospital chart of approximately the same type face.]

Only 20 Per Cent Required.

The army requirement, however, has been only 20/100 vision without glasses—50 per cent visual efficiency. The first figure refers to the distance in feet which the applicant stands from the chart. The second figure means that a person with normal vision could read the letters at 100 feet. These letters are 1¾ inches high.

The new draft regulation lowers the requirement to 20/200 or 20 per cent of visual efficiency without glasses. This means that at the same distance—20 feet—the applicant must be able to read letters which a person with normal vision could read at 200 feet. These letters, 3½ inches high, are in the third line above.

As before, however, the applicant still must have a 20/40 reading with glasses—that is, at 20 feet he must read a line which a person with normal vision could read at 40 feet. These letters, representing 85 per cent of visual efficiency, are 11-16 of an inch high and are in the second line above.

Navy Demands Perfect Sight.

The navy, in giving eye tests, does not vary the height of the letters—they are all 5-16 of an inch. Applicants must be able to read these letters at a minimum distance of 12 feet without glasses to be acceptable. The marines follow the same procedure. For the army or navy air corps, only normal vision without glasses—20/20—is acceptable.

Men with correctible minor physical defects, now classified as 1-B, face compulsory operations and other medical treatment to remove these defects and to place them in 1-A, Maj. Hartlett said. The 1-B classification at present includes those with such defects as poor teeth, hernia, benign tumors, bone malformations, severe adenoids and other nasal obstructions, fractures, foot troubles, skin and venereal diseases, asthma, stuttering and stammering, varicose veins, and primary pernicious anemia. Not all such cases are correctible, however.

Advise Using Own Physician.

Under a new ruling soon to go into effect draft boards will notify 1-B registrants that corrective work is advised and needed. Maj. Hartlett suggested that registrants with minor ailments should have them corrected by their physicians.

If the registrant does not comply voluntarily he may be given a waiver of his physical disability and inducted into the army, which will compel him to submit to treatment. The state and federal governments are working on rehabilitation plans by which men in class 1-B will receive free medical treatment.

Local draft headquarters also is reëxamining files of registrants exempted because of mental disorders. Draft boards are being notified to call in these men for possible reëxamination and reclassification.

DESTROYER BOMBED AT PEARL HARBOR DOCKS AT WEST COAST PORT

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 17 (AP).—Navy officers disclosed today that the destroyer Shaw which the Japanese claimed they destroyed in the attack on Pearl Harbor last Dec. 7, has arrived safely at a west coast port under her own power.

The navy officers said the Shaw was in drydock at the time of the attack and was hit repeatedly by bombs, one of which exploded her magazines and completely wrecked the vessel's forward section.

After two months of repairs, and equipped with a stub emergency bow, the Shaw proceeded under her own power to the west coast, where she now is being reconditioned.

Navy men said the Shaw's experience closely parallels that of the first destroyer Shaw, a 1,000 tonner of the last war. The first Shaw was cut in two by the British troopship Aquitania in the fog shrouded English channel Oct. 9, 1918. The first Shaw's captain, William A. Glassford, now vice admiral and commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet, steamed the after section of the destroyer into Portland, England, 50 miles away, where a new bow was provided. The Shaw continued to serve with the fleet until 1926. For his exploit Glassford was awarded the navy cross.

JAPANESE TROOPS GO ON PARADE IN 'SHONAN' TODAY

That's the Name Foe Has Given Singapore.

TOKIO, Feb. 17 [From Japanese Broadcasts] (AP).—Millions of Japanese will celebrate the conquest of Singapore tomorrow as a body of picked troops makes a "formal entry" into the city, still burning and smoking from days of bombing and shelling.

The entry to the city where thousands of British, Australian and Indian troops are being disarmed and interned will be a military display. Japanese troops have attempted to remove some of the signs of the recent hard fighting, but warehouses and other buildings are still smoldering.

All Japanese schools will be closed tomorrow and the population will join in a program of visiting shrines, decorating warriors' graves and parading. Premier Tojo will make a nation-wide radio address at noon.

Call Singapore "Shonan."

The conquest of Singapore will be celebrated under the city's new name "Shonan"—selected with the approval of the emperor. It means "light of the south."

Dispatches from the fallen city said many refugees were returning, and that the central railway station was packed with Malayan, Indian, and British war prisoners. The docks south of the station and nearby warehouses are still burning.

Free Japs Held as Spies.

Twenty-eight Japanese, including three women, who had been held at Changi prison as spies were released. Eight citizens of axis countries were released from the city jail.

A representative of the Japanese news agency Domei reported he attempted to interview Sir Shenton Thomas, the British governor general who remained in Singapore, but the governor refused to answer questions. Instead he presented the Japanese with a six-inch dud shell which fell on his residence.

Domei said warships of the Japanese navy steamed into Singapore naval base today after the approaches has been swept free of mines.

Race Against Time to Map Counter-Blow.

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 17 (AP).—British forces burrowed into new and more formidable positions today along the Bilin river, some 50 miles from the vital feeder rail line to the Burma road. Imperial commanders expressed the hope that the Japanese tide could be stemmed there until a counterblow could be organized.

The defenders were working against time, for the Japanese were expected to bolster their Burmese campaign with ground and air forces released from the successful battle for Singapore.

[The London Times said that "provisions for defense will have to be raised" to meet a new attack on Burma and India. It added that allied staffs in London and Washington, D. C., are "now concentrated" on this problem.]

Bomb Jap Positions.

Today's communiques said the situation on the new Bilin front was unchanged, but that British troops had come into contact with a small force of the enemy to the south. RAF bombers and fighters attacked Japanese positions, stores and transport in the Moulmein area below the mouth of the Salween.

By withdrawing to the west bank of the Bilin, the British apparently had abandoned Thaton, on the Martaban-Rangoon railroad which skirts the Gulf of Martaban.

The strategic regrouping of imperial positions placed the British along a straightened and shorter front possessing good natural defense barriers. These positions constitute a series of strong points rather than a continuous line.

The Japanese advance upon Rangoon heretofore has been a series of jungle infiltrations as far as the Bilin valley, but now with operations transferred to this sector the invader will be forced into the open where British artillery and aerial bomb barrages can be brought to bear. To this end the British were reported massing all available guns there.

River Easily Forded.

The Bilin itself is easily forded. It is bordered by paddy fields between hills whose low brush afford little protection for enemy troop concentrations.

An allied counter-offensive to relieve the growing pressure upon Rangoon could be delivered by Chinese troops massing along the northwest border of Thailand. Chiengmai, important railhead 66 miles inside the Buthai border, would be the likely objective of such a drive. This point is said to be defended most by Thailanders.

In addition to these potent Chinese forces, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has been assembling a big army in southern Yunnan province, bordering Japanese-dominated French Indo-China.

Japs Close Part of Shanghai After Explosion, Say Nazis

LONDON, Feb. 17 (AP).—The German radio broadcast a DNB [German news agency] dispatch from Shanghai today reporting that a bomb explosion in Shanghai had forced Japanese military authorities there to close a central section of the city two days ago.

AUSTRALIA ACTS TO DRAFT ALL ITS PEOPLE FOR WAR

Material Resources to Be Mobilized, Too.

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 17 (AP).—Australia's seven millions were told bluntly today by Premier John Curtin that they were on a total war footing for the defense of their very lives.

Opening a 35 million pound [$114,000,000] liberty loan campaign, Curtin announced that the federal cabinet had directed the war cabinet to issue regulations for complete mobilization of all resources, both human and material, for defense. Curtin said:

"This means that every human being in Australia, whether or not he or she likes it, is in the service of the government. It also means that all machinery, money, buildings, and plants, when required, may be diverted to war purposes on direction of the government.

Shuns Post Mortems.

"The enemy rests on a total war basis and this country must use everything in resistance to him."

into post mortems nor permit disputes about whether "this or that thing was done rightly or wrongly six years ago."

"Only two things stand between us and the overthrow of everything we have and hope to have," he went on. "These are the heroism and fighting power of men going to battle and the industry, zeal, and devotion of the men left behind . . .

"When you go forth to war you go to defend your life, because Japan does not hoist the flag in any territory it occupies until it first destroys the life of all who would resist it.

"We are seven million people, occupying the largest continental island on the earth; we have tamed this country, gone into the vast open spaces and filled it with courageous men and women. . . .

"Work . . . As Long As You Can."

"The challenge has been flung down! Adversity has never cowed you, overwhelming odds have never intimidated you. And today I call on you to invoke all the best qualities of your ancestry and go to fort, workshop, or factory, to work there as long as you can stand."

Late tonight Prime Minister Curtin was taken to a Sydney hospital suffering from acute indigestion, but it was said he may be well enough to travel to Canberra on Thursday.

Curtin's cabinet was known to be discussing the possibility of further reverses in the Dutch East Indies which would bring the front line close to Australia.

Australian consumption of nonessential gasoline was to be immediately reviewed, now that the bulk of East Indies supplies have been cut. The reserved occupation list was being revised to provide more fighting man power. An allied works council was set up.

Urges a Pacific Tobruk.

The fall of Singapore, described by the press as "a naval Maginot line" which the Japanese outflanked with three-dimensional warfare, stimulated home front enlistments and there was a rush of applicants for war industry work.

The liberty loan issue was more than half subscribed.

At Port Moresby, Papua, island outpost only 300 miles from the northernmost tip of the continent, Maj. Gen. Morris, the general officer commanding New Guinea, declared:

"We must make Port Moresby the Tobruk of the Pacific if necessary, since its capture would give the enemy an excellent striking base for attacks on the Australian mainland. . . . Whoever holds Port Moresby holds the Torres straits."

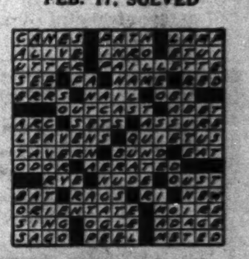
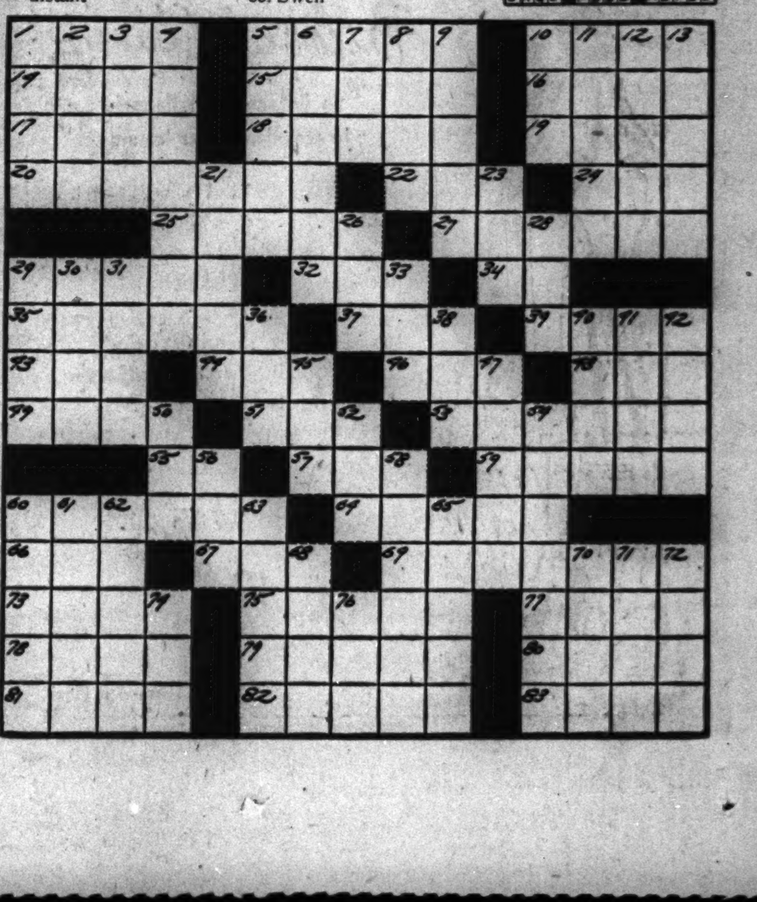
PUZZLE OF TUESDAY, FEB. 17, SOLVED





HONOLULU'S 500 TAVERNS CLOSED SINCE JAP FORAY

285 Saloons Were Owned by Nipponese.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—The 500 drinking resorts in the Honolulu area were closed by military order immediately after the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7 and have been kept closed since, it was learned today.

Altho the report of the board of inquiry, headed by Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, said that excessive drinking did not contribute to the disaster, military authorities have kept the resorts closed.

The closing of the saloons was seen here as indicating that authorities are not wholly convinced that drinking had little to do with the disaster.

285 Owned by Japs.

Of the 500 saloons, 285 were owned and operated by unnaturalized Japanese. The Roberts report found that the Japanese had complete information of the strength and operation of the army and navy at Hawaii.

"There were prior to Dec. 7, 1941, Japanese spies on the island of Oahu," the Roberts report said. "Some were Japanese consular agents and others were persons having no open relations with the Japanese foreign service. These spies collected, and thru various channels, transmitted information to the Japanese empire respecting the military and naval establishments and dispositions of the island."

It was acknowledged in official circles here that the Jap saloonkeepers might well have been part of the elaborate spy system and passed on information relating to the routine of army and navy operations of which the Jap attackers possessed detailed knowledge.

Keepers Possibly Spies.

Some of the tavern keepers might well have been officers in the Jap army and navy in disguise, it was said. Naval officers recalled that in the days when the navy had Jap mess attendants, American naval men visiting Japan were often surprised to find former mess boys wearing an admiral's stripes.

During navy fleet maneuvers, it was recalled, Japanese fishing boats which "happened" to be in the problem areas were found on more than one occasion to be manned by Japanese naval officers, recognized by American naval officers making casual searches of the craft. American officers were aware that the Jap fishing boats were always sent to spy on the fleet maneuvers, but were powerless to do anything because Japan was a friendly power.

Spies Had Complete Data.

The Roberts report discussed the data gathered by the spies as follows:

"It is now apparent that thru their intelligence service the Japanese had complete information. They evidently knew that no task force of the United States navy was anywhere in the sector northeast, north and northwest of the Hawaiian Islands.

"They evidently knew that no distant airplane reconnaissance was maintained in any sector. They evidently knew that up to Dec. 6 no inshore airplane patrol was being maintained around the periphery of Oahu.

"They knew from maps which they had obtained, the exact location of vital airfields, hangars and other structures. They also knew accurately where certain important naval vessels would be berthed. Their flyers had the most detailed maps, courses and bearings so that each could attack a given vessel or field. Each seems to have been given a specified mission."

On the question of drinking, the Roberts report found that liquor was sold on the island and that men on liberty had the opportunity to buy and consume it. The report cited arrests of army and navy personnel for intoxication—finding 38 soldiers and 4 sailors were taken into custody as compared with arrests for drunkenness of 39 civilians. It was recalled here that soldiers and sailors are arrested for drunkenness only when they are unable to move.

SECRET PAPERS FOUND IN RAID ON JAP HOMES

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 17 (AP).—FBI directed raiding parties swept down on two farms in the vicinity of Mather air corps field today, arrested three Japanese nationals, and seized weapons, radio equipment, and other contraband. The raid was the latest in a series of 25 which began yesterday. The others yielded important secret papers and resulted in arrests of Japanese aliens who possessed United States as well as Japanese army uniforms.

Officers could not divulge the nature of the secret papers, but emphasized the records were of more value than any seized in previous raids in California.

At Santa Maria, Cal., Saju Shiba, 53 year old Japanese, was jailed for the FBI, Deputy District Attorney Thomas P. Weldon reported, after his 16 year old son reported possession of a camera and a .32 caliber automatic rifle. Weldon said the son, Hiroshi Shiba, a high school student, came to the police station badly beaten and told police he had been set upon by his father and two brothers, 18 and 20 years old, when he told them of his intention of enlisting in the United States army air corps.

PRAISES BRITISH 'TACT' IN LETTING NAZI FLEET THRU

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 17 (AP).—Col. Lello Portella of the Portuguese general staff said today the "British admiralty demonstrated great tact in letting the German fleet go thru the straits into the North sea" and "very ably evaded" a German trap.

Col. Portella, who writes military comment for the Catholic newspaper A Voz, said the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, and Prinz Eugen probably were useless in Brest harbor and the Germans decided to use them to trap the British home fleet into battle.

If the home fleet had come out for battle, he said, "it would have faced an unexpected, brutal air attack which might definitely have jeopardized its power, while if the German ships were sunk the loss would be only partial, because these battleships probably will not be in condition for action until after complete, lengthy repairs." He added that the German fleet "went back home," where it may be bottled up now as during the first world war.

ROT, SAYS F. D. R. OF REPORT KNOX HID HAWAII LOSS

Asserts Washington Leads in Lie Telling.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—President Roosevelt today at his press conference branded as rot reports in the national capital that the damage suffered by the army and navy in the attack on Pearl Harbor are far greater than acknowledged in the official report of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox.

The President labeled the report as a product of the Washington Cliveden set, asserting that more lies are spoken and printed around the capital than in any other area in the country.

[A so-called "Cliveden set" in England before the war was accused by its critics of advocating appeasement of Germany and a policy of inducing Hitler to forego any expansion to the west in return for a free hand in the east against Russia. Cliveden was the home of Lord and Lady Astor.]

Asked About Knox Report.

The discussion of Pearl Harbor was provoked when the President was asked if he had any comments to make on reports that Secretary of the Navy Knox did not tell the whole truth in his report of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

In a report Dec. 15, made after a visit to Hawaii, Knox said one battleship, a target ship, which was formerly the U. S. S. Utah, three destroyers and a mine layer were sunk and several other ships were damaged. He reported military losses at 2,897 killed and 905 missing and said a number of planes were destroyed.

Mr. Roosevelt at first said he was not aware Knox had made a report. Reminded of the Dec. 15 report, he said obviously Knox could not disclose all military information. Asked again whether the losses were greater than the Knox report indicated, Mr. Roosevelt said the report could be classified as R-O-T.

A reporter, who did not understand the spelling of the word, asked what the initials stood for. After a burst of laughter, in which the President joined, died, Mr. Roosevelt called attention to a cartoon in the Washington Star portraying rumors as millstones about the neck of the public in the war effort.

Mr. Roosevelt said the idea, borrowed from the speech Sunday of Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain, was particularly applicable to Washington, which is a rumor factory. In measured tones he said that more lies are spoken and printed around here than in any other area of the country and Washingtonians could make the most of it.

Told that the particular rumor regarding the losses at Pearl Harbor, came from the west coast, Mr. Roosevelt said that it probably originated here and was relayed to the west coast.

He said it was probably a product of the Washington Cliveden set. He refused to name names, saying, "You all know who they are."

Dismisses MacArthur Suggestions.

Mr. Roosevelt dismissed suggestions that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be ordered out of the Philippines to take over high army command as a lot of talk by persons who know very little of the situation. He also disclaimed knowledge of the far reaching censorship bill introduced in congress at the instigation of Attorney General Francis Biddle.

Mr. Roosevelt said he knew nothing of the law Biddle proposed, which would subject publication of any government document or record, marked confidential, to the maximum penalty two years in prison and a fine of $5,000.

Told that the bill would punish disclosures of nonmilitary as well as military information, Mr. Roosevelt said that he couldn't define what is military and what is not in these days.

Wisconsin Meeting

Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra (left) and Charles L. Byron at meeting of the Wisconsin Society of Chicago at the La Salle hotel.

The people of Wisconsin do not have the "extreme divisions of opinion" about the war that they had about the World war 25 years ago, Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, said yesterday in a speech at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin society of Chicago. The society held a luncheon meeting at the La Salle hotel.

"The University of Wisconsin has been accused of being pacifist during the last 25 years," Dr. Dykstra said. "It was a reflection of the opinion of the state. The ROTC dwindled during that period. Today it has expanded.

"Our young people of today do not go to war with a great hurrah and flag waving but with grimness and determination. The younger generation is as good or better than ever we have produced in this country. It will meet its responsibilities."

Charles L. Byron, patent attorney, was elected president of the society.

TELL MORE WAR FACTS, BRITISH OFFICER URGES

The American people should be given more facts about the war, Maj. Gen. F. G. Beaumont-Nesbitt, assigned to the British war commission in Washington, D. C., said yesterday in a speech before the Institute of Military Studies at the University of Chicago.

"The United States wants facts, not generalities," he asserted. "I have seen this question from both sides—England and America. I'd take a chance and tell a bit more."

We fix a LOT of things that people like to eat for LENT ... which starts TODAY

For instance we are almost famous for a certain huge and crispy apple pancake ..... that needs no special time of year to make it good to eat ..... and then we're always fixing big and fluffy yellow omelette clouds for friends of ours ..... and those are Lenten foods.

There's hardly need to mention fish .... the trout and whitefish broiled to crispy brown ... oysters in their shells and others fried ..... and shrimps and lobsters swimming in a luscious Newburg sauce ..... and salads in a great long list ....

Says Danger Increased by 'Angry Mood' of House.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Prime Minister Churchill, grim and in a fighting mood, today managed to put off until next week the full dress debate on the war which an equally grim and angry house of commons is demanding.

Churchill began by telling the story of last week's escape of German warships thru the English channel—a story which in his words took on a new and favorable light. Then he deprecated proposals for a war debate, or an inquest into reverses at Singapore and in the western Pacific at this time.

"It would ill become the dignity of the government and the house and would render poor service to the alliance in which we are a part if we were driven into agitated or excited recrimination at a time when all our minds are oppressed with a sense of tragedy and sorrow for so lamentable a misfortune."

Avoids "Mood of Anger."

After the members of parliament had referred to the anxiety of the country, he said that he was only deprecating immediate debate because "the dangers may be aggravated by any action the house might take in its present mood of anger," as well as cause a "very bad, unfavorable reaction all over the world."

The government, he said, would not take part in a debate on Singapore now, because he had no information apart from that published in the press.

After pointed questioning regarding the escape of the German warships, Churchill announced a court of inquiry before which "the only questions open are:

"FIRST—Why was the ships' movement not detected shortly after daylight, and

"SECOND—Was contact and liaison between the coastal [aircraft] command and the admiralty and also between other RAF commands and the admiralty as close as it should have been?"

Findings May Remain Secret.

Findings of the court, however, Churchill insisted might have to remain secret.

The court is headed by Justice Sir Alfred T. Bucknill, the leading high court expert on admiralty questions. Air Marshal Sir Edgar Rainey Ludlow-Hewitt was named to represent the RAF and Vice Admiral Hugh Binney to represent the navy.

Churchill sought to give the house comforting news. In the first place, he said, the German warships were so badly damaged by attacks in Dover strait that they would be out of action while Britain and the United States are putting more powerful modern fighting ships into commission. Furthermore, he said, "the abandonment by the Germans of the position at Brest has been decidedly beneficial to our war situation."

Threats to Atlantic convoys are reduced, and therefore the British position in the Atlantic, "far from becoming worse, is definitely eased," he declared.

Many Bomb Raids on Brest.

While the 26,000 ton battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the 10,000 ton cruiser Prinz Eugen were at Brest 4,000 tons of bombs were dropped in 3,299 sorties in their immediate vicinity, with British loss of 247 in personnel and 43 aircraft, Churchill revealed.

Even with regard to the successful passage of the channel, Churchill said, this was always considered a possibility by the admiralty. He gave as an example the fact that the British successfully send slow convoys thru the straits, in spite of German shore batteries, aircraft, submarines, mines, and motor torpedo boats.

Almost as Churchill spoke there was evidence in other quarters that the Scharnhorst and Gneisenau already had been brought under attack in their new shelter in the North sea. This was suggested by an unamplified communique from the RAF reporting British raids overnight on certain ports in northwest Germany.

This was supported by a German communique stating flatly that there had been a bomb attack on Heligoland bight, the probable berth of the two vessels, altho this attack was termed ineffectual by Berlin.

Singapore Loss Expected.

Turning to Singapore, Churchill said its loss was not unexpected and recalled that three weeks ago, in predicting the further bad news from the orient, he had taken this into account.

Asked if, in view of the military situation in Libya and the western Pacific, and to insure the best practical resources at the disposal of the country, he would relinquish the post of minister of defense and appoint some one else to advise on war strategy, he curtly retorted, "No, sir."

Observers were impressed that this is one of the sorest spots agitating against Churchill.

When one questioner asked if Churchill were aware of the growing opinion that the defense office should not be held by a person who holds the post of prime minister, Churchill said:

"I should be quite willing to test the opinion of the house."

"A Single Competent Judge."

There was no indication how far commons will accept the challenge of the prime minister, but one of the main criticisms is that Churchill fancies himself as a great strategist, and few members are satisfied that he alone is competent to judge the major strategy of the war.

When Sir Percy Harris, Liberal, asked Churchill whether he would consider the formation of a war cabinet similar to that of David Lloyd George in the last war, he curtly replied, "No."

Then when Harris spoke of grave misgivings thruout the country in the present government's conduct of the war, Lloyd George, who sits on the front opposition bench, immediately facing the prime minister, got up and walked out.

CAPT. ALVIN HAMILTON, FORMER CHICAGOAN, KILLED IN PHILIPPINES

Capt. A. W. Hamilton.

Capt. Alvin W. Hamilton, 37 years old, a former Chicagoan stationed with his coast artillery unit in the Philippines since last August, was killed in action Jan. 2, it was learned yesterday. His widow, Blanche of Carpinteria, Cal., now visiting friends here, said she had received official war department notice of her husband's death. Capt. Hamilton formerly was an engineer for the Commonwealth Edison company. Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Hamilton, is a daughter, Eleanor, 9 years old. Memorial services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday in the North Shore Baptist church.

Theft of 5 Tires Brings 3½ Year Term and Fine

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Feb. 17 (AP).—A three and one-half to seven year prison sentence and a $1,600 fine with costs was imposed today on the first Blair county man to plead guilty to stealing automobile tires since rationing of rubber began. Judge George G. Patterson imposed the sentence on William H. Lauver, 28 years old, of Altoona, after Lauver admitted thefts of five tires, tubes, and wheels from two cars.

committee should determine "when and how it is best that the whole facts shall be disclosed."

"We need the whole truth from whatever source derived and by whatever means," said Sen. Vandenberg. "It can be as fatal to be weak in essential information as in essential military arms. It is suicide to be weak in both. A zeal to screen our jeopardies from the enemy cannot compensate for hiding them from ourselves.

"I am frank to say that I do not believe the country is satisfied to close the book on Pearl Harbor with the report of the Roberts commission, able tho it was. By the same token, it remains to be seen what happens as a result of the naval court of inquiry respecting the Normandie."

"Symbol of Defeat."

Sen. Vandenberg warned that what happened to the Normandie is a "symbol" and could be "a symbol of our defeat, unless we can prevent kindred disasters."

Sen. Johnson, discussing the peril of the west coast, denied that he is an alarmist.

"I have not opened my mouth upon this subject during this war," he said. "But we are not in any position to look upon the situation with equanimity. In the first place, we have 130,000 Japanese, 30,000 of whom are citizens. We have a very difficult legal problem for the attorney general to solve.

"I can only say that we do not have the necessary protection upon the west coast, and I have asked every man in authority who has appeared before committees of which I am a member regarding the matter. I cannot reveal all that has been said respecting the situation, but I should like the members of this body to keep in mind the necessity, the absolutely transcendent importance of some care and some thought being given to Washington, Oregon, and California. Without that we are likely to see in the near future another Pearl Harbor."

Vulnerability Admitted.

Sen. Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.], manager of the deficiency appropriation bill, replying to Sen. Johnson, said he thought there could be "no doubt that the west coast is vulnerable as to the amount of protection we have out there from our army, navy, and air corps." He made this the basis of an appeal for immediate action on the appropriation bill, in order that the appropriation of $100,000,000 for equipment to protect our cities against air raids could be put to use as quickly as possible.

The senate passed the deficiency bill without discussing the activities and personalities sponsored by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in the OCD, which produced a tumult in the house and have brought a flood of protests from the country. The bill, however, contained prohibitions adopted by the house and strengthened by the senate appropriations committee, which will prevent the use of the OCD appropriation for any purpose other than equipment and administration. These amendments were aimed particularly at the employment of Mayris Chaney, a dancer, Melvyn Douglas, a motion picture actor, and assorted other protéges of Mrs. Roosevelt.

WORLD WAR VETERAN, 43, SAYS HE STILL IS FIGHTER; JOINS ARMY

John Moore.

John Moore is 43 years old, but he feels he has as much fight left in him as he had in the first World war when he did his part at the Marne and in the Meuse - Argonne. He passed the army physical examination yesterday and will report at the recruiting station today for assignment in the signal corps.

Moore is married and lives at 3533 Monroe street. He was with Company C, 1st Pioneer infantry, in the last war and lost a finger on his right hand in the Meuse-Argonne battle. After discharge he joined the navy and served six years. Since then he had been employed by the Central Cold Storage company, 350 North Dearborn street.

"This civilian life is too tame for me," Moore said. "I'm still a fighting man."

CENSOR SETS UP RULES FOR RADIO, CABLE AND PHONE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—The Office of Censorship today issued regulations governing international communication by telephone, cable, and radio.

Fifteen classes of information are banned from international communications. No telephone connection may be made with any enemy controled area, and cable messages to or from such areas are limited to those sent or received by the government of one of the American republics, unless a special license has been granted by the censorship director.

Prior to the completion of an international telephone call, the persons involved must be fully identified. Calls must be person to person, except in certain cases.

Four Languages Approved.

The English, French, Spanish, and Portuguese languages will be permitted in all types of communication.

Cable and radio messages must be fully addressed, except where cable addresses have been approved, and must be fully signed.

Messages without texts—that is, just an address and a signature—are forbidden, and single word messages will be subject to special scrutiny.

Legitimate terms in professions and trades may be acceptable, but the censorship office warned against using words or phrases susceptible to double meanings.

Many Subjects Barred.

Private international communications must contain no references to vessels and aircraft, their cargo, or movements; weapons, supplies, and equipment; proposed or existing plants, docks, dams, and other structures, or processes and methods; civil, military, industrial, financial, or economic plans of this country or other enemies of the axis; the employment of civil defense units, reports on production or supplies; weather conditions, past, present, or forecast; the effect of enemy operations or the operations of our own forces; prisoners of war; criticism of equipment, condition or morale of the armed forces; or any data or matter which might give aid or comfort to the enemy.

U-BOAT ATTACKS VIEWED AS BLOW AT OIL SUPPLIES

Effort to Impair Eastern Morale Indicated.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 17 [Special].—Submarine attacks yesterday on seven tankers off the coast of Venezuela and the shelling of an oil refinery on the Dutch island of Aruba are lending support here to the school of thought which maintains that the enemy is concentrating on the waterborne oil route along the eastern seaboard.

Before yesterday's raids submarines had attacked 16 large coastwise vessels off the eastern coast of the United States since Jan. 14. Fifteen ships, nine of them tankers, were sunk. The toll was 113,163 tons of shipping sunk and 438 sailors dead or missing. Other ships were sunk off the coast of Canada.

Shipping men here have been divided on the question of whether the subs were singling out tankers for the kill.

Blow at Morale Indicated.

Some maritime experts believe that the submarine commanders have definite orders to go after the tankers in order to bring about a tight oil situation in the northeastern states, which in turn would have a psychological effect on the mercurial, polyglot population centers of this area.

Tankers ordinarily are bigger than freighters, and it takes longer to build a tanker than a freighter.

The question of discrimination on the part of the submarine commander hinges on how well he can distinguish between the two types of coastwise carriers. A tanker carries the enginehouse and smokestack aft. The freighter usually has the enginehouse amidships.

Held Readily Discernible.

Tanker operators say any submarine that gets within effective torpedo firing range can distinguish readily between the silhouettes of the two types of ship.

Those who hold the other theory say that the U-boat captain looks at the ship, a smudge on the horizon, thru the spray-blurred prisms of his periscope and usually attacks in the uncertain light of dusk or dawn.

The latter school contends that a submarine officer who sights a freighter plowing along thru the choppy wintry sea, laden with a cargo of bauxite, copper, sugar, tin, or nitrates from South America, will go after it.

Figures of the maritime commission for September, 1941, show there were approximately 248 tankers engaged in Atlantic, gulf, intercoastal, and Puerto Rican trade and 163 freighters on similar runs. Today there probably are more tankers than freighters in coastal service.

Hemisphere Bases Considered.

Yesterday's attacks along the northern coast of South America also opened up another field of speculation—whether the enemy is operating from bases in this hemisphere. The neighborhood of yesterday's attack brings up the possibility that the enemy has a base or bases somewhere among the myriad of tiny coral islands in the Caribbean.

Modern submarines can go great distances and remain at sea for prolonged periods, but the use of refueling bases increases their effectiveness by a wide margin.

It is estimated roughly that the submarines of this war, of 800 to 1,500 ton surface displacement, have a cruising range of 5,000 to 15,000 miles.

Vulnerable During Daylight.

They may be able to remain in American waters for as long as two months, cruising on the surface at night to recharge their batteries for daytime movement under water.

In the World war the U-151 left Kiel on April 18, 1918, and reached American waters about May 14. On June 13, after three weeks and two days in American waters, she started home and docked at Kiel after having been at sea 94 days on a cruise of nearly 11,000 miles. This was the sub that laid mines across the mouth of Chesapeake bay.

One of the present day submarines, with a dozen ballast tanks, may use 10 of them for reserve oil fuel tanks while requiring only two for actual submersion operations.

SEVENTH POLICE BRIDGE GUARDIAN GETS SUSPENSION

Patrolman Martin Wencel of the Albany Park district was suspended for 10 days yesterday by Police Commissioner Allman. Wencel was assigned to guard the Belmont avenue bridge, but a half hour after he reported for duty yesterday he was found in the bridge house, his coat and hat off, the commissioner said. Allman has ordered that men assigned to bridges must stay on guard outside. Wencel was the seventh patrolman to get such a suspension since Dec. 7.

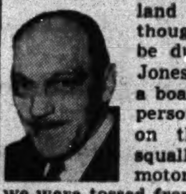
THE QUESTION.

What was the "longest moment" in your life?

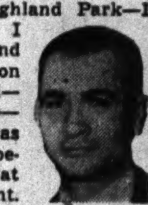
WHERE ASKED.

At 310 South Michigan avenue.

THE ANSWERS.



Harold C. Munstock, art director, 1702 South Green Bay road, Highland Park—Once I thought I was going to be dumped into Davey Jones' locker. I was in a boat with three other persons four miles out on the lake when a squall came up. The motor went dead, and we were tossed from one wave to the other, drenched and frozen. It seemed an eternity before we were driven to the opposite shore.



William Savin, art director, 2333 Lake Side place, Highland Park—I remember the day I wanted to turn around and couldn't. I was on a narrow goat trail—about six inches wide—in the Alps. There was a 1,000 foot canyon below and nothing but flat mountain wall in front. With a pack on my back I couldn't turn around. It seemed years before I backed inch by inch into a wider opening in the trail.

Adele Aitken, secretary, 5903 Winthrop avenue—One time I thought I was hanging between life and death. We were riding on a sight seeing bus in the Catalina mountains. Our bus turned off the road to let another pass. One wheel slipped down over a soft shoulder with a precipice below. The suspense was almost too much before we were safely back on terra firma.

George S. Lyman, art director, 910 South Linden avenue, Highland Park—For months I had worked hard in the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan so that I might be one of those selected to be given a commission. All the men were lined up, and one by one the deserving were called to the front. I thought I'd die of suspense before my name finally was called.

Mrs. Erlyne Conel, secretary, 6948 Kimbark avenue—My husband and I were driving thru the mountains in Kentucky when our car struck a loose spot in the road and turned over. He was thrown out, and I was trapped in the wreckage. I wasn't badly hurt, but it seemed I'd never be seeing him walking back to the car. But eventually I did!

Paul Landon, advertising service man, 8914 Kilpatrick avenue, Skokie—I was literally petrified, and time stood still the day I picked up a live high tension wire. Six hundred volts of current shocked me for two or three minutes while I was perfectly conscious. Two men came to my rescue after what seemed years.

'DUD' TORPEDO AT ARUBA EXPLODES AND KILLS FOUR

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, Dutch West Indies, Feb. 17. (AP).—A German "dud" torpedo fired in the attacks yesterday on oil tankers and refineries exploded belatedly on Aruba today and killed two Dutch officers and two marines.

A marine and two civilian guards were injured slightly when the sharp nosed 18 foot missile flew to pieces as they were taking it apart.

Presumably the torpedo had missed a ship in the attack that spread flames over the Aruba area and resulted in the suspension of oil shipping from the Venezuelan mainland to these Dutch islands.

Quick pursuit by United States planes immediately after the enemy submarines sank three tankers Monday morning is believed to have saved many other ships from being torpedoed, Aneta [Dutch] news agency said today.

Nazis Ban Private Autos; Taxicab Use Restricted

[Copyright: 1942: By the New York Times.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Feb. 17.—All private automobile traffic will henceforth be banned in Germany save when directly for war purposes, taxis will not circulate on Sundays and holidays, and people who ride to and from work in taxis are liable to fines.

TORPEDOES SINK BRAZILIAN SHIP OFF U. S.; SAVE 83

3 Women and Boy Among Survivors.

torpedo struck the Buarque's bow on the starboard side. He gave this account:

"I put on my shirt and pants and ran on deck. I saw Mrs. Ferreira and Freddie in a lifeboat. She told me she had left their cabin without lifebelts. The ship's electricity had gone off when the first torpedo struck. I went to Mrs. Ferreira's cabin and got two lifebelts and blankets. I also got blankets from my cabin.

"I dropped the blankets and lifebelts into No. 4 lifeboat and got in myself. There were 18 of us in the boat. We had pulled about 100 yards away from the ship when a second torpedo struck amidship. We didn't see the submarine. The ship started down by the bow. The boilers exploded and she sank within 30 seconds.

"We were leery of showing lights because we didn't know whether the submarine would machine gun us. Later, however, we showed a flashlight and we saw flashlight beams from two other lifeboats. We remained in communication for a while. Then the boats became separated. After daybreak Sunday we saw the boat containing the two Venezuelan women.

Sighted by Navy Planes.

"We alternately rowed and drifted until 7 a. m. Sunday when we sighted two navy planes. We waved. They waved back and took our pictures. We assumed the navy had picked up the Buarque's SOS. We thought we'd be picked up shortly after the planes sighted us but the rescue ship didn't arrive until late Sunday. We were never without planes above us, though, after the first two found us."

The sea was not very rough, Dunn said, adding: "We got a good break on the sea and the weather."

He learned, Dunn reported, that the ship's captain told the first mate at 7 p. m. Saturday that a submarine had been sighted.

Asserting that men do strange things in critical situations, Shivers said that while groping in his dark cabin for his shirt and trousers he knocked a coat hangar from its rack and—"absentmindedly, I searched and found it and hung it up again."

Mother and Daughter Saved.

Besides Mrs. Ferreira women survivors were Mrs. Graciela Omana and her 'teen age daughter, Marie Louise, who were en route from their home in Caracas, Venezuela, to visit relatives in New York. Mrs. Ferreira was en route to Newark to join her husband, who had preceded her by several weeks from Para, Brazil, where they had lived for four years. Mrs. Ferreira is a native of the United States.

There was a flurry among the women survivors when photographers arrived at the Norfolk naval operating base to take pictures. The women were willing to pose, but insisted on first applying makeup to their faces—they hadn't been able to powder their noses for almost two days.

The two Venezuelan women spoke no English. Marie Louise Omana fired at a woman newspaper reporter a stream of questions which finally were interpreted to mean that Marie Louise desired mirror, comb, powder, lipstick, and eyebrow pencil. The reporter supplied the articles [substituting a copy pencil for the eyebrow pencil], the women applied their makeup, and then posed for the cameramen.

The Buarque was formerly the Scanpenn of the American Scantic Line and was well known in the New York-Scandinavian trade. A Hog Island vessel, built in 1919, she was sold to the Brazilian government owned Lloyd Brasileiro Line in September, 1939, along with 13 other ships.

Brazilians Not Told.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 17 (AP).—The first sinking of a Brazilian ship in this war was not made known publicly tonight because it is the annual carnival time and officials sought to forestall any rioting that might arise among roistering crowds in gala disguise against axis nationals and properties.

93 MORE AUTO BUYING PERMITS ISSUED IN CITY

Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago automobile rationing administrator, announced last night that certificates permitting delivery of 93 cars ordered before Jan. 1 were issued to applicants yesterday. This raised the week's total to 164, the administrator having approved 71 on Monday.

Only those persons who had made bona fide agreements to buy before a government order temporarily banning sales on the first day of the year are eligible for cars. Rationing which will limit auto sales to persons who are important to health and safety goes into effect Feb. 26. It is estimated that the number of pre-Jan. 1 Chicago buyers exceeds 1,500.

U. S. Helps Private Firms to Avoid Writer's Cramps

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—To aid private industry in avoiding writer's cramps in complying with federal requirements for paper work the division of industry operations of the War Production board today authorized the use of facsimile signatures on certain priorities statements. However, use of the facsimile signature is subject to a number of specified conditions and a written record of each use must be kept for at least two years.

CITIES WARNED TO PREPARE FOR TRANSPORT JAM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Joseph B. Eastman, director of defense transportation, warned that all cities should take steps to prevent acute congestion of street car and bus services, anticipated as automobile usage is curtailed. In some cities, he pointed out, the congestion will be aggravated by war production activity.

Eastman said local passenger traffic on public carriers is likely to increase at least 20 per cent this year and that in some war production centers it will be as high as 100 per cent. The higher figure applies to cities of less than 100,000 where normally most of the travel to and from work is by private automobile.

Staggered Hours Urged.

As methods of making the greatest possible use of existing facilities, Eastman suggested:

1. Staggering business, school, and working hours.
2. Improving regulation of street traffic to make possible speedier movement of passenger vehicles.
3. Making more efficient use of private automobiles by doubling up.

Traffic in Two Rush Hours.

Eastman said:

"The importance of a program of this kind becomes apparent when it is recognized that in most cities more than 50 per cent of the total volume of local traffic is carried during morning and evening rush hours, leaving 50 to 75 per cent of transit equipment idle during the remainder of the day."

If school hours are adjusted so that they do not coincide with the hours of industrial plants, buses and streetcars can carry a much larger total load in any one day, Eastman pointed out. In many places buses now used exclusively for carrying children to and from school can be used to transport workers to war production plants.

A number of communities are now working out plans for staggering hours, and a few cities have already put such plans into effect. In Washington President Roosevelt has led the way by staggering the hours of government employes, and the move has proved a life saver for the transportation companies, Eastman said. A plan for moving back the school opening hour is now under consideration.

Robeson Halts Concert; Protests Race Segregation

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 17 (AP).—Paul Robeson, Negro baritone, interrupted a concert tonight to tell the audience he was continuing his program under protest because of racial segregation in the Municipal auditorium. "I have made it a lifelong habit," he said, "to refuse to sing anywhere that audiences are segregated. I accepted this engagement under guarantee that there would be no segregation." Eugene Zachman, auditorium manager, denied there was any segregation.

RUSSIANS' DRIVES PERIL NAZIS IN 2 STRONGHOLDS

Soviet Troops Close in on Kharkov, Novgorod.

MOSCOW, Feb. 17 (AP).—The Russians claimed the initiative along the entire frozen front tonight and said they were killing Germans by the thousands in an advance which repeated German counterattacks could not check.

Tonight's soviet communique spoke in general terms of the continuing advance, but gave no details.

[A Stockholm dispatch to a London newspaper said a soviet army corps, including six Polish divisions, was within 50 miles of the Russian-Polish border.]

A German captive said the Nazis were preparing to quit Kharkov as the Russian hordes applied steady pressure from the front and both flanks on that big industrial city.

Gain in Leningrad Area.

In the northwest, some 120 miles southeast of Leningrad, the soviets who took Sloboda, in the Staraya Russa district, appeared to be endangering the strong point of Novgorod.

Cossacks killed 2,000 more Germans before Leningrad.

Russian cavalry was reported to have recaptured 40 positions in White Russia and to have destroyed six of Hitler's battalions.

Break in Lines Shut, Say Nazis.

BERLIN, Feb. 17 [From German broadcasts] (AP).—The German high command communique today said:

"In fighting in the central sector of the eastern front an enemy fighting group succeeded in breaking thru our lines in the area 50 miles southeast of Vyazma. After hard fighting it was encircled and annihilated in a counterattack."

Besides the capture of 1,848 prisoners, 17 tanks, and other supplies, the Germans reported 5,000 Russians were killed in this zone.

Report Nazis Admit Red Gains.

New York, Feb. 17 (AP).—The German radio today admitted the Russians had advanced 180 miles in some sectors since the start of their winter offensive, the British radio said.

BRITISH FLYERS BOMB TWO SHIPS IN CONVOY OFF NORWEGIAN COAST

LONDON, Feb. 17 (AP).—Two German ships in a convoy off the Norwegian coast were hit today by British bombs and a German fighter plane which tried to protect the vessels was shot down. The British air ministry said shipping along the Dutch coast also was attacked.

British coastal command aircraft sank two small ships yesterday in the Bay of Biscay. The bay is bounded by the coastlines of Spain and German occupied France. A third ship in the convoy was damaged. Northwest German ports and air fields in Holland were listed as targets in bomb raids last night.

Fighter planes roared across the Dover strait today in sleet and snow for an attack apparently on objectives in northern France.

REVEAL GERMAN STEAMER SUNK BY AXIS U-BOAT

LONDON, Feb. 17 (AP).—The admiralty said today that the 5,083 ton German steamer Spreewald was sunk last month by an axis submarine after first issuing a distress signal identifying herself as the British Royal Mail steamer Brittany.

The admiralty said an SOS was received the night of Jan. 31 "stating that a ship purporting to be the British Royal Mail steamer Brittany had been torpedoed 450 miles north of the Azores." Soon afterward the distress signal was repeated in German as well as English, giving the same position but the ship's name as the Spreewald, the admiralty said.

"This ship, which last had been heard of in Yokohoma in August, 1941, was on fire and sinking," the admiralty stated. "A search of the area immediately was ordered. A patch of oil three miles wide was found. The Spreewald had sunk."

RUSSIA TO GET 2D LEND-LEASE LOAN OF BILLION

First Grant Is Allocated, President Says.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—The United States is arranging a second loan of approximately 1 billion dollars to Russia, official sources disclosed today, to assure the soviets that aid will continue despite new difficulties in the war against the axis.

A billion dollar loan, extended last November when the United States was still a nonbelligerent, has nearly all been allocated altho lack of shipping facilities has admittedly hampered the flow of supplies to Russian ports. Officials said, however, that a new credit was needed in planning future production here for Russia.

Confirmed by President.

At his press conference today the President confirmed that a new loan would be made to Russia, saying that the loan will have strategic value in terms of dead Germans and smashed tanks.

He said that the bottom of the barrel is near on allocations against the billion dollar loan of last fall and the new loan is being made to keep the program moving.

At the same time the house appropriations committee released a report showing that virtually all of the 12 billion 985 million dollars lend-lease appropriations made for the benefit of various nations have been allocated. The committee recommended an additional 5 billion 430 million dollar appropriation.

Two Billions Actual Aid.

Of the 12 billion 985 millions, actual "aid rendered" amounted to only 2 billion dollars on Jan. 31, the committee said. This included 1 billion 148 million dollars in defense articles transferred. The remainder was spent for servicing and repair of ships, rental and charter of ships, articles awaiting transfer or use, articles in process of manufacture, and for production facilities in this country.

The committee gave no detailed breakdown of either the lend-lease allocated, or the "aid rendered." Likewise there has been no indication of the amount of aid Russia has actually received under the November agreement.

Officials pointed out that the new proposal for a loan to Russia still is in the negotiation stage and details have not been worked out. It could take the form of a monetary loan of lend-lease money, a loan of lend-lease war materials to be repaid in kind, or a credit to be repaid in any resources the Russians might find available after the war.

NAZIS TO SHIFT 400,000 RUSSIANS TO SOUTHERN UKRAINE, BERNE HEARS

BERNE, Switzerland, Feb. 17 (AP).—Germany has ordered the transfer of 400,000 Russian farm workers from the northern to the southern Ukraine as part of a gigantic food program for 1942, it was reported here.

They are to go from the regions around Kiev and Zhitomir to the former industrial zones around Kirovo, Dnepropetrovsk and Nikolaev. Most workers in the southern Ukraine were removed with the Russian army last summer.

This announcement followed an earlier disclosure that the Nazis plan to resettle large sections of White Russia with farmers from occupied Denmark, Holland, and other countries as part of their agricultural expansion program.

REPORT LATINS WILL GET AUTOS, TIRES FROM U. S.

New York, Feb. 17 (AP).—The Herald Tribune said tonight in a dispatch from Washington that large supplies of automobiles, refrigerators, tires and virtually everything else this nation produces were to be made available soon for export to Latin-American nations in accordance with a pledge given at the recent Pan-American conference that the United States would share "equally and proportionately" its goods with sister republics to the south.

As a first step in the closer economic coöperation, the paper said, a large number of automobiles will be exported to South America from the stock of a half million cars assembled here since the cessation of automobile production in favor of war goods.

Refrigerators, tires, tin for canning purposes, and other commodities will be allocated from existing stocks on the basis of a fixed quota for each South and Central American country, the story said.

FALL ON ICE FATAL.

Mrs. Margaret Brougham, 76 years old, 6243 Wood street, died in Southtown hospital yesterday of injuries suffered Feb. 11 when she slipped on ice and fell while boarding a street car at 63d and Wood streets.

CLAIM 4 ITALIAN WARSHIPS FIRED BY BRITISH RAID

Torpedo Planes Hit Fleet in Ionian Sea.

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 17 (AP).—Pouncing on a strong formation of Italian warships making one of their rare appearances in the central Mediterranean, RAF planes torpedoed and left aflame two cruisers and two destroyers, the British reported today.

The attack was made during Sunday night at the entrance to the Ionian sea between southern Italy and Greece.

On the Libyan front, British headquarters announced that German reconnoitering detachments have withdrawn from positions in advance of the main axis lines near Ain el Gazala, but that "considerable enemy forces" still are in the area of El Mekili. The latter lies 60 miles west of Ain el Gazala and about 100 miles west of Tobruk.

New Zealanders Downed.

ROME, Feb. 17 [From Italian Broadcasts] (AP).—The Italian high command reported today that British bombers had raided Castelvetrano, on the Island of Sicily.

The Italians said one Wellington bomber was shot down by ground defenses and the crew of seven New Zealanders was captured. Another Wellington bomber was forced by German fighter planes to make an emergency landing near Modica and the plane was captured intact with its crew of seven.

In North Africa, the high command said, there was additional patrol activity in the El Mekili area. Important military objectives were attacked by Italian and German air formations in Libya and on the Island of Malta.

Nazis Claim U-Boat Success.

BERLIN, Feb. 17 [From German Broadcasts] (AP).—The German high command reported today that a Nazi U-boat had inflicted heavy torpedo damage on two ships out of a British force of one cruiser and three destroyers which were attacked off Alexandria, Egypt.

FILES COMPLAINT IN WOMAN'S SUIT AGAINST SWIFT

Charles R. Aiken, attorney for Mrs. Katherine Gertrude Buchanan of San Antonio, Tex., filed a brief in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday in support of an appeal from a decision of the federal District court dismissing her breach of contract suit against Louis F. Swift, son of the late meat packer.

The brief recited that in 1935 Swift entered into a contract with Mrs. Buchanan to contribute regularly to her support and to that of her son and daughter. Swift refused to pay the support money after five years, contending that he had reserved the right to pay five years or until her death, whichever might be the shorter.

Aiken argued that Judge William H. Holly, in sustaining Swift's contention, had erred in applying the law and had deprived his client of a substantial right by refusing to permit her to file an amended complaint.

BERLIN CHARGES PLOT TO MURDER HITLER IN 1939

LONDON, Feb. 17 (AP).—The German radio tonight charged that Dutch Foreign Minister Eelco N. Van Kleffens in 1939 "had in his possession plans for murdering the Fuehrer [Hitler] and foreign minister [Von Ribbentrop] and that he attempted to do away with the government of the reich."

Papers describing the alleged plot were found among the personal effects of former French Premier Edouard Daladier and the former French minister to the Netherlands, Baron D'Arnauld de Vitrolles, the German radio said.

"Wirepullers of the British government" were behind the "planned murder," the broadcast added. Details of the purported plot were sent to Daladier Oct. 12, 1939, by De Vitrolles, it was said.

Former U. S. Employe Seized as Embezzler

Jacob S. Miller, 36 years old, a former deputy collector of internal revenue in Los Angeles, Cal., was arrested by intelligence officers of the revenue bureau yesterday in a North State street rooming house. Miller was indicted a few weeks ago in Los Angeles on charges of embezzling $94.80 in government funds. Arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, he said he would not oppose removal to California.

WOMEN NEED MORE MONEY.

American women should have more money than the men since they have more pocketbooks to put it in. Annual production of women's pocketbooks, handbags, and purses is more than 64 million, whereas billfolds and wallets number less than 20 million.

AIR CORPS TESTS NEW 42 CYLINDER AIRPLANE ENGINE

General Tells of Army Research Work.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

The army air corps at Wright field, Dayton, O., is testing a 42 cylinder liquid cooled airplane engine that will deliver far in excess of 2,000 horse power, it was disclosed last night by Maj. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, commander of the Southeast Air Corps training center, in a speech before the Inland Daily Press association.

The general's statement was the first public announcement of the development of this engine. At this time the largest airplane engines in production deliver 2,500 horse power from 18 air cooled cylinders. It has been an open secret in the aviation industry that the 42 cylinder motor was supposed to develop at least 100 horse power for each cylinder. At that rate it would provide 4,200 horse power for take-off.

Work Under Way 3 Years.

The 42 cylinder engine—probably the largest aircraft power plant in the world—still is in the early development stages altho work on it has been under way for at least three years. The Wright Aeronautical corporation of Paterson, N. J., has been engaged in building test cylinders of such a motor for at least two years. Presumably the general was referring to this motor.

Also at Wright field, the general said, are other engines that will turn up 3,000 to 3,500 horse power. Some of these are in the design stage and some farther along, he said.

"Once you get into horse power brackets like that," said the general, "you've got a headache finding a propeller that will absorb the horses.

"The use of as many as eight propeller blades and counterrotating propellers will probably be the answer."

Planes of the Future.

The new engines, the general indicated, will be needed to power both fighter and bomber airplanes soon to be built.

"The fighter airplane during the daylight is more than a match for bombardment planes," he said. "But before long it must push its ceiling above 40,000 feet—some say 50,000 feet—if it is to maintain this supremacy.

"We must build greater speed, higher ceiling, and stronger defense armament into our forthcoming bomber types. We are doing just that."

The general said we need not worry about our present combat ships, for they have performed admirably. Also, he said, there has been no lack of keen witted youths with qualities of potential officers for our pilot training centers.

URGE SECRET SESSION OF INDIA PARLIAMENT TO MAP WAR DEFENSE

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 17 (AP).—Some members of the Indian legislative assembly today urged that a secret session of the assembly be called to consider India's defenses in the light of Singapore's fall and make suggestions for wider support of the war effort. The proposed meeting was reported to have the approval of all parties.

It was announced that the administrative powers of the maharajah of Peru, 38 year old prince of Central India, had been suspended while his alleged complicity in grave "criminal offenses" was being investigated officially. The announcement said a political officer had been named to take temporary charge of his affairs. The nature of the offenses was not disclosed.

EDITORS WARNED: U. S. WAY DIES IF SPEECH IS CURBED

Ex-Justice Thompson Tells of Menace.

The American scheme of government will go the way of other noble experiments if freedom of speech is denied, Floyd E. Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, yesterday told members of the Inland Daily Press association. The association, embracing newspaper editors and publishers, met in the Hotel Sherman. It was the 58th annual convention.

"Our present degree of toleration of freedom of expression may not last," Thompson said at a luncheon meeting. "There is a growing tendency to demand restraint of the expression of ideas with which the majority does not agree. In this there is a grave danger that our most precious right may be impaired and ultimately destroyed.

End of Our Freedom.

"This will be the end of our freedom.

"We shall have surrendered the dearly bought right of free men."

Thompson quoted to the editors from a state Supreme court decision which upheld freedom of the press in a suit brought against the Tribune company 20 years ago by the city of Chicago.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE had said the city was in a bankrupt condition.

"American liberty is all the more fertile because no man could have designed it," Thompson quoted from The Tribune case. "It cannot be defined or protected by statute. Its boundaries are wide and unmarked. Its preservation depends upon the vigilance of an enlightened citizen.

Sessions Continue Today.

"The struggle for freedom of speech has marched hand in hand in the advance of civilization with the struggle for other great human liberties. History teaches that human liberty cannot be secured unless there is freedom to express grievances."

The theme of the association meeting, which will continue thru today, is, "Wartime Problems of Inland Dailies and Their Solutions."

ROB WRIGLEY CO. VICE PRESIDENT OF $10,000 GEMS

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 17 [Special].—James C. Cox of Chicago, a vice president and director of the William Wrigley Jr. company, reported to police today that about $10,000 worth of jewelry was missing from his home on La Gorce Island here.

The jewelry was described as three sets of bracelets and rings—one of emeralds and diamonds, one of rubies and diamonds, and the other of sapphires and diamonds. Mr. and Mrs. Cox came to Miami Beach from their home at 1500 Lake Shore drive, Chicago, several weeks ago.

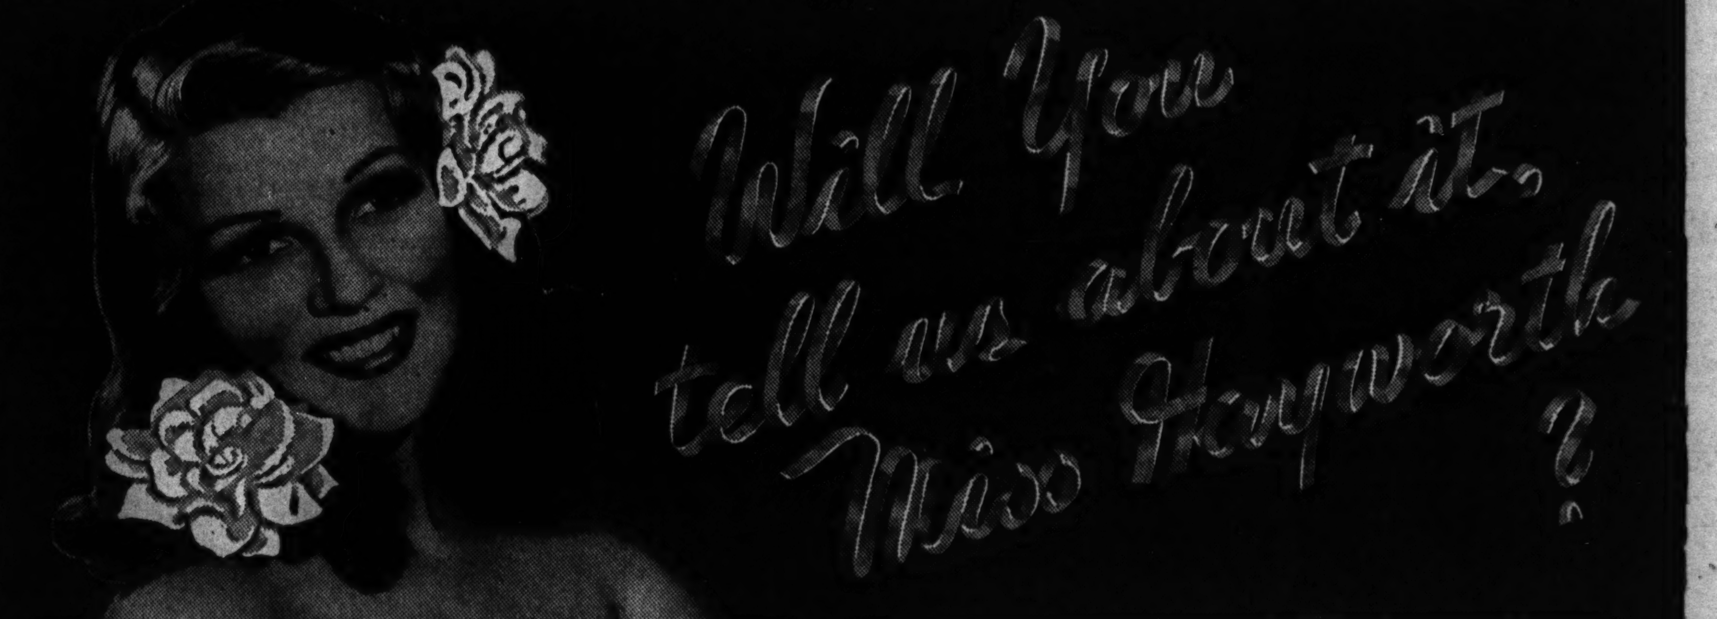
ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE



Will You tell us about it, Miss Hayworth?

1 "First I heard about it," says Miss Rita Hayworth, "was the day Columbia's make-up expert Clay Campbell came in and said we were invited by The Saturday Evening Post to tell their readers secrets of our private beauty and make-up technique. So we put our heads together and worked out six time-saving beauty drills—sensible ideas for women who mistakenly think they're too busy to be beautiful.

In the Saturday Evening Post, Nov. 13
Rita Hayworth shows you how to get busy on defense and be beautiful too!
CUNNINGHAM'S DRUG STORES

4 And sales danced up to beat the band on beauty product after beauty product—in store after store—in 36 of the 48 states. Stores displayed a wide variety of merchandise and many Post advertisers received extra benefits. No wonder retailers like to see the products they sell advertised in the Post.* If you want the same enthusiastic response for your merchandise, hitch it to the power of the Post;

BILL TO BUILD UP RUBBER OUTPUT KILLED BY VETO

President Wants Law's Provisions Broadened.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—President Roosevelt, in what was described in the senate as a sop to Latin American diplomacy, today vetoed a bill to provide for cultivation of rubber bearing guayule plants in the United States. The veto message protested that the law should include cultivation in other western hemisphere countries as well.

Sen. Sheridan Downey [D., Cal.], author of the original bill, promptly introduced a substitute measure meeting the President's objection. He said the state department had requested the broader provision to nurture Latin American relations, but that a department of agriculture program calls for leasing 75,000 acres in Salines valley, California, for a rubber farm.

23,000 Tons of Seed.

In debate, it was said that $200,000 will be spent to buy 23,000 tons of seed that has been developed by a California research corporation—enough seed to plant initially 60,000 acres.

The new bill authorizes the department of agriculture to finance and supervise the project. The vetoed bill would have limited the location of the project to the United States. In the substitute bill there is no such limitation.

Sen. Charles L. McNary [R., Ore.], minority leader, objected to giving unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the substitute bill. He said he favors the project, but thought the measure should follow regular legislative procedure.

Investigation Under Way.

Under way in both senate and house committees are investigations of various aspects of America's rubber shortage, including any accountability of government officials. Jesse Jones, head of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and others two years ago rejected proposals to plant guayule and to build synthetic plants as protection against the possibility of the Japanese cutting the source of 98 per cent of America's rubber, which they now are doing.

This week the rubber situation is being probed at three days of secret hearings before a subcommittee of the senate committee investigating the defense program. Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes was told today by a subcommittee of the house interstate commerce committee to have his rubber experts before that group next week.

Herring Foresees Relief.

Sen. Clyde L. Herring [D., Ia.], chairman of the subcommittee in the upper chamber, after a conference with rubber experts of the war production board, today said he believes the United States will have "substantial quantities" of synthetic rubber by midsummer. The RFC is financing a 400 million dollar expansion of synthetic rubber plants that are expected to produce at a rate of 400,000 tons a year by the end of next year.

"The synthetic rubber, processed from petroleum," said Sen. Downey, "lacks the qualities of Malayan rubber needed for automobile tires. The guayule rubber has these qualities.

"To produce 100,000 tons of guayule rubber costs 25 million dollars, while to produce this amount of synthetic costs 100 million dollars. Some experts say the guayule will produce in substantial quantities in two years and all agree that production adequate for the country's needs can be obtained in three years."

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer draft and military service questions, both in the daily columns and personally if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

Young men have inquired about the requirements for positions as sergeant pilots in the army air corps. This branch of service, open only to enlisted men in the army, is a relatively new innovation in the air corps.

Enlisted men between the ages of 18 and 22 inclusive may submit written applications thru regular military channels for training to become noncommissioned flying officers. Men are accepted from any branch of the service, providing they are physically and educationally qualified. Draftees are eligible.

Requirements Set Forth.

Physical requirements are the same as for army aviation cadets, whose training leads to commissions as second lieutenants. Educational requirements, however, are different. Applicants must be high school graduates, but are not required to take the mental screening tests as are aviation cadet candidates.

The 7½ months' training course is the same as that given aviation cadets. While in training to become sergeant pilots, men maintain the rank they held at the time they were transferred to the air corps, and their pay is the same plus a 50 per cent increase over base pay while on flying status.

Staff Sergeant Pilot Rank.

Upon successful completion of the course, they receive the rank of staff sergeant pilot at $108 a month. They are eligible for promotion up to the rank of master sergeant pilot.

In the air corps, flight sergeants perform exactly the same duties as do commissioned officer pilots. They may be assigned as pilots of fighters, interceptors, bombers, etc., and have the same responsibilities as commissioned pilots.

[Tomorrow: Naval Construction Workers.]

QUESTIONS.

M. M. G. writes: "I would like to know what the duties of the military police are, and if they serve outside the United States?"

ANSWER: This branch of the army acts as a police force within the army itself. The military police direct traffic, patrol areas in towns where soldiers may be spending their time while on liberty, and guard government property. They travel wherever the unit they are assigned to may be sent, either abroad or within the United States.

Mrs. Z. D. L. writes: "My husband was just 20 years old on Jan. 18. Should he have registered?"

ANSWER: No. Only those young men who reached their 20th birthday on or before Dec. 31 were required to register.

E. T. writes: "I am a girl 21 years old, and an excellent automobile driver. Can I join the volunteer ambulance unit which, I understand, is being formed in Cairo, Egypt, to serve with the British in the Middle East?"

ANSWER: This ambulance unit is being organized by the American Field Service. It is restricted to men.

M. E. H. writes: "I am hard of hearing and wonder what the hearing requirements are for the draft."

ANSWER: In order to be physically fit for induction into the army for general military service, a man must have a minimum of 10/20 hearing in either ear. This means that he must be able to hear low conversational tones with either ear when the speaker is 10 feet away.

A. Z. asks: "What are the vision requirements for enlistment in the army parachute troops?"

ANSWER: Applicants must have minimum eyesight of 20/40 in each eye without glasses.

PRINTING SUGAR RATION BOOKS IS A WHOPPING JOB

Need 300 Carloads Paper and 30,000 Lbs. Ink.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—The Office for Emergency Management today released statistics on the vast quantities of materials and labor required in preparing for the forthcoming sugar rationing. It's the greatest single job ever undertaken by the government printing office. In anticipation of other ration orders, it is described as possibly the "pilot job for still bigger jobs to come."

To print 700 million forms, cards and booklets for the sugar rationing program will require between 11 and 12 million pounds of paper—300 carloads. The labor involved is estimated at 68,000 hours of machine and man time. The ink requirements are 30,000 pounds.

Prepare Excess Number.

The ration books themselves will total 190 million. This number exceeds by a wide margin the country's 132 million population, but the excess was ordered to allow for books lost or destroyed, to take care of births in the next six months, and to guarantee that every neighborhood has a safe margin to cover recent population growths.

Stacked, the books would tower 15 miles high. The three consumer forms, applications and instructions, laid end to end, would make a strip of paper 31,660 miles long—more than enough to encircle the globe at the equator.

Off Presses by March 7.

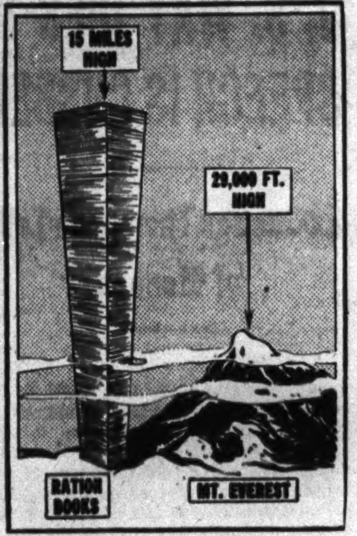
To the government printing office, it's a 30 day task. The order was received on Feb. 7. The three consumer forms are to be printed and distributed by March 7. The office has experience in handling large orders, but in addition 23 private printing firms from coast to coast have been awarded contracts to assist in turning out the job.

Delivery will be made to the Office of Price Administration by the firms under contract.

The individual ration book will come off the press 8 by 10½ inches, designed to fold. It will contain 28 stamps, each good for a single sugar purchase in a quantity still to be determined.

Ration Books

(Story in adjoining column.)



Ration books being printed by the government would make a stack more than two and a half times as tall as the highest mountain in the world.

BYRD REVEALS $65 UNION FEE FOR DEFENSE JOB

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—A Red Oak, Va., carpenter wrote Sen. Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] in a letter made public today he would "rather give the government $65 to help whip the axis" than pay that amount as a union fee to work on a defense project in Virginia.

Byrd inserted the letter in the Congressional Record in reiterating complaints that unions were charging large fees before workmen could be employed on construction of Camp Pickett at Blackstone, Va.

The Red Oak carpenter, R. D. Fulp, wrote Byrd he had worked at that trade for 25 years and that before he would pay a $65 union fee he wouldn't have a job.

"I wrote to Secretary Perkins [Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins] about the union and the work on these camps and have not heard a word from her," the carpenter said. "I wish you would try and get these fellows to stop fooling around and get some war material out."

Police Captains Prepare for Station Blackouts

Police captains met in six police division headquarters yesterday and made plans for blacking out police stations in the event of air raids. One of the suggested plans would supply desk sergeants with candles so they can carry on their duties.

'I AM' LEADER, SON FINED FOR USING MAILS FOR FRAUD

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 17 (AP).—The "I Am" movement's leader, white haired Mrs. Edna Ballard, and her son, Donald, convicted of using the mails to defraud, were fined $8,000 and $400 respectively today. Ralph Lazarus, assistant United States attorney, told the federal jury which found them guilty after an eight week trial that "I Am" leaders had taken in almost $2,000,000 "in a few short years."

In passing sentence, Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor said: "You have been found guilty of mail fraud and I want it clearly understood that you were not on trial for holding or expounding any religious belief." Mrs. Ballard responded: "All religious teachers have been persecuted but have stood by their principles. The world will some day realize how true my teachings have been. I am not guilty before God or man of these charges."

The court also gave Mrs. Ballard and her son suspended jail sentences of 1 year and of 30 days respectively and placed them on probation for 1 year, after denying motions for a new trial. Their lawyers gave oral notice of appeal.

WIFE ENDS LIFE WITH GAS.

Mrs. Rose Ott, 42 years old, 2719 South Homan avenue, was found overcome by gas in the kitchen of her home last night by her husband, Joseph. He summoned a fire department rescue squad which attempted unsuccessfully to revive her.

THE BLEERS, ALL 3 OF THEM, TO HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Bleers triplets—Frank Joseph, Gregory George, and Paul Richard—will celebrate their first birthday tomorrow in their home at 4946 Washington boulevard. They are sons of Joseph Bleers, 25, and his wife, Martha, 23. They are the only triplets ever born in Presbyterian hospital, and tomorrow will eat—or at least look at—a cake given them by one of their admirers, the hospital chef. Frank, first born, now has five teeth. He is the only one of the three who can walk. He also is the most aggressive and the heaviest [21 pounds 4 ounces]. Gregory George [19 pounds 14 ounces], laughs the most, and Paul Richard [20 pounds 1 ounce] is the most apt to start an argument.

A Trained Army- on Active Duty

Your friends in the telephone company are doing the biggest job they ever had to do—a job directly linked with winning this war.

To the successful conclusion of this job the 30,000 men and women in the Illinois Bell Telephone Company have been pledged ever since we were attacked. Right now they are handling millions more calls each week than at the same time last year. They are meeting other unusual demands for service and equipment.

Many calls are essential to the successful conduct of the war—the movement of men, munitions and material—the direction of war production. These things come first and we consider it our solemn duty to serve them first.

We are doing our utmost to maintain the same high standard of service to which you are accustomed. We believe you'll agree we can still say, "So far, so good."

EX-DEMOCRATIC LEADER'S DEATH ASKED IN RAPE

Utahan Is Accused by a Federal Employe.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—The government demanded the death penalty today for Orman W. Ewing, former Democratic national committeeman from Utah, who went on trial in federal District court on a charge of raping a 19 year old government employé.

Orman W. Ewing.

The victim of the alleged criminal attack in a rooming house last October went on the witness stand to relate her story after Charles B. Murray, assistant United States attorney, in his opening statement for the government, urged the jury of 1 woman and 11 men to recommend the death penalty because of the relationship of trust and confidence that existed between the girl, a stenographer for the old OPM, and Ewing, who managed the rooming house.

Ewing Is Impassive.

The prosecuting attorney urged the jury to make an example of the 53 year old former politician to help curb vice and crime which have become worse with expansion of the capital city into the nation's No. 1 boom town.

Murray, outlining the case, told how the young girl from Provo, Utah, Ewing's home state, came to Washington Oct. 12 to accept a civil service job, taking up residence in the rooming house operated by Ewing and a friend, Hester C. Chamberlain, in the 1100 block of 16th street, N. W., only a few blocks from the White House.

Followed Drinking Party.

The evidence will show, he asserted, she took up residence at the establishment because Miss Chamberlain, an old friend of Ewing's, also was a long time acquaintance of the girl's mother, and sent her there because she was otherwise unfamiliar with Washington.

Murray then told how early in the morning of Oct. 26, after a Saturday night drinking party, the former politician allegedly broke open the door of the girl's room, assaulted her and threatened to "throw her down the hole" if she made a noise.

By the "hole," Murray explained, the defendant evidently referred to the excavation in the rear of the rooming house.

Immediately after summing up the case the girl, whose identity has not been divulged, was brought to the stand.

Dressed in a blue business suit she calmly told her story and at the request of the prosecuting attorney pointed out Ewing from among his attorneys, of whom there are four, including his son, Lowell H. Ewing.

SKIDMORE ASKS FOR PROBATION OF PRISON TERM

Counsel for William R. Skidmore made a final attempt yesterday to prevent the reputed gambling fixer from having to serve a 30 month prison sentence for evasion of $353,194 in income taxes for 1936, 1937, and 1938. The attorney, William Scott Stewart, entered a motion for probation before Judge Philip L. Sullivan in federal District court.

On Monday the United State Supreme court refused Skidmore's motion for a rehearing on the court's previous refusal to grant a review of his case. If his motion for probation, which is to be heard today, is denied, Skidmore must serve his sentence and pay a $5,000 fine. United States District Attorney J. Albert Woll is expected to oppose probation.

Attorney Stewart in the motion for probation stated that Skidmore is willing to pay the fine and asked that, if probation is not granted, Skidmore be allowed 60 days to put his business affairs in order before going to prison. He was sentenced originally in March, 1941.

ANDES ELECTION CONFERENCE SET FOR TOMORROW

Representatives of Andes Candies stores and of the Department Store Employés' union, local 73, AFL, will meet tomorrow to discuss plans for an election to be held among the firm's employés to determine whether they wish the union to represent them as collective bargaining agent. The union began picketing the firm's factory and stores last Wednesday, but stopped Saturday when Andrew Kanelos, head of the candy concern, agreed to hold the conference. Kanelos and Attorney J. B. Perlman will represent the company.

Your Daughter Has a Right to Know

It is every mother's duty to tell her daughter physical facts. How much better that she learn them from you, rather than from girls her own age. In feminine hygiene, facts may be distorted, or wholly untrue. As a result, many brides use overstrong solutions of acids for feminine hygiene which can actually burn, scar and harm delicate tissue.

Today such risks are needless. Science has given womankind Zonite. So powerful, it kills instantly all germs and bacteria with which it comes in contact. Deodorizes—by actually destroying odors. Protects personal daintiness. Yet! Zonite is non-caustic, non-poisonous, safe for delicate tissues. Over 20,000,000 bottles bought. Get Zonite at your druggist today.

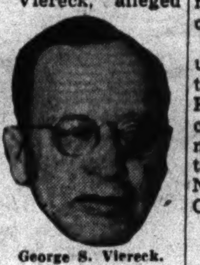
CHARGE VIERECK WROTE LUNDEEN SENATE SPEECH

U. S. Claims He Used Congress Frank.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—George Sylvester Viereck, alleged mastermind of German propaganda, was said by the government today to have "put words in the mouths" of congressmen and then to have used their free mailing privileges "to propagandize us and divide us."



George S. Viereck.

William Power Maloney, special assistant attorney general prosecuting Viereck on charges of concealing his full activities from the state department, told the jury of 2 women and 10 men that the late Sen. Ernest Lundeen of Minnesota collaborated with Viereck in writing a book called "Lord Lothian Versus Lord Lothian" for which part of the material "came direct from the German embassy." It dealt with activities of the late British ambassador.

Speech Authorship Charged.

Maloney also asserted Viereck wrote a speech entitled "Six Men and War," which Lundeen delivered in the senate and inserted in the Congressional Record, and that 125,000 copies were reprinted by the government printing office at the expense of the American taxpayers.

"This was done," Maloney continued, "by an arrangement between the defendant and Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.]. There were 125,000 copies mailed to Mr. Fish's private mailing list, which he had obtained thru an organization he started—the National Committee to Keep America Out of War.

Hill Called "Poor Dupe."

"By arrangement with Fish, it was mailed under his frank. The arrangements for mailing were made between Fish and Viereck under the capitol dome. And the poor dupe of a clerk named George Hill was the instrument used to mail them out."

Hill, a secretary in Fish's office, recently was convicted of perjury for denying before a grand jury that he knew Viereck.

Emil Morosini, defense attorney, told the jury that Viereck, a naturalized citizen, was a loyal American whose only object was to keep America out of war.

Claims Free Speech Right.

"He did nothing more than exercise his fundamental right of free speech," said Morosini, adding that Viereck was a victim of "personal venom, prejudice, and a desire to get him."

The first witness was Siegfried Hauck, president of Flanders Hall, Inc., a publishing firm of Scotch Plains, N. J., who told of publishing "Lord Lothian" and other manuscripts brought to him by Viereck, who he said had an interest in the firm. Viereck told him, the witness said, that some of the manuscripts he published were literal translations from German.

RESUME SERVICE ON NORTH SHORE RAILWAY TODAY

Full service on the North Shore railroad, which has been crippled since Feb. 1 by refusal of the powerful Amalgamated union to permit operation of trains over the Chicago elevated system, will be restored today. The first train was scheduled to leave the Roosevelt road station at 5:31 a. m. and the first southbound train to leave Milwaukee at 6 a. m.

Under an agreed settlement the North Shore trains operating in the city will be manned by crews belonging to the Amalgamated local 308 [elevated lines] and north of Howard street by crews belonging to Amalgamated local 900 [North Shore] or to the rival railroad brotherhoods. Elections are to be held soon to determine which organization shall represent various groups of North Shore workers.

The North Shore management announced that 75 picked elevated employés had been assigned to the city operation of trains. Crew changes will be made at Howard street.

AWARD TRIBUNE ROTC MEDALS TO 3 AT NOTRE DAME

Notre Dame, Ind., Feb. 17 [Special]. —Three members of the naval ROTC unit of the University of Notre Dame were presented today with The Chicago Tribune medals for military excellence in a colorful ceremony in the Rockne memorial fieldhouse. The Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, president of the university, made the presentations before the ROTC unit of 144 men.

The gold medal went to Charles Urruela of Miami Beach, Fla., who received a perfect grade of 100 in military science. The bronze medal was awarded to Robert L. Bobbitt, St. Louis, Mo., and the silver medal went to D. Coyne Callaghan of Chicago. Urruela's feat of taking first place is remarkable inasmuch as he had had no military training before entering Notre Dame. The medals are awarded on the basis of all around military excellence, scholastic ability, character and knowlede of military science.

GAS TEMPERS STEEL!

Men, Metals and Material Will Win this War!

► To assure victory, America is now calling for capacity production of every kind of metal for material of war. Chicago's mills and metallurgical workers are whole-heartedly cooperating.

Pictured here is a scene in one of Chicago's steel forging plants where gigantic shafts for battleships, enormous die blocks and huge steel mill rollers are squeezed into shape in herculean presses.

In this steel forging operation, immense ingots of steel must be reduced to plastic state for pressing. Gas furnishes the ideal heat for this job and is used because of its purity, its freedom from elements harmful to steel and steel processing. Gas is the preferred fuel also because of its flexibility—because it can be instantly adjusted to supply exact temperature, even heat distribution and chemically-correct atmosphere, requirements which are vital to the manufacture of steel products of worth.

Furnishing gas for heat is one of Peoples Gas services to steel mills. In addition, Peoples Gas makes available to industry its staff of engineers, a personnel thoroughly acquainted with problems of manufacturing and metallurgical lines, and the application of gas heat to help solve those problems.

Peoples Gas, through its gas dispatching department, maintains 24-hour a day contact with the great steel mills of Chicago, and furnishes a dependable and abundant flow of gas fuel as a part of the activity we are privileged to take in the national determination to win this war.

GAS SERVES ON THE HOME FRONT, TOO!

Modern Gas Cookery

Well-cooked, nourishing foods play an important role in maintaining vigorous health in the nation. And more valuable now than ever before is the fact that Modern Gas Ranges have all the modern cookery features that save time, save food, save money in every cooking operation.

Automatic Gas Water Heating

Today, as in times of peace, homes must have plenty of hot water to maintain clean, sturdy bodies . . . for cleaning jobs necessary to the health of the nation. An Automatic Gas Water Heater assures a constant supply of hot water, economically . . . ready for instant use.

Silent Gas Refrigerator

Because food will help to win the war, it should be carefully conserved. The gas refrigerator, with its reliable constant-cold, aids in food conservation. Its dependable food protecting ability enables thrifty housewives to economize safely . . . with quantity food purchases, with tasty "left-overs".

PEARL HARBOR'S TOLL.

Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott of Michigan asserted Saturday that America lost control of the Pacific at Pearl Harbor "because eight out of nine American capital ships in the harbor Dec. 7 were destroyed as well as 473 bomber planes, which were reduced to scrap."

How does this estimate compare with those from other sources?

On Dec. 9 the Japanese said that two battleships, identified as the West Virginia and Oklahoma, and a minesweeper had been sunk; that four other capital ships and four cruisers were seriously damaged, and that 100 planes were destroyed. Domei, the Japanese news agency, said that the number of planes destroyed was 300, of which 200 were fighters, and that an aircraft carrier had been sunk off Honolulu.

On Dec. 15 Secretary of the Navy Knox, upon his return from an inspection trip to Hawaii, announced that the battleship Arizona had been sunk, the battleship Oklahoma capsized, the target ship Utah sunk, and the destroyers Cassin, Downes, and Shaw and the minelayer Oglala sunk. He admitted damage, slight or severe, to other vessels and "serious losses" in planes.

On Dec. 18 the Japanese revised their claims "on the basis of photographs taken from the air." They said that five battleships had been sunk—one each of the California, Maryland, Arizona, and Utah classes, and another of an unidentified class; that three battleships, two cruisers, and two destroyers had been damaged beyond repair, and that 450 planes had been destroyed on the ground and 14 in the air. The Japanese added that 60 per cent of the United States fleet had been at Pearl Harbor at the time of the attack. The claim made Dec. 9 by Domei that a carrier had been sunk was not repeated in this revised accounting.

Rep. Wolcott's figures were confusing because he listed light and heavy cruisers, as well as battleships, as capital ships, altho cruisers do not classify as capital ships. His statement, however, is a serious reflection on Secretary Knox, implying, as it does, that the secretary has not seen fit to tell the American public the complete truth about the disaster.

The Japanese claims may well be exaggerated, and for its part the navy department may be prepared to explain that its account of losses does not include some ships which the Japanese assert were sunk because these vessels are resting on the bottom in relatively shallow water and can be salvaged. Secretary Knox in discussing vessels he listed as disabled said that in some instances the damage was slight and in others it would require several months for repairs.

It could be maintained that the liner Normandie, now lying on its side in the mud in New York harbor after being swept by fire, has not been sunk and can be repaired in several months, and while this statement is in one way correct it is inaccurate in others. By the time the Normandie is righted and pumped out its engines and wiring may have suffered such severe damage that they will have to be replaced, altho sealed compartments may help save them.

The prospect for any ships which may be resting on the bottom at Pearl Harbor is less encouraging. It is doubtful, after salt water has got at the machinery and guns, whether much more than the hulls can be saved. Replacement of the wiring, machinery, and guns will take many months. So whether Secretary Knox is technically accurate or not in refusing to concede that ships in such a condition are sunk, he is treading close to the zone where veracity shades off into something else.

EASY MONEY.

Joy riders, as they are called, are making some very easy money on the federal government's new financing. The joy riders are persons who subscribe for the new issues of government bonds with no intention of investing in them and sell out at a profit even before the bonds are delivered. As the issues are always heavily oversubscribed and the price always goes up after the closing date for subscriptions and before the certificates are delivered to subscribers, a profit on a "ride" is about the nearest to a sure thing that is to be found in this world of uncertainties.

There was an example last week. A new 1¼ billion dollar 2¼ per cent issue was announced by the secretary of the treasury last Thursday. The subscription books were closed Friday evening. On Saturday morning, at the opening of the market, the bonds could be sold at a premium of 6/32 and by the close the premium was 19/32. This was a harvest for the joy riders, who in large numbers sold their allotments to the government bond dealers.

Those who get in on it make a nice piece of money for themselves quickly. On a million dollar allotment the joy ride on the latest offering yielded a net profit of from $3,750 to $22,750. But don't think that the practice is confined to million dollar operators. Some very small fry are getting in on this easy money.

Joy riding in new corporate stocks and bonds was one of the practices which the SEC was created to prevent. Before SEC, new securities generally rose in price right after the issue was announced and before the certificates were ready for delivery. Some of the Insull issues sold for 40 per cent above the offering price on a "when, as and if issued" basis. Joy riding is a thing of the past in private securities, but it is quite all right in United States treasury offerings.

THE NEGLECTED LEGION.

One of the mysteries of the organization of civilian defense has been the minor rôle which for the most part has been assigned to the veterans of the last war. Here is a group of men, largely organized already in the American Legion, who could be quickly mobilized for community protection. They have experienced danger. They have known military discipline. They know how to obey orders from superiors and give orders to subordinates. Every village, town, and city in the nation has its Legionnaires who are eager to do all they can in the emergency.

The easiest and also the best way to organize civilian defense would be to build it around the Legion. Instead the job has been turned over to Mrs. Roosevelt and her social workers and to Dean Landis, the protector of Harry Bridges, and therefore the idol of all the communists. There have been many complaints that Democratic politicians have been encouraged to horn in.

The failure to make full use of the Legion is easily explained, of course. The kind of people who have been bossing civilian defense from Washington don't like the Legion. They thought the veterans were nasty men when the Legion in the years of peace was pleading for armament and military training of the youth of the country. The Legion was disturbed over the spread of communism and pacifism and that pushed the veterans farther into the doghouse. It happens that now the policies which the Legion long advocated have been adopted by the more exalted intellects, but the distrust of the Legion persists.

GOVERNMENT IN SECRET.

Attorney General Biddle has asked congress to pass a law making it a criminal offense to publish or otherwise divulge without permission the contents of any government document or record termed secret or confidential by the department or agency by which it is drawn.

This is an attempt to protect the grafters, fellow travelers, and wasters in the New Deal from exposure by placing a gag on their critics. That can be its only purpose, for the censorship and the espionage act already provide sufficient protection against the disclosure of any confidential material that might harm our national defense. Mr. Biddle's proposed bill, in fact, contains no reference to military or naval information or records that would give aid and comfort to the enemy.

Under the proposal, any government official could enter a scheme to defraud the treasury or to use his official power for undermining our system of government and protect himself against exposure merely by declaring the records of his acts to be secret or confidential. Mr. Biddle proposes that records could be declared confidential not only by statute but by a rule or regulation promulgated by any department or agency.

The only notice to the public that documents or transactions were so classified would be publication of the regulation in the federal register. This provision would make the proposed act an easy instrument of entrapment. The federal register publishes hundreds of administrative rulings and orders daily. It would be impossible for any newspaper or any one else to keep track of all the material which the burocrats might choose to place on the verboten list.

That, however, is a minor phase of a thoroly vicious proposal. The affairs and transactions of government should at all times be subjected to the closest public scrutiny. In attempting to give burocrats the right to say what shall and shall not be published concerning their activities Mr. Biddle is seeking to transform the servants of the people into their masters.

LABOR LEADERS AND THE DRAFT.

Labor leaders and government employés concerned with labor relations are to be deferred in the draft. The ruling was made at the request of the AFL, the CIO, and the government bureaus in question.

A lot of less favored citizens are going to ask how come and the only answer which the labor leaders can give is that in their own estimation they are very important people and cannot be spared to fight for their country. Without troubling to examine the facts, some folks in Utica, New Orleans, Humptulips, Wash., and intervening points are going to yell "Slackers" and there isn't going to be any answer to the insult.

As a matter of fact, the labor leaders aren't cowards. They merely have persuaded themselves, with the help of their political friends and protectors, that they are too indispensable in their civilian rôles to be subject to the inconvenience and danger that other Americans must face. Similarly, the congressmen really thought they were entitled to pensions and were greatly astonished to find that their countrymen didn't agree.

If the labor leaders had thought a little longer about the matter they would have seen how they were maneuvering themselves into an absurd position. If a labor leader is to be deferred in the draft, it must be because he is needed at home to promote increased industrial production. A great many labor leaders have sincerely attempted to prevent strikes and a great many have not. A great many have sought to coöperate with management and a great many have not. Still, under this regulation, all labor leaders are to be deferred as if all had conducted themselves in a fashion to justify the assumption that they were more useful to the country as civilians than they would be as soldiers.

Further than that, the labor leader who, after being deferred, finds himself the leader of a strike, will be in a most awkward position. The existence of the strike will be taken as proof that the deferment was not merited and the chances are very good that he will find himself in uniform before he is very much older. If he counsels against a strike or a slowdown he will be accused by his own people of seeking to save his own skin at their expense.

Editorial of the Day

ON THE TEMPTATION TO TALK.

[Daily Register, Harrisburg, Ill.]

Within 48 hours recently, Chairman Connally of the senate foreign relations committee and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox sounded off in speeches and statements which caused misunderstandings and ill feeling abroad. In neither case, as far as we can see, was comment absolutely required.

If Secretary Knox will give us a victorious navy, the country will be eternally grateful to him. It is quite enough of a job for a man's full time. General policies of grand strategy can be announced from time to time as required, by those who make them; speeches are a dime a dozen. Sen. Connally will learn, perhaps is learning now that foreign relations are not well conducted by offhand nifties whipped up to please casual interviewers.

Is it not enough of a job to win a war? Can men charged with responsibility in the war effort spare time to go gadding about the country making speeches to every hall full of luncheon guests who sent them a telegram? Does every passing event call for comment from any official who is asked for it? Is not the collective national supply of verbiage getting out of proportion to the amount of action?

The job is here to do. We know what it is and what it means. It won't be speeded up and it may be retarded by continually talking about it.

Less talk; more action. Fewer words; more bullets.

THE SINGAPORE BLUES.

To add a mite to the post-mortem of Singapore: It was the place from which Frank Buck used to bring 'em back alive. It did a large business in exporting specimens of Asiatic fauna for menagerie purposes, and Buck's first association with the wild animal trade was as an employé of a firm that had a "compound" in Singapore.

The trend among caricaturists to represent the Japanese as a race with a huge mouthful of buckteeth deserves study. Who started it? This contribution to satirical anthropology is fairly new in the graphic arts. . . . Large and shining teeth, of course, are standard equipment for villains. In "Dombey and Son," Dickens supplied his villain, James Carker, with a set of teeth and a feline grin surpassing any embellishments that American cartoonists have put on the typical Japanese map.

This has been a carnival week for the old clubmen who, after uttering alarming prophecies, end their speeches with: "But thank the Lord, I will not be here to see it." One could assume from their gloating manner that these well-preserved patriarchs contemplated their imminent demise with profound satisfaction. As a matter of fact, they firmly believe that they are immortal.

"This is the heat of an orchid-house—a clinging, remorseless, steam-sweat that knows no variation between night and day. . . . People in Singapore are dead-white—as white as Naaman—and the veins on the backs of their hands are painted in indigo. . . . Yet no one talks about the unhealthiness of Singapore. A man lives well and happy until he begins to feel unwell. Then he feels worse because the climate allows him no chance of pulling himself together—and then he dies."

THE BOYS FROM THE OFFICE.

And so they slip away, one after one,
  The carefree lads who worked with us a while;
A parting gift, a word, and they are done
Fort Bliss and Randolph Field; the notes they pen
  Are passed from hand to hand, and as we scan
The words of youths grown overnight to men
  We learn how each shall serve in our great plan;
And tho we feared to trust them overmuch
  With solemn matters, not so long ago,
We burn with pride as we foresee the touch
  Of glory that shall sooner than we know

How to Become Cold Sober in a Jiffy.

In the course of some 44 years of banging around this old apple I've heard of a hundred methods used to sober a spiffed person quickly. For several years in Arizona I had a method that couldn't be beat. About 6 in the cold gray dawn, when the party lads and lassies had to recover quickly and be on the job by 7 a. m., I'd pile a bunch of them into an old jallopy and head for a canyon.

There was a two-block-long strip not more than eight feet wide jutting out into this canyon, and the sides of this strip fell away 2,000 feet on both sides. The effect was similar to flying if you drove this two blocks quickly. We would hit this strip at 40 m. p. h. and jam on the brakes just in time to keep from plunging over the mesa's end, turn around, and gun the crock across this narrow strip again, then take my boys and girls back to town cold sober.

Don't ask what would have happened had the brakes failed—I never thought of that.

The Search for the Doubtful Isles.

Concerning Los Jardines [Feb. 12]: The civics and documents department of the Chicago Public library has on file a pilot guide issued by the United States government entitled, "Sailing Directions for the Pacific Islands." You will find the following information on page 571 of vol. 1: "Los Jardines [Marshall Islands] 21°38'N., 151°34'E., H.O. chart 5590. Two small islands were reported by the Scarborough in 1788, and were thought to be the same as Los Jardines, reported by Alvaro de Saaevedra in 1529. Nothing, however, is known of them beyond the most vague rumors, and their existence is doubtful. Several vessels have searched close to their reported position without finding them." E. K. C.

[On the National Geographic society's map, Los Jardines, "existence doubtful," are placed closer to the Marianas than the Marshalls, and outside the Japanese mandate.]

BREAKING THE GRIP OF ALCOHOLISM.

THE confirmed alcoholic is sick. As a rule, he represents one who—because of personal characteristics—cannot withstand the drug. He has suffered marked lowering of physical resistance, as well as mental stability. There comes a time finally when the daily consumption is incompatible with carrying on routine affairs and family obligations.

Most of these individuals begin their overdosing in an effort to allay anxiety. For a time, at least, gray clouds assume rosy hues. The one who is timid becomes brave and all signs of neurasthenia disappear. This group comprises the largest number of victims. Next come those who seem to lack good judgment and sound reasoning powers. Weaklings belong in this category.

What is the most dangerous period? Careful studies incriminate the third decade of life, although some will delay the culmination until after the 40th milestone. Subsequent to the age of 50, or before the age of 30, the ravages of the disease are observed far less frequently. When it comes to occupation, no class is immune. It is interesting to note, however, that the so-called professions—law, medicine, dentistry, and the ministry—include but 9 per cent.

Just what does alcohol do? In excessive doses, it acts as a nerve poison, destroying the influences of training and education. Then, too, it serves as a narcotic. As with ether, employed as an anesthetic, there results blunting of the reactions, stupor, and finally unconsciousness.

Many of these cases present a distressing picture. Not only is the craving incessant, for which any sacrifice will be made, but the body is badly "out of gear." Liquor becomes both food and drink. In consequence, the digestive tract is usually in reverse, as is metabolism. A vitamin deficiency, particularly of B, becomes pronounced.

Treatment calls for the most skilful type of management. Rarely will a confirmed user abandon the drug of his own volition. Such instances, of course, will occur occasionally—like the cowboy friend referred to by Charles Russell, who quit when he began to meet up with animals not pictured in the natural history books.

The main objective is to rebuild nervous and physical resistance. This is accomplished with rest, diet, baths, massage, and the establishment of a regular routine of life. Breakfast is the most important meal and should supply 800 to 1,000 calories. In other words, the curative regimen does exactly what the alcoholic fails to do. Nearly 85 per cent of these victims will omit the first meal of the day.

While sedatives should be prescribed with caution, nevertheless, they may be indispensable to proper control. The liquor allowance is not withdrawn abruptly. Immediate prohibition may mean a nervous collapse of serious moment.

The problem cannot be solved by moralizing. It is a job for the highly competent, interested physician who possesses a generous fund of patience and understanding. If failure comes it will be because too little building material remains with which to reconstruct a new personality.

MR. STREIT DEFENDS "UNION NOW."

New York, Feb. 10.—Your amusing cartoon of Feb. 5 refers on the one hand to our proposal, and on the other hand to another proposal that congress appropriate a billion dollars to start a world union, and some may confuse these two. I wish, therefore, to stress that Federal Union, Inc., had nothing whatever to do with the billion dollar proposal and is not urging on congress any expenditure whatever. We regard our own proposal as a means of saving the American people billions of dollars, not of adding to the present burden.

In "Union Now," written years before World war 2 began, I said: "Merely by the elimination of excessive government, needless burocracy, and unnecessary duplication which union would automatically effect, the democracies could easily balance budgets while reducing taxation and debt. To an appalling degree taxes and government in the democracies today are devoted only to the maintenance of their separate sovereignties as regards citizenship, defense, trade, money, and communications. To a still more appalling degree they are quite unnecessary and thwart instead of serve the purpose for which we established those governments and voted those taxes, namely, the maintenance of our own freedom and sovereignty as individual men and women.

Now, in 1942, we are spending 100 times more on arms than we did in 1933. But are we controling the world conditions that brought all this about?

All that our federal union organization is asking now in its petition to the President is that he formulate, "on the broad lines of our Constitution, a program for forming a powerful union of free peoples to win the war, the peace, the future," and submit this program to congress for discussion. All that we ask of congress or public is simply this:

Do you favor, or oppose, making at least an attempt to see whether, and how far, how soon, and how widely we can apply our federal union principles beyond the confines of our 48 states.

Your cartoon was entitled: "Why jeopardize national unity by dragging in international entanglements now?" My answer to that is twofold:

First, this country has already been dragged into international entanglements, and not thru Federal Union—thru the Pearl Harbor, Berlin, and Rome actions of that international entanglement called the axis. We propose to end these entanglements insofar as possible by uniting the democracies on the same basis that already unites our 48 states. Unless one considers that membership in the American Union entangles Illinois with Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, etc., he cannot say that our proposal to unite the United States in a similar way with Canada, the British and Irish Isles, Australia, etc., involves us in any "international entanglement."

Second, in remembering Pearl Harbor let us also remember that what cost us that disaster was not our previous national disunity but a mistaken idea. The mistaken idea was that our oceans protected us against such attack. Had no one sought to correct that mistaken idea, we might have enjoyed more national unity but we would have suffered a still worse disaster.

If the idea that we do not need union now to win the war and secure enduring peace is another of these tragically mistaken ideas—and we say it is—then nothing could jeopardize the United States more than unity behind the blunder of deferring union. Certainly that would be infinitely more dangerous than any controversy caused by efforts, such as ours, to correct this blunder in time.

CLARENCE K. STREIT, President,
Federal Union, Inc.

THEY GYPPED THE CABBIE.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—On Feb. 9 about 11:30 p. m. I picked up a party of four at the Drake hotel. They directed me to stop at the Lake Shore Athletic club where a lady and a man got out. The remaining couple then directed me to the Allerton hotel, where I was told to wait in order to take my last passenger back to the club. He never came back. Now I am stuck with the fare of $3.25.

CHECKER.

HEALTHIER CLOTHING DUMMIES.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—When are the merchants going to change the vogue in models displaying the latest in chic American clothes for women? Those sickly, anemic looking dolls certainly do nothing for the clothes. Why don't the merchants use the typical American girl, radiating health and vitality and beauty, to show their fashions? While we feed our children vitamins from A to Z for husky minds and bodies, the merchants revel in their display of sickly blondes.

MRS. SUBSCRIBER.

"SLACTORS."

Chicago, Feb. 16.—I submit the term "slactor" be applied to those big, brave, bold, movie actors who now have a grand chance to live up to their screen reputations by enlisting in the armed services but who will now take advantage of the mistaken conclusion of one public official that they should be exempted from military duty.

OUT OF $10,000 A YEAR.

Highland Park, Ill., Feb. 13.—If a congressman is such a poor manager that he cannot lay aside something for his old age out of his own salary, is he capable of managing the affairs of 130 million people?

EARL D. FRITSCH.

WPA INTO WAR.

Hinsdale, Ill., Feb. 14.—Good work, Mr. Tydings! Is this war just another WPA, construed as a WAR project to be administered by a group of swivel chair lawyers and social workers? S. S. R.

WAR OF MOTION?

Chicago, Feb. 10.—If this is considered a war of motion, how come that 3,000,000 English soldiers are stymied in England?

RAY S. SMOLIK.

HOME WORK.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Why should little children in the grade school be burdened with home work? Surely 9 to 3 o'clock is enough time for small children to devote to studies.

My little boy had plenty of home work in the third grade. I had hoped when he changed teachers this would stop, but now that he has passed into fourth grade he has more than ever.

I work all day in an office and when I get home at night I have dinner to prepare and other household duties to do besides helping a tired child do school work and get him to bed early enough.

TIRED MOTHER.

ONE DEMOCRAT ON THE WAR.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 15.—At last we Democrats can salute a fearless and able man, Sen. Millard Tydings. All hail to him! Of course, this war demands ability and experience. As he said, this is no time for amateurs, and, we may add, playboys. Let us rescue Gen. MacArthur and place him in charge, responsible to the President alone. He has demonstrated that he can fight and, what is as important, he knows the enemy—the Japs. The ineptness of our war policies and burocratic bumbling, if continued, dooms us to failure.

A. R. OTHO.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

ENCROACHMENT.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have property and the northeast corner of the building is on neighbor's lot three and one-half feet. A man wants to buy the property and he went to the owner and he demanded $300 for the three and one-half foot corner. The building was built in 1883 and I am informed owner has no claim after building has stood for 20 years or more. Is this true? T. R.

It is true that the Illinois limitation period is 20 years but ordinarily real estate purchasers do not like to rely on a mere limitation title since various facts might extend the limitation period. By putting up a special bond you might obtain a guaranty policy. We suggest that you have a personal interview with an attorney.

7 NAVY FLYERS DIE AS BOMBER HITS MOUNTAIN

Plane Burns; 2 Members of Crew Escape.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 17 (AP).—Seven men were killed yesterday afternoon when a United States navy patrol bomber crashed in the mountains nine miles east of Buena Vista, Va. The crash was announced today by the navy.

The plane burned after the crash. Two crew members, whose names the navy declined to make public, escaped without serious injury.

On Way Back to Base.

The plane was returning to its base from a routine flight at the time of the accident, the 5th naval district announced.

Michigan Youth Co-Pilot.

Edward T. Shaw, 24, aviation machinist mate 2d class—mother, Mrs. Mary Shaw, Denver, Colo.

Edward Fielding Clarke, 22, radioman 3d class—wife, Mrs. Edward F. Clarke, Wichita Falls, Tex.

Marvin Floyd Lamm, 24, photographer 3d class—sister, Mrs. Edith E. Posey, Newark, O.

Youngest Girls' Class for British War Work Called

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The first call up notices for girls of the youngest age groups have been sent out by the ministry of labor, it was disclosed tonight. Girls born in 1927 will register for war work next Saturday.

How to make a WAR GARDEN

BY GAIL COMPTON.

Altho many plant diseases and insects will attack only one crop or group of related vegetables, there are some offenders that will destroy almost any type of plant. These are the ones for which the gardener must be alert, and a program of spraying with insecticides and fungicides is important.

Among the general crop pests and diseases that are apt to do considerable damage are cutworms, plant lice, leafhoppers, blister beetles, flea beetles, wireworms, red spiders, slugs and snails, and damping-off.

The smooth gray and brown cutworms appear in the spring as caterpillars. One cutworm can kill many plants in one night, cutting off the stems at the ground.

Poisoned Bait Best Remedy.

The best remedy is a poisoned bait. Mix two tablespoonsful of white arsenic or Paris green with five pounds of dry bran. Add four or six quarts of water and a half pint of cheap molasses. Allow the mash to stand for several hours and then scatter it around the base of the plants. This mixture is poisonous. Young children, live stock, and poultry thus should be kept out of the garden when it has been applied.

Plant lice usually are green, but vary to pink, brown, or black. They suck the plant sap and do the most damage on cool, damp days. When the lice first appear the gardener should spray the plants thoroly with nicotine sulfate, or dust with nicotine dust. Strong soapsuds also may be sprayed with good results.

These Insects Hop.

Leafhoppers are slender and about an eighth of an inch long. They get their name from their ability to hop considerable distances. They most often attack potatoes, strawberries, tomatoes, and beans. They suck the juice of the plants. Use nicotine sulfate to get rid of them.

Blister beetles are common garden pests that usually attack peas, beans, potatoes, and beets. They are slender, soft bodied, and some have stripes and spots. A lead arsenate spray is the best cure, but picking them off the plants by hand also is effective. The bugs in this case should be dropped into a can of kerosene. Gloves should be worn, as the beetles may blister tender skin.

Flea beetles are small, dark colored beetles that hop about like fleas and gnaw small holes in the plant leaves. Nicotine sulfate strewn as dust will kill them. Thoro applications of Bordeaux mixture in spray form also are effective.

Wireworms are the slender, brown, wormlike larvae of snapping beetles that do great damage by burrowing thru the roots and tubers of potatoes, carrots, beets, and onions. Deep midsummer cultivation and heavy fertilization are the best weapons against these insects.

Sucking Plant Sap.

Red spiders are common to most vegetable gardens and cause many plants to die by sucking the plant sap. Plants attacked by the spiders either should be dusted with sulphur, sprayed with a soap and water solution, or a mixture of one ounce of potassium sulfide in two gallons of water.

Slugs and snails will be discouraged from attacking the garden if air-slaked lime is scattered thru the rows.

Seeds started in flats or cold frames are apt to suffer from damping-off. Small plants so afflicted may suddenly die. This generally happens to seedlings that have been overwatered, kept too warm, or have not been thinned properly.

A typical back yard war garden with growing vegetables will be reproduced by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE at the National Flower and Garden show, starting March 15 in the International amphitheater.

Pupil Takes White Mouse to Class; Learns It Bites

'Victory Garden Week' Proclaimed by Mayor

Mayor Kelly yesterday proclaimed next week "Victory Garden week" and urged all Chicagoans to enroll with the Victory Garden committee of the local defense organization. George T. Donoghue, park district superintendent and chairman of the garden committee, estimated that 25,000 gardens ranging in size from one square yard to an acre will be planted in the city this spring. Suburban parks from Waukegan to Gary will coöperate in the drive, he said.

COUNTY BUDGET CUT DEMANDED BY CIVIC GROUP

Criticize Failure to Make Suggested Economies.

Representatives of civic organizations thruout Cook county, appearing at a public hearing on the 1942 county budget, yesterday demanded that the county board reduce its tentative appropriations totaling $21,528,323. This is an increase of $700,040 over the 1941 budget and $4,357,000 in excess of this year's prospective revenues, as estimated by the county controler.

Newton C. Farr.

Newton C. Farr, president of the Civic federation, warned the county commissioners that unless the budget is drastically reduced, payless pay days will result and the county's creditors will go unpaid.

Farr criticized the county board and the Circuit court judges, who set the number of employés in the 13 county fee offices, for failing to adopt economies recommended by an efficiency survey staff retained by the county at a cost of $20,000.

The survey staff proposed dropping 684 jobs out of a total of 5,129, with an estimated saving to the county of $871,000 for the year, Farr said. Of the total cut suggested, 493 jobs at $838,000 a year were in the fee offices controled by the judges.

The tentative budget eliminates only 102 positions, but increases the pay roll by $361,000 because of the restoration of pay cuts in the form of two weeks' payless vacations in effect in 1941, Farr explained.

Revision Move Tabled.

The board yesterday refused to act on a motion by Commissioner William Busse that the judges be requested to revise their report. Commissioner Daniel Ryan, acting chairman, said the motion could not be made at a public hearing, but would be entertained at a regular board meeting later this week.

Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce, also urged that the survey economies be adopted, and warned that the industrial growth of Chicago is threatened by constantly rising taxes which discourage new enterprises.

Frank J. Bilek, president of the Cook County Civic council, representing 132 property owners' groups, asserted the county board has "drafted a dream budget which has not a Chinaman's chance of being paid with available revenues."

Bilek was flanked by a group of women who greeted the commissioners with placards saying: "War to finish on budget bunglers," "Taxpayers' pockets for politicians' pork barrels," "Payless pay days are in sight," and "Pearl Harbor of Cook county."

Wants Better Housekeeping.

The commissioners were charged with using "bungling man methods of housekeeping" by Mrs. L. H. Van Hyning, president of We the Mothers Mobilize for America. Mrs. Van Hyning said good housekeepers would not plan to spend 21 million dollars when they had only 17 millions.

Commissioner Ryan defended the budget as the "most economical one that could be drawn." The budget is slated for final adoption by the board later this week.

Dinner Held for Retired Fire Captain J. A. Conway

About 350 friends and associates of Capt. Joseph A. Conway, who retired from the city fire department on Jan. 23, after 38 years of service, attended a dinner in compliment to him last night in the Limehouse restaurant at 1561 Howard street. Members of Engine company 102 and Truck company 25 sponsored the dinner. Capt. Conway lives at 6517 Greenview avenue.

LINGERIE, FURS STOLEN.

Lingerie and furs worth $1,370 were taken by burglars from a shop at 4450½ Diversey avenue, it was reported to police yesterday.

SHEIL APPEALS TO CATHOLICS IN SALVAGE DRIVE

Bishop Bernard J. Sheil has issued an appeal to all Catholics in the archdiocese of Chicago to aid in the "salvage for victory" program under the direction of the bureau of industrial conservation, Washington, D. C.

It is planned to use each Catholic parish as a collection center where school children, Boy Scouts, and all other persons may bring waste paper, rags, and other waste materials needed in the war effort. Catholic Salvage bureau trucks will pick up the collections, sort the material, and ship it to mills.

The Catholic Salvage bureau has offices at 3514 South Michigan avenue.

OPERETTA QUEST WINNERS WILL BE NAMED SATURDAY

Disclosure to Be Made on W-G-N Broadcast.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The names of the three $1,000 prize winners in the Great American Operetta quest being conducted by W-G-N will be announced next Saturday during the broadcast of the Chicago Theater of the Air program over W-G-N, W59C, and the Mutual Broadcasting system between 7:30 and 8:30 p. m.

The names of the winners will be disclosed in connection with a special dramatic-musical broadcast titled "America Is Americans" to be presented as a Washington's birthday salute to the Reserve Officers Training Corps on the Theater of the Air. ROTC leaders will be studio guests.

Winners Still Unknown.

No one will know the identity of the winners, under the rules of the operetta quest, until the moment they are announced over the air.

Final judging of the manuscripts by a panel of distinguished musical leaders is scheduled for today and tomorrow. But these judges will not know who wrote the various works under consideration. Each manuscript has a working title only and a number. This number is keyed to the same number stamped on an envelope containing the entry blank which was detached from the manuscript at the time it was received.

During the broadcast Saturday, Henry Weber, musical director of W-G-N and supervisor of the preliminary examinations, will announce the numbers of the winning manuscripts. Then Marion Claire, singing star of the operetta series, will select from a file the three corresponding number entries. These three envelopes will be opened and the names contained therein announced over the air. Not until that moment will any one know who the winners are.

Operettas to Be Produced.

The three operettas, written on the theme of America and its spirit and accomplishment, will be produced on the Theater of the Air on March 14, 21, and 28, with Miss Claire singing the leading rôles. Listeners will then join in a competition to help determine which one of these is worthy of the title "The Great American Operetta" and to give it a name. For this $2,500 in cash will be distributed and $5,000 additional will go to the composer of the grand prize winning operetta which will be produced on the Theater of the Air on Saturday, April 11. More than 2,300 aspirants entered the competition.

Among the musical leaders to join in the final selections today and tomorrow will be Dr. Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra; Emmerich Kalman, noted composer, and Oscar Hammerstein, the producer.

$450,000 FRAUD PROMOTER MUST SERVE 5 YEARS

J. Dewey Abraham.

J. Dewey Abraham, whose 27 million dollar dream promotion proved to be a $450,000 nightmare to those he persuaded to invest in it, pleaded guilty in Criminal court yesterday to charges of embezzlement and operating a confidence game.

Judge Harold G. Ward sentenced him to serve 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary, with a recommendation that he serve not less than five nor more than seven years.

C. Vernon Thompson, assistant state's attorney, told the court that he and Defense Attorney W. W. Smith agreed on the stipulation that Abraham embezzled $42,000 from Max Jesselson, 6751 Crandon avenue, a retired movie theater operator.

WPA to Remove More Car Rails, Provide Scrap Steel

Charles P. Casey, Illinois WPA administrator, said yesterday that an additional 769 tons of street car rails will be removed in Joliet and Rock Island, and the steel will be made available for arms production. This will bring the total tonnage of rails removed or to be removed by the WPA to 1,329. The streets are being reconditioned by the WPA.

Prince in U. S. Army

Private Alfred Shehab, 23, heir to the Arab kingdom of Grand Tebnan, on motorcycle in armored force replacement training center at Fort Knox, Ky. His Arabian name is Emir Fuad H. M. Shehab. His kingdom had been a French mandate since the World war. Shehab joined the army after the attack on Pearl Harbor, dropping earlier plans to join the Free French forces.

MICHIGAN VETO QUELLS REVOLT OVER 'WAR' TIME

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 17 [Special].—Michigan clocks apparently were established firmly on the new wartime today following Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner's veto of a legislative act which would have returned the state to eastern standard time.

The senate, where the "slow time" bill originated and was passed last week by a 25 to 1 vote, made no immediate attempt to override the veto, tabling the disapproved measure, 17 to 9. The action was interpreted as the equivalent of upholding the veto since those casting negative votes were most vehement in denouncing the new time schedule imposed on Michigan by congress Feb. 9.

The Democratic governor, with other members of the bipartisan administrative board, had agreed, prior to the legislature's action, not to contest the federal time order which placed Michigan clocks two hours ahead of the state's geographical time belt. Since 1936 the state had been officially on eastern time altho in the central zone and the new daylight saving law thus created an exceptional situation here.

IDENTIFY WOMAN WHO THREATENED TO LEAP 15 FLOORS

A woman, 39 years old, who was arrested Sunday when she threatened to jump from her room on the 15th floor of the Palmer House, yesterday was identified in Psychopathic hospital as Edith Tuthill Goeppel Burton, daughter of the late Horace S. Tuthill of Rye, N. Y., a wealthy dairy owner.

When arrested she gave her name as "Mrs. Peter Burton."

She told authorities she was on her way to California and showed railroad tickets as evidence. A hearing will be held this morning in the psychopatic branch of the County court. Her relatives will be represented.

Humor Books Offer Pleasant War Antidotes

"The Telephone Booth Indian," by A. J. Liebling. [Doubleday-Doran, $2.]
"Mr. Limpet," by Theodore Pratt. [Knopf, $2.]
"Many Happy Returns," by Groucho Marx. [Simon & Schuster, $1.]

BY HERMAN KOGAN.

From that fantastic half-world of Manhattan's Broadway district comes the funny horde of acquaintances of A. J. Liebling, ace among the New Yorker magazine's aces.

There are miniature sagas in this choice volume that are a delight to the soul—such a tale as that of Lew Dufour and Joe Rogers, who, as "Masters of the Midway," have exhibited everything from the man who used thumbtacks to hold up his socks to the gent who chewed razor blades for breakfast, lunch, and dinner.

And there's the astounding Jollity building, off Times Square. It houses the most incredible of Liebling's people—Count de Pennies [real name Maxwell C. Bimberg], a promoter of phony enterprises; Paddy the Booster, who sells stolen ties; Acid Test Ike, who manages punch drunk fighters; Hy Sky and Si Sky, painters of theatrical signs, and Renting Manager Morty Ormont [French for Goldberg]. You'll gasp with astonishment and laughter at the collection.

Liebling's is one of several recent volumes which should be splendid antidotes for heavy war news. Theodore Pratt, another New York writer, tells an unbelievable and hilarious tale in his fabulous "Mr. Limpet," Meek and mild Henry Limpet, proverbial poor fish in real life, is transformed one day, when he topples off a Coney Island pier, into a real fish. Thenceforth, his adventures are amazing: He is appointed a lieutenant in the navy after he displays an uncanny skill in detecting submarines; he falls in love with a lissome Ladyfish; he speaks with admirals and with Adolf Hitler, who promises him the Atlantic ocean if he will aid the Nazis, and he goes on to help win the war practically single finned.

The invaluable Groucho Marx does a good deal in his screwball tome to lighten the national income tax headache, even if there isn't one really feasible idea on how to reduce your return. Prof. Groucho's wit is well matched by the sparkle of O. Soglow's drawings.

Nazis' Balkan Conquest Told by Eyewitness

BY GEORGE SCHARSCHUG.

Mr. St. John, who is rated as a former citizen by Oak Parkers and who once edited an anti-Capone paper in Cicero, was in Belgrade, Jugo-Slavia, when Hitler turned loose his bombers. As a correspondent of the Associated Press, he witnessed the grim terror of Nazi aggression upon an almost defenseless city. He tells a vivid story of that bloody Sunday in a city which once was one of the gayest capitals in Europe.

He describes the flight with other newspaper men across the war torn land and their perilous trip in an open boat to Greece. It is stirring personal adventure, well told.

Mr. St. John reached Greece in time to witness the German invasion and the evacuation of Britain's troops. He also saw the battle of Crete.

Newspaper readers will remember graphic dispatches which Mr. St. John sent from the war fronts. However, he has been able to put into his book many facts, much color, and a lot of personal experiences which censors had barred. It is a worthwhile book.

Book for Decorators.

A big, handsome volume is "House and Garden's Complete Guide to Interior Decoration," edited by Richardson Wright [Simon & Schuster, $5]. It is full of photographs, color plates, ideas, and ideals which are practically a shot in the arm to a home decorator.

"Flight to Arras"

Moving Story of Flight Has Poetic Beauty

"Flight to Arras," by Antoine de Saint-Exupery. [Reynal & Hitchcock, $2.75.] Translated from the French by Lewis Galantiere. Published today.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

When a philosopher comes face to face with the least deniable of all realities, death, and when that philosopher also is a winged poet who chooses to put into words his experiences, the result is an epic. "Flight to Arras" is by the author of "Wind, Sand, and Stars," by one whom many think the greatest of modern airmen of the pen, whose prose has the dignity, the beauty, the glow, the thrill of poetry.

"Flight to Arras" is the record of a reconnaissance flight ordered after France's defeat, while the roads below were clogged with fleeing civilians, the skies above clogged with German planes . . . a flight from which the hope of returning was almost nonexistent. It is a moving insight into how its author felt in his contact with death as well as a thrillingly vivid picture of the sights and sounds and tensity of the physical inferno thru which he passed with his two comrades—the inferno of Dante, with its circles from ice to fire, its psychological circles from a cold acceptance of the inevitable to the warm, life-renewing happiness of life reaccepted.

Nowhere have the airman's peculiar experiences been given more vibrant reality, nowhere in words have his thoughts been made more graphic. As description of an adventure of the spirit as well as of the body, "Flight to Arras" is unique. It is almost as tho both body and soul had passed thru some chemical reagent.

But that is getting into the realm of metaphysics, and altho M. de Saint-Exupery is a philosopher he is no metaphysician, and he would care little about being made to seem one—or a sentimentalist, either. He is the truest realist.

"Flight to Arras" is a book you will read for its overtones as well as the music of its flight.

Novel's Author

"Aunt Jessie," by Isabella Holt. [Bobbs-Merrill, $2.50.] Published Monday.

To the already long shelf of distinguished novels by Chicagoans must now be added "Aunt Jessie," by Isabella Holt, who, altho she now lives in Grosse Pointe, Mich., was born in Chicago and lived here most of her life. And the locale of "Aunt Jessie" is both physically and spiritually Chicago after the turn of the century to the present.

Except for Margaret Ayer Barnes' "Years of Grace," I cannot remember a book which so honestly and so engagingly recreates a period and a way of life. That way of life is of the upper crust in its self-expressive manifestations, Bohemianism bolstered and padded by and for comfort, and the impact of that self-expression upon three children [for most of the book] and upon "Aunt Jessie," who is solid, Victorian goodness and immalleability.

Miss Holt's fictional family consists of a father who is a dilettante painter, a mother who collects and launches poets, and their three children. The eldest is a poet who turns communist. The youngest is almost wholly unaffected by the family's prideful "cleverness." The middle one, a girl, is forever torn between expressing herself and just being a tender, loving sister and daughter. Each one is an individual; each one is as alive as your own kin.

Theo, the middle one, writes the family saga for the benefit of her own children. She has a searching eye, a sharp realism, and a happy tongue off which exactly the right words always roll. The story she tells is not only her family's but the story of the years of gropings in human relationships when women first began to think about careers and to dare to talk—as well as think—for themselves. It is the story of a self-conscious period of self-expression.

"Seven Tempest," by Vaughan Wilkins. [Macmillan, $2.75].

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

The first of these two historical novels is about the dramatic Mary, Queen of Scots. Starting with her youth in France, when she was the 17 year old bride of the boy king, it moves to Scotland and is concerned largely with her romance with Bothwell, who was known as the Gay Galliard.

If there is nothing startlingly new or different in this playing of the well known theme of Mary's spectacular life, all the episodes are there—the antagonism of the Protestants and of a small, powerful group of nobles; the endless, devious intrigue; the threatening shadow of the powerful Elizabeth of England; the perfidy of Darnley; the murder of Rizzio; the brief marriage of Bothwell and Mary, and finally, their long separation and imprisonment, and their deaths.

Bothwell appears as a romantic hero and lover; Mary, as a beautiful and charming figure, doomed to be the pawn of fate. The author shows a thoro knowledge of the period.

In "Seven Tempest," Vaughan Wilkins, author of "And So Victoria," writes a spirited story of the 19th century and the early days of Victoria's reign. Seven Tempest is the seventh son of a shrewd and ruthless, self-made man. Put to an inhuman test of years of cruel poverty and toil by his father, he emerges as a young man completely independent of every one and of all circumstances.

He arranges an escape for 17 year old Princess Anne Louise of Saxe-Coburg, from a loveless marriage planned for her by her uncle, Leopold of Belgium. Their adventures take them aboard a ship sailing for America and include a fire at sea and other melodramatic episodes.

F. Van Wyck Mason Now Major in American Army

F. Van Wyck Mason, creator of that smart sleuth, Maj. Hugh North of army intelligence, pinned a couple of gold leaves on his own shoulders recently. He is now Maj. Mason, assigned to the publications and special features section of the army bureau of public relations. He served as a second lieutenant with the AEF in 1918-'19 and later became a captain in the National Guard. Maj. North, who started as Capt. North in the first books, was promoted to a major by his author because so many army men complained to him that an officer as smart as his hero wouldn't long remain a captain. Probably why Maj. Mason got his oak leaves, too.

"Pursuit of a Parcel" . . . . By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull

INSTALMENT XXXIX.

IMPERSONATOR.

Detective Sergeant Abbott wrote. He had a pale, slim hand very noticeably well kept nails—well kept and well shaped.

"Very observant young lady," said the inspector without any expression in his voice at all.

"Then, Mr. Rossiter, there are just three possibilities. Either you are wrong, or Miss Merridew is wrong, or the gentleman who visited her on Wednesday morning was not Mr. Cornelius Roos."

Col. Garrett, who had been standing with his back to the fire surveying the scene in a sardonic silence, now broke in with a barking laugh.

"Been wondering when some one was going to tumble to that!" he said.

Garrett laughed again and kicked at the fire.

"All right, all right—I won't butt in. It's not my show—you don't need to tell me that."

Lamb resumed.

"Had that possibility occurred to you, Mr. Rossiter?"

Antony said, "Yes."

"Miss Merridew had never met Mr. Roos?"

"No."

"Or seen a photograph of him?"

"I don't suppose so. There are some old groups with my parents—she might have seen those. But he would have been a boy in his teens—they wouldn't really help very much."

"Did she say what he looked like?"

"Yes—I asked her. The description would pass. She said he was a big man, heavily built, with a large, pale face. That was after she told me there was no cut on his wrist, but I didn't give it very much weight. I was more inclined to think I must have been mistaken about the man in Silverthorn road. You see, I never saw him—only a silhouette against one of those flashes."

The inspector nodded.

"It didn't really occur to you at the time that some one might have been impersonating Mr. Roos?"

"Not seriously. The thought just passed thru my mind."

"But it occurs to you now?"

"I am sure of it."

Inspector Lamb nodded again slightly.

"And can you make any suggestion as to who this some one might be?"

"I'm afraid I can't."

"Or you, sir?" The Inspector turned to Col. Garrett, who shook his head impatiently and kicked the fire again. The sparks rushed up.

There was a moment's silence. Then Mr. Van der Pol spoke.

"It is with diffidence that I intrude, but it is just possible that I can help you. I have, first, a little general information—what we may perhaps call a background, and against that I can pose one small thing which has come to my knowledge. It may have nothing to do with your case, or it may have a great deal."

The inspector considered this fanciful and, what he regarded with almost equal disapproval, foreign. Foreign countries existed, more was the pity, because look at it how you would, they were making a pretty mess of the world. But since they were there and had to be put up with whether they were fighting against you or in an aggravating state of nonbelligerency, foreigners must be recognized as existing, too.

Some of them, he was willing to allow, were good enough people in their own way. The Dutch—he had nothing whatever against the Dutch. They were not English, and they had their own way of doing things. Not their fault of course, and a fair minded man wouldn't hold it up against them. These sentiments undoubtedly tinged the Inspector's manner as he turned in the Secretary's direction.

"If you have any evidence of this person's identity—"

Sergeant Abbott controled a very faint twitch of the lip. The opinions of his superior officers were known to him. He frequently enjoyed them very much. His pale blue eyes narrowed for a moment to take in the scene — old Lamb, a little on his dignity—the slim middle aged diplomat, who looked more French than Dutch with his charming manner of the man who knows his world and keeps the savor of it even tho its pomp and circumstances have crumbled.

"Evidence?" Mr. Van der Pol made a slight disclaiming gesture. "It is scarcely that I will, if you please, begin with the background. I do not know if you, Mr. Rossiter, have any acquaintance with the Roos family."

Antony looked at him sharply and said, "None." Then, as if he felt that he had been too abrupt, he added, "I left Holland when I was eight, after my father's death. I have been over occasionally since I grew up, but I never met any of the Roos connection. I don't think Cornelius hit it off with them."

Mr. Van der Pol made another slight gesture, this time of acquiescence.

"There is a cousin who is quite a well known person. His name is Barend Roos. He was known before the German occupation as an enthusiastic supporter of Nazi principles. Since the occupation I have heard that he has made himself very prominent as a pro-German. There you have the background of which I spoke. Against this, just one little thing which may very easily be a mistake. My daughter came home the other day—it was, I think, on Tuesday afternoon— and said she had seen Barend Roos. I told her she must have been mistaken, and that the person she had seen was probably his cousin Cornelius, but she declared that this was absurd. I said that I had seen Cornelius Roos myself that morning when he had called at the Ministry, and I reminded her that there was a certain likeness between them. She replied that I was talking nonsense, and that she had seen Barend Roos."

"What does this likeness amount to?" asked Antony quickly.

Mr. Van der Pol shrugged his shoulders.

"O, not so very much. What you might call a family resemblance—a matter of height, build, general characteristics. I might put it this way—a description of either man would fit the other, but any one who knew Barend would not be likely to take him for Cornelius, or Cornelius for him."

Inspector Lamb said, "And I take it that Miss Van der Pol does know this Mr. Barend Roos?"

Mr. Van der Pol became slightly withdrawn in manner.

"My daughter has met him socially. He was an acquaintance, not a friend. Some months have passed since she saw him last, and it is possible that she was mistaken, altho she will not admit this herself." He stepped back a pace. "Perhaps you would like to ring her up. I believe she is at home."

Inspector Lamb said, "Thank you, sir—it would be more satisfactory."

He sat down to the table and dialed the number Mr. Van der Pol gave him.

"I do not know if you would care to have me explain to my daughter—"

The Inspector's eyes dwelt on him. Their gaze betrayed none of the intelligence at work behind them. He said in an expressionless voice, "Thank you, sir—I don't think so," and proceeded patiently and perseveringly to get into touch with Miss Van der Pol.

Having been assured in a clear girlish voice that he had achieved his object, he introduced himself without any flowers of speech.

"Detective Inspector Lamb speaking. I would be glad if you would answer a few questions. Mr. Van der Pol informs me that you believe yourself to have recognized a certain Mr. Barend Roos here in London on Tuesday last."

Clara Van der Pol said, "O!" She was a little frightened, and immensely curious. She said, "O!" again. And then, "Is my father there?"

The inspector said, "Yes." He turned to the Secretary.

A faint smile appeared for an instant on Mr. Van der Pol's face as he replied.

"Certainly, Inspector. I imagine that she can hear me from where I am standing." He used a tone a little raised above its ordinary level.

Lamb said into the mouthpiece, "Is that all right, Miss Van der Pol?" and caught her quick reply, "O, yes. What is it that you want to know?"

Scholarly Study

"The Destiny of Western Man," by W. T. Stace. [Reynal & Hitchcock, $3.] Published last Friday.

The prize which Prof. Stace of Princeton university won with his book was offered "for the best nonfiction book written for the general reader by a member of the staff of an American college or university." The judges of the contest were Henry Seidel Canby, Carl Van Doren, and William Allen Neilson, an imposing group of scholars, at least two of whom have had long and unfailingly successful contact with the reading public and that mythical person, the "general reader." If they think this book is going to be taken to the heart of the "general reader," my long years in the business of reviewing have been wasted.

For "The Destiny of Western Man" sounds much more like a series of lectures in a college class room than it does like any popularization of the excellent subject about which its author is so pedagogically logical. He takes his readers step by step thru the search for the fundamentals of "western" and totalitarian principles, and step by step thru their V-shaped difference, but he does it LOGICALLY rather than historically.

The result, for this "general reader," is a book of almost epic dullness which, however, when read with care [and it must be read that way] does make forever and pellucidly clear the difference between the totalitarian and the democratic philosophies of life and living.

Seven Tempest

by VAUGHAN WILKINS
Author of "And So—Victoria"

"A dazzlingly dramatic performance in the good old tradition. As full of action as a defense plant, it begins in a counting house and ends at the altar, but in between are murders, bandits, night escapes, shipwrecks, sex, storms and spies, green-eyed witches, kings and princesses. HIGHWAY LINKING AMERICAS SOON TO BE A REALITY

Much Progress Reported on 15,000 Mile Route.

New York, Feb. 17 [Special].—The 15,000 mile highway connecting North and South America is becoming a reality at last. A survey just completed shows that much progress has been made and that travel over long stretches of the road is now possible.

"The route will give the tourist the greatest and most varied span of scenic panorama and types of peoples ever linked in a single transit project," said an official of the American Express company. "It also will knit a closer economic relationship between the North American countries and the southern republics."

Starting Point in Alaska.

Eventually the highway will run from Fairbanks, Alaska, to the Strait of Magellan.

Many miles of the North and Central American sections are now being linked up. More than 2,000 miles of the southern part of South America—from Buenos Aires to Punta Arenas, on the Strait of Magellan—have been made passable this year and will be greatly improved this summer.

So far the longest and straightest stretch is the 600 mile scenic road leading from Laredo, Tex., to Mexico City by way of Monterrey. From the Mexican capital the route leads past prehistoric buried cities southward to Oaxaca. When completed, the highway will span the mountains to Guatemala City and El Salvador.

Detours to Be Found.

Detours are the rule nowadays in Honduras and Nicaragua. Further southward, the approach to the Andes is along the border between Colombia and Venezuela. There are breath taking plunges into the valleys of Ecuador.

From Lima, Peru, the motorist may take the 1,000 mile trip to Santiago, Chile, or he may go eastward from La Paz to the "wonder highway" circling the Argentina lakes to Buenos Aires.

PLAN SUMMER CAMP TO TRAIN GLIDER PILOTS

A summer glider camp that is expected to start high school boys on a course of training that will prepare them for future service as military pilots will be operated in the Chicago area by the Junior Association of Commerce, it was announced yesterday. The program has the tacit approval of the armed services and the coöperation of the Civil Aeronautics authority. The first group of 100 selected students from Chicago's technical high schools has already passed preliminary physical examinations.

The students will take the Civil Aeronautics authority's ground training course in air theory, navigation, meteorology, and air traffic rules. The camp, whose site is yet to be selected, will give sufficient gliding training to get commercial gliding licenses for those who successfully complete the course. These licensed glider pilots will be used as instructors of the next classes, it was said.

If the program is successful here, junior associations of commerce in other cities have indicated they will initiate similar programs.

It Takes a War to Give Him His First Train Ride

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 17 [Special].—It took a war to cause Nelson Baker, 23 years old, to take his first ride on a train. His ride started on a link of the Southern railway. Eventually he will land at Pearl Harbor. As a sheet metal worker he volunteered for reconstruction work there.

The dam has been under military guard ever since America entered the war. Tourists are not permitted to stop there or to visit the power house. However, the dam and its surroundings—including Lake Mead—may be viewed from boats running from Las Vegas, Nev., or from buses operating out of both Las Vegas and Boulder City. The buses cross the structure without stopping. The lake extends 115 miles from the dam into the lower Grand canyon. A new lodge was opened last year on its shore.

I understand a national small bore rifle championship tourney is to be held in Florida this winter. Where and when? —R. Y.

At St. Petersburg March 11 to 15.

Did the Queen Mary or the Normandie hold the speed record of the Atlantic prior to the outbreak of the war? —C. K.

The mythical blue ribbon for the speed championship was awarded to the Queen Mary four years ago. In August, 1937, the Normandie made the eastbound run in the record breaking time of 3 days 22 hours 7 minutes. But the following year the Queen Mary made it in 3 days 20 hours 42 minutes.

What can you tell me about the Middleton gardens? —F. T. McM.

They are said to be the oldest landscaped gardens in America. The area along the Ashley river, near Charleston, S. C., was taken over in 1741 by Henry Middleton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and transformed from a marshy backwash into a scene of rare beauty. Trees and flowering plants have been imported from all over the world.

DROP RECORDED IN CALIFORNIA'S TOURIST TRAVEL

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 17 (AP).—The southern California tourist crop, estimated by the All-Year club to yield approximately 190 million dollars a year, was off 32.8 per cent in January.

"Two war factors caused the drop," said A. L. Weil, member of the club management committee. "One was the priority orders and the other was the flood of false rumors about southern California.

"People in the east and middle west actually believed that we were undergoing blackouts every night and were in imminent danger."

QUEBEC TO ERASE ITS BRIDGE TOLLS STARTING APRIL 1

QUEBEC, Quebec, Feb. 17 [Special].—Effective April 1, tolls for travel across bridges will be abolished thruout the province of Quebec. This has been announced by Premier Adelard Godbout.

The ruling is expected to stimulate travel to many parts of the province, and especially along the north shore of the St. Lawrence river below this city. Included in this area are the Shrine of Saint Anne de Beaupre and such resorts as Murray Bay and Tadoussac.

While these points are accessible by river steamer, motorists will benefit by the ruling in that they may have their cars put aboard ship and then have toll-free motoring to out of the way French Canadian hamlets.

Natchez Offers Double Lure to Visitor in Garden Tours

BY JUDITH CASS.

PILGRIMS to Natchez's romantic gardens and ante bellum homes this spring may double the number of enchanting spots they visit, for the dates of the tours of the Pilgrimage Garden club and the Natchez Garden club almost coincide. The Pilgrimage club's tours will be held from March 1 thru April 1 and the Natchez club's from March 7 thru April 7. Proceeds of the latter pilgrimages will be donated to the Red Cross and national defense this year.

Each spring for the last 10 years Natchez, on the lazy, meandering Mississippi, has held open house in its wisteria shadowed gardens and pillared mansions. Many still have some of their original furnishings, and a few contain suspended spiral stairways, so seldom seen nowadays. Some houses still are occupied by descendants of the original owners.

Both tours feature "extras." A Confederate ball tableaux and the singing of Negro spirituals in an old Negro church are included in the Pilgrimage club tour, and a Confederate pageant and "heavenbound" Negro spirituals are planned by the Natchez club. In each tour these entertainments will be presented on alternate nights so visitors may enjoy both.

Three Chicagoans Among Hostesses for the Tours.

Three Chicagoans who always are among the hostesses for the tours are Mrs. Howard Peabody, Mrs. Albert D. Williams, and Miss Myra Virginia Smith. The pilgrimage is homecoming for Mrs. Peabody and her cousin, Mrs. Williams, for their girlhood homes are both included in the Natchez club tour. Mrs. Peabody's father, Andrew B. Larned, still lives in their home, Magnolia Vale. For a time Mrs. Williams doubted that the Natchez club pilgrimage would be held because of the war. Plans are going thru, however, and the proceeds will go to the Red Cross and defense. Ravenna, built in 1836 and surrounded by azalea gardens, is Mrs. Williams' former home.

Miss Smith owns D'Evereux, a columned southern home with a squared "cupola" and what looks like a widow's walk on top. D'Evereux was built in 1840 and Henry Clay was entertained there.

Chicagoans who are members of the Chicago Athletic association will have a preview of the Natchez gardens tomorrow night when Edward T. Camenish presents a colored film on old plantations of the south. The Donald F. Boweys, the Robert E. Peacocks, the Frederick D. Corleys, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Stevens, and the David B. Ganns are some of those planning to attend Mr. Camenish's lecture. In addition to Natchez scenes, there will be colored movies of the Bellingrath gardens, the New Orleans French quarter, and the Evangeline country.

Miss Katharine Buchanan Is Bride of Army Captain.

From their home at 485 Park avenue, New York, Prince and Princess Jehan Seesodia have sent word of the marriage in Louisville yesterday of their daughter, Katharine Roberta Buchanan, and Capt. Gilbert Wayne Elliott, U. S. A. The ceremony took place at 4:30 o'clock in Christ church cathedral.

The bride's father was the late Thompson Buchanan, playwright, of Chicago and Louisville. Princess Seesodia, the former Katharine Winterbotham, was married to Prince Kumar Jehan Seesodia-Warliker of London and the Indian empire a few years following her divorce from Mr. Buchanan. Princess Seesodia is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr. The Seesodias lived abroad for several years after their marriage in 1933, and the bride's brother, Thompson Buchanan Jr., is somewhere in England now.

Princess Seesodia went to Louisville for the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Alanson Higbie. The bride is a graduate of the Kentucky Home School for Girls and of Wellesley college. Capt. Elliott, formerly of Columbus, O., and his bride will live near Louisville.

Louise Caroline Elliott and Mother Go South Today.

Mrs. Harold H. Elliott and her daughter, Miss Louise Caroline Elliott, are leaving today for Winter Park, Fla., where Miss Elliott and Edward D. Lott III. will be married on April 8. The wedding will take place in the evening at Knowles Memorial chapel at Rollins college, with a reception following in the home of Miss Elliott's grandmother, Mrs. Samuel George Goss.

Mrs. Michael Feisher will be Miss Elliott's matron of honor. Miss Ann Musson will be maid of honor, and Miss Dorothy Wieboldt and Miss Mary Trendle of Detroit will be bridesmaids. Miss Trendle is a student at Rollins.

Miss Elliott's uncle, Samuel G. Goss, will be best man. His sons, Samuel Goss III. and William R. Goss, will usher, and their little sister, Mary Jeanne, will be flower girl. Another usher will be the bride's younger brother, Harold Jr. Dr. Felsher and Dwight Johnston, who is at Rollins, also will usher. Mr. Elliott will go south in two weeks, and Mr. Lott will arrive there April 1. He and his bride will live in Chicago.

Leaders of Defense Savings Staff

Women in War Work

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

Fifteen defense savings booths are being manned by a rotating staff of 425 women volunteers in office buildings, Mrs. Allyn Warren, coördinating committee chairman, told the executive committee of the women's committee of the Chicago and Cook county defense savings staff yesterday. Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, chairman, presided at the meeting in headquarters at 105 West Adams street.

Booths are now being set up in banks, hotels, and restaurants, Mrs. Warren said. Mrs. Donald McPherson, chairman of Cook County towns north, reported that 500 women have volunteered from three suburbs, 19 suburbs have appointed defense savings' chairmen, and one town already has sold $41,000 worth of bonds and stamps.

Mrs. Leo Cummings, representing the Catholic group, said 432 churches, clubs, and hospitals are buying or selling bonds, while Miss Agnes Nestor, president of the Women's Trade unions, estimated that the average wage earner she contacted was trying to buy a $25 bond each month. Dr. Helen Howe, chairman of music for the Chicago public schools, reported that the defense sales thermometer in the board of education building, 228 North La Salle street, now reads $2,200,000.

Other reports were made by Mrs. Arthur Cook of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Arthur Compton of the Church federation, Mrs. Milton J. Krensky of the American Jewish congress, Mrs. Frederic Woodward of the University of Chicago committee, and Miss Helen Bull, representing the Oak Park group.

A group of 25 women from Joliet, sponsored by the Joliet Red Cross chapter, started the Red Cross motor corps course yesterday at the Museum of Science and Industry in Jackson park. J. R. Van Pelt is the technical director and Arthur F. Paré chief demonstrator for the course, which will continue for five weeks from 1 to 4 p. m. Tuesdays. The women learn elementary automotive engineering, driving technique, roadside repairs, and map reading in order to prepare them for the Red Cross motor corps transport work. Two other groups have finished the course and a group of employed girls from Chicago is attending a Saturday afternoon class.

The Woman's University Club of Chicago has set aside every Monday from 5 p. m. on for discussion of and participation in defense activities. The first of two February parties planned for the boys in uniform was held last Saturday night in the clubrooms at 410 South Michigan avenue. Miss Maud M. Kirk, president, was one of the hostesses for the 25 sailors from Navy pier and an equal number of high school seniors and college girls.

As an important activity in home defense, Miss Kirk is urging members to volunteer their time to the honest ballot committee, composed of representatives of many civic organizations, which is working to eliminate registration errors before the spring elections. Other "allegiance groups" also are being formed thru the club to assume civilian defense duties. The next service men's party will be held Saturday night, Feb. 28.

Response to the first aid class organized by the women's auxiliary of Mercy hospital, 2537 South Prairie avenue, was so great that another class was begun last night for those who cannot attend the afternoon class and the hospital personnel. Mrs. Joseph E. Kaspar, chairman of the unit and also head of the auxiliary, reported that another evening class may be opened next month. Both classes now under way are filled. Dr. Martin McCarthy, Dr. John Condon, and Dr. John Hoesley are conducting the courses.

Several Red Cross volunteers who wanted to take up first aid and still not give up an evening with their husbands have convinced the men that the course would be profitable for them, too. Mrs. Mark R. Woodward, Mrs. E. E. Tanner, and Mrs. Charles E. Barrows are among the wives who organized the Wednesday night class of 34 couples which meets in the ballroom at 180 East Delaware place. Martha Davidson Holm is the staff instructor in charge.

The Navy Mothers club will go en masse to the Great Lakes Naval Training station Friday night to be among the special guests at the Kate Smith radio program which will be broadcast from the station. In charting a map of the distribution of members thruout the city, the Navy Mothers club finds that it has at least one member in each of the 51 postal districts except nine.

Our announcement that Red Cross Gray Ladies from the Chicago chapter are now serving in the army hospital at Fort Sheridan, the first government hospital in the Chicago area to use this recreation therapy service, brought this note from Mrs. Charles Whiteleather, a Gray Lady in Waukegan:

"It might interest you to know that the Waukegan-North Chicago Gray Ladies of our Red Cross have been working at the United States Veterans' hospital No. 105, Downey, Ill., for the last five years, under the direction of Dr. Delmar Goode. We are now taking a course in occupational therapy and are endeavoring to teach patients in the various wards who are unable to come to the occupational therapy shop maintained by the hospital. We are definitely much pleased with our progress and so are those in charge. This is a mental hospital, so you may know the task we have before us."

Officers Training Camp Veterans to Hold Reunion

Veterans of the third officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan during the first World war will hold their annual reunion and convention Saturday in the Lake Shore club. They were commissioned early in 1918. After the war the group meeting Saturday organized as the First battery of the camp. Edward V. Turner is commander, Lee M. Thurston is secretary, and Earle A. Shilton is finance officer.

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Frederick Knudson of Evanston announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to George William Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin of Dallas, Tex., on Saturday. The ceremony took place in St. Luke's church, Evanston, with a reception following in Scott hall. The former Bette Knudson is a graduate of Northwestern university.

Coward Play Recalls First Nights of Old

"BLITHE SPIRIT."

THE CAST.

Ruth	Carol Goodner
Charles	Dennis King
Madame Arcati	Estelle Winwood
Elvira	Annabella
Edith	Belle Gardner
Dr. Bradman	Lowell Gilmore
Mrs. Bradman	Valerie Cossart

BY CECIL SMITH.

The première, long and eagerly awaited, of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" recaptured, for a single evening, the glitter and excitement which used to mark Chicago theatrical opening nights in years gone by. Because the play gave promise of being something quite special—a promise it quickly fulfilled—the audience was dotted with celebrities.

Tyrone Power came to see his comely wife, Annabella, in the rôle of a gray-draped spirit from "out beyond." Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, for once pried loose from their rural home in Wisconsin, arrived to inspect a performance in which, it is said, they have a business as well as a friendly interest.

Both play and performance were, as I have indicated, fully deserving of the attention they received. "Blithe Spirit" is Noel Coward in his freest, most unalloyed vein of high farce. He is concerned with nothing deeper than having fun with the occult, with invoking a mood of bright mirth about death and the hereafter in a time when these eternal mysteries ordinarily seem much too threatening and too close. He intended "Blithe Spirit" to be an antidote for war blues, and he has succeeded with a raillery as pungent as it is light-hearted.

This "improbable farce" invokes a wholly new and unprecedented triangle, in which a middle aged novelist, to his considerable discomfiture, is forced to live in the same house with both his living second wife and the recalled spirit of his dead first wife. It is all the fault of Mme. Arcati, a medium with an uncommon gift for getting spirits back from the hereafter and an equally remarkable incapacity to return them to their ghostly otherworld.

The dialog and situations are devised with the most impish and impious inventiveness. Because the first wife is visible and audible to the husband but not to the second wife, there are incomparable opportunities for crosswise, three sided dialog, which Mr. Coward has written with immeasurable technical skill. The more usual passages of repartee among the living also crackle with brilliance.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

How to Make Friends and . . .

Soon after Kenneth Horan's new book, I Give Thee Back, was published, she received what we consider Little Lesson No. 1 in the fine art of letter writing. It came from New York:

"Dear Miss Horan:

"I have seen your foto. I would like to know you. This may lead to many things, but don't hope for matrimony. I tried it once and unless you are better than I think from your foto, such is not my intention.

"However, a girl never needs to give up hope. Address me as soon as convenient. Manfred."

The gentleman gave his address.

It's Sybil McGovern's story:

Stinky and Dorothy had been drinking. One might say they were drunk. We will say they were drunk. They were discussing incubator babies.

"Incubator babies have just as good a chance of living as normal babies. Take me, for instance. I weighed only two pounds at birth, and they put me in the incubator."

"Did you live?"

"Did I live? Wow, you should see me now!"

Four Days Late.

A Valentine greeting that went the rounds:

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Sugar is impossible these days,
And so are you.

Annunciation.

A tree in the front yard of William M. Martin, assistant principal of the Headley school, now wears half a bed sheet. On the sheet, in bold black letters, is printed:

Bill Jr. arrived on Sunday morn.
No huskier boy was ever born.
Mother and babe are doing well
And old Bill is as proud as hell.

Excuse Me, Madam.

Febie Ola, her wizened black face taut with indignation, mumbled angrily to herself as she wielded her iron on the sheet.

"Got no mo' use fo' people like that than a livin' man has fo' a cawfin."

"How's that, Febie Ola?"

"Well, yestiddy mo'nin' ah was on the bus, and a white woman come and sit down by me. She kep' a-lookin' at me and pretty soon she say, ''Xcuse me, but I wants a good fortune tellah. Cullid people knows all about fortune tellahs. You know a good one fo' me?' So ah kep' a-lookin' at her and ah say, 'Well, madam, 'xcuse me, but ah 'magine you knows mo' about that than ah does 'cause ah just don' believe in them fortune tellahs.'"

Nine Lives or
How to Cut a Story Short.

The fifth grade class of Lake View school in Zion was told to write a story as tho the pupils were living in colonial America. Ford Wilson Jr., 11 year old twin son of Zion's police magistrate, wrote:

"When I was a boy in colonial New England I had to help bring in the water and chop the firewood and make the fire.

"A man tried to beat me up and some men put him in stocks. One time I was walking in the woods and a tribe of Indians came up behind me and took me prisoner. My dad came hunting for me because I had been gone so long when he go to the Indian village he found me and took me home.

"One day about 1685 a ship came into port and there were men with swords and they came and attacked our village and took most of us prisoners and put us in a block house to shoot us.

"They shot me in the heart and killed me. If they hadn't killed me my story would be longer."

Of Names That Make News.

Martha Graham, here last Sunday to dance, told of the strong rapport she felt with Helen Keller when the latter, after attending her recent New York recital, commented thru her interpreter on "how high" she felt at the leaps of the dance. "Her face was so alive, her bearing so regal," Miss Graham said of Miss Keller. "Her entire body was high like a listening ear. . . ." Vivacious Gertrude Lawrence has created a unique war job for herself. She has trained the children of refugee English actors and actresses in New York and takes them from settlement house to settlement house in a production called Gratefuly Yours. . . . Richard Williams, who is 12, and Gerard Darrow, who is 9, both precocities from radio's Quiz Kids, were discussing Gerard's alligator, Snappy. "What do you have an alligator for?" Richard demanded. "They haven't any sex appeal."

But Maybe Taxes Will.

urday. Dr. Carl B. Davis Jr., one of Mr. Phillips' ushers, and Mrs. Davis gave a dinner and theater party Monday. Yesterday Mrs. Harry L. Wells, Mrs. Vernon R. Louckes, Mrs. A. R. Peterson, Mrs. Walter Warrick, and Mrs. Henry G. Zander Jr. entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Moraine On-the-Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Galt are giving a dinner tonight. Mrs. Ira Westbrook will give the spinster dinner in Evanston tomorrow. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick Falley of Evanston, will give the bridal dinner on Friday night at the Glen View club. Following the bridal luncheon which Mrs. Everett R. Cook and Mrs. Linn McBride will give on Saturday in the latter's home, the attendants will be rushing to dress for the ceremony, which will take place at 4 o'clock in the Falley home. Mr. Phillips, who is the son of Charles A. Phillips and the late Mrs. Phillips of Evanston, will take his bride on a southern wedding trip.

Sherman Aldriches Return to Winnetka Next Month.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Aldrich are preparing to welcome them back to Winnetka next month from Bethesda, Md., where the Aldriches have been living since last June. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich's son, Dr. Knight Aldrich, and Miss Julie Murphy of New London, Conn., were married in Bethesda on Feb. 4. Dr. Aldrich and his bride will live in Lexington, Ky.

Reminiscences exchanged tonight over the banquet table at the Blackstone hotel will go back for 69 years to the year of the Chicago Harvard club's first annual dinner. President James Bryant Conant of Harvard university has come out to speak at the annual meeting following dinner at 7:30 o'clock. William R. Odell Jr. serves as president of the Chicago alumni group. President Conant also will be the special guest at a 12:30 o'clock luncheon which the Chicago Chamber of Commerce will give at the La Salle hotel.

The John W. Camerons [Dorothy Palmer] are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter on Monday in Janesville, Wis. The baby was born in the hospital founded by Mrs. Cameron's grandfather and father, Dr. William Palmer and Dr. Henry Palmer. The infant is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dan U. Cameron of Astor street and has a little brother.

Gads Hill Center Reports Changes in Trustee Board

Thru the Looking Glass

A number of the women we know, housewives who have taken on various kinds of jobs connected with the war relief or war effort, tell us that, after years of being out of business, they'd forgotten what toll of foot comfort a hard day of work takes.

They're being reminded of what us poor working girls know only too well and maybe a review of some of the do's and don'ts of foot comfort wouldn't be amiss.

First of all, there is the matter of shoes. Medium size heels and a more generous than tight fit are essential. Giddy shoes, with which we women will probably never part, should be saved for the hours when we don't do anything very strenuous for very long at a time.

Going to the chiropodist promptly is economy in the long run. If you try to ignore a painful joint or a burning corn you'll find that you can do so—for a while—but while you're doing it you're unconsciously nursing the painful spots, unconsciously distributing your weight in a manner that lessens the pain. And what actually happens is that you're doubling or tripling the damage to your feet, throwing even more bones and muscles out of their normal coördination. You pay rather dearly for this in the end, with foot problems that one visit to the chiropodist won't clear up.

When the feet are very tired plunge them into warm, then cold water several times. This normalizes circulation and is immensely refreshing. Use soothing lotions too, and powders that deodorize and give a feeling of freshness. Good shoes and good foot hygiene make it possible to forget you have feet—and that's a blessed forgetfulness that increases efficiency and poise.

Miss Eleanore Louise Tompkins.

Miss Eleanore Louise Tompkins will be married on March 28 to Ensign Henry Atwater Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Preston of Lake Forest. Miss Tompkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boylston Adams Tompkins of New York and Glen Cove, N. Y., has left her classes at Vassar college to prepare for the wedding.

Chicago Red Cross Fund Drive Now at 80 Per Cent of Goal

Gifts from employés and companies yesterday brought the war relief budget campaign of the Chicago chapter, American Red Cross, within 20 per cent of its $3,750,000 goal, James B. Forgan, general chairman, announced. The drive's total now stands at $2,981,500.

A contribution of $11,200 from employés in the Chicago retail stores of Sears, Roebuck & Co. topped the donations received yesterday. Added to $45,389 from the mail order and headquarters employés and $45,000 from the company itself.

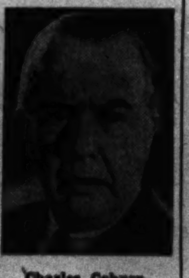
Employés of the Bismarck hotel subscribed 100 per cent to the drive with a $1,665 donation. Other contributions from employé groups were $2,348 from Charles A. Stevens & Co., $1,698 from Illinois Tool Works, $1,579 from U. S. Gypsum company, $1,040 from Westinghouse Electric Supply company, $964 from Socony-Vacuum Oil company, and $503 from du Pont company.

Gifts from companies and their employés were $2,580 from the Manz corporation and officials, $2,015 from Warner Brothers theaters, $874 from Gold Seal Liquors, $717 from Hirschman Coats, Inc., $708 from American Spring and Wire Specialty company, and $705 from Mercury Manufacturing company.

Looking at Hollywood . . By John Chapman

I Walk Out Screaming.

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 17.—If there were a fire in a theater I think I'd walk, not run, to the nearest exit. But sometimes I run when there isn't a fire. I run when they have one of those little stinkers up there on the screen, and when I get out in the nice fresh air I talk to myself, saying, "How in the name of a name did they ever happen to make that thing?"



Charles Coburn.

It happened the other night—on a double bill in a neighborhood house. The picture was pretty good—"Ball of Fire"—but it was no ball of fire. Then came on a little dandy called "Unexpected Uncle." I had to get out. It hurt to see two seasoned actors like Charles Coburn and Ernest Truex involved in something so corny, so badly directed, and so badly acted except for the gentlemen mentioned.

Next morning I was still muttering to myself, taking it very hard, so I decided I'd try to get the answer to my question. The answer is illuminating, and it may help you to understand about a lot of stinkers.

Eric Hatch wrote a serial for a magazine. The heroine looked made to order for Ginger Rogers, and probably was—so Erich Pommer and Harry Edington, then a producer and studio boss of RKO, bought the piece. Reported price, $15,000.

Next thing to do was make a script. Since it was to be a big-star picture, an expensive writer had to be put on it. The scenarist probably cost $1,750 a week. He worked several weeks and had half a script or so, and then the thing was shown to Ginger Rogers. Ginger said "No." She is one of the best "No" girls in Hollywood.

Here was RKO stuck with what is called a "property." A lot of money had been spent on it. Writing costs alone were a reported $37,000. And the guys originally responsible, Pommer and Edington, had both vanished from the studio in a political shakeup. So Tay Garnett was called in and asked to be the producer-director. For this he'd get his usual fee—I think it's $50,000.

Garnett wanted Martha Scott. Studio bosses didn't want Martha Scott. Garnett tried for Loretta Young. Miss Young wanted $100,000 for the job, and this was too much.

Well, the studio had to do something. It couldn't cast a big star, so it was decided to salvage an already sizable investment by making the picture a "B." Garnett bowed out as a director and took—or accepted is a better way to put it, because the thing wasn't his baby in the first place—and accepted producer credit. An English actor, Peter Godfrey, did the directing. At the same time Garnett was involved in another quite similar affair—another not so good one called "Week-end for Three." Alan Campbell and Dorothy Parker had written this baby for Ginger Rogers, too, but again Ginger had shaken her pretty head.

There you have the story of a stinker. It's a sad story. You can't exactly get mad at anybody, because everybody tried his hardest. The picture just didn't come off. RKO, in a manner of speaking, poured bad money after good in a salvage attempt. And so did I. I paid $1.10 for seats for my lady and myself, and I suppose 30 or 40 cents of that went to pay for "unexpected uncle."

Family Loses Possessions in Fire; Asks Aid

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Fire is a constant menace to those who are forced to live in overcrowded, poorly built quarters. In many such homes heating equipment is old and unsafe, and in severe weather efforts to keep warm result in the outbreak of fires in which families lose their homes and barely escape with their lives.

Mrs. S., a case worker, has requested help for such a family, now living on the northwest side of the city. It consists of mother, father, and six children. In an early morning fire in their home much of their furniture was lost entirely, some of it was badly scorched, and almost all of their clothing was destroyed.

They are now trying to reëstablish a home, but are in immediate need of three double mattresses, linens, blankets of all kinds, and, if possible, two 9x12 rugs.

There are girls 18, 8, and 6 years old, boys 16 and 15, and a baby 14 months old, all in need of clothing. The youngsters of preschool age are most urgently in need. The mother, who wears size 44, also needs apparel.

The worker will arrange transportation of any items offered.

Beef liver is less expensive than calf liver, and is just as nutritious. Buy beef liver for this good, and very good-for-you, liver loaf. Remember that liver once a week is the recommendation of nutrition authorities. It's one of our very best foods.

Liver and Bacon Loaf.

[Serves eight.]

2 pounds beef liver
2 cups soft bread crumbs
⅔ cup ground fresh pork
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup catsup
2 eggs, beaten
Juice of 1 lemon
Sliced bacon

Simmer sliced liver for 10 minutes. Drain and put thru food chopper. Mix well with all ingredients except bacon. Line loaf pan with bacon, pack in liver mixture, and lay bacon slices over the top. Bake at 300 degrees for 1½ hours.

If you think you want a sauce for this loaf, make a white sauce and flavor it with a little more catsup. Chili sauce may be used in the loaf and in the sauce in place of catsup, if desired.

Don't cook the broccoli in tomorrow's dinner so long that it loses its bright green color. Before cooking it at all, look it over carefully and soak it in salt water for a few minutes. Peel large stalks and split them so that they'll not take longer to cook than the time required for the buds. Use a fair amount of salted water for boiling, and cook until just tender. Heat mayonnaise over very low heat or in the top of a double boiler, and garnish each serving of broccoli with a spoonful. The salad dressing may be thinned slightly with lemon juice.

Old-Fashioned Ginger Cakes.

[7 by 10 inch pan.]

1⅔ cups sifted cake flour
1¼ teaspoons ginger
1¼ teaspoons cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon soda
¼ cup butter
¼ cup molasses
3 egg yolks
5 tablespoons buttermilk
¼ cup hot water
¼ cup sugar

Sift flour, measure, and resift with spices and soda. Cream butter, blend in sugar, and add molasses and egg yolks. Beat vigorously until the batter is smooth and fluffy. Add flour mixture and buttermilk alternately, beginning and ending with flour and beating well after each addition. Add hot water and beat until blended. Turn into well greased baking pan and bake at 325 degrees for half an hour. Turn out to cool on a cake rack. Frost with molasses butter icing.

MOLASSES BUTTER ICING: Cream ½ cup butter or margarine and add 3 tablespoons molasses. Beat until fluffy. Gradually add 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar and beat until smooth. Add ¼ teaspoon lemon extract.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

This yummy orange French toast is a real breakfast treat. The recipe wins $5 for Mrs. Norman Pelton of Mauston, Wis.

Have you a recipe that's a family favorite, an economy dish, or an heirloom? Then send it to the Mary Meade Recipe Contest. It may win the $5 prize given daily. Write your recipe in standard form, giving complete directions that even a beginning cook could follow successfully. And don't forget to put your name and address on each sheet of paper.

Orange French Toast.

[Serves 5 or 6.]

⅔ cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
2 eggs
10 or 12 slices of bread
Butter

Combine orange juice, rind, and sugar. Add cinnamon to eggs and beat until frothy. Whip fruit juice mixture into eggs with a fork. Place in shallow dish and dip each slice of bread into mixture. Then fry slices slowly in lightly buttered skillet over low heat. Turn to brown lightly on both sides. Arrange on hot platter in overlapping slices. Serve with honey.

[Send in your favorite recipe.]

From Dalton, Ga., come some of the most beautiful bedspreads obtainable. On ivory sheeting, the pastel toned designs are carried out in the old punch work, candlewick, and other stitches, and altho electric power speeds the work it is still largely done by hand. The lovely colors in these spreads are the result of specially dyed threads. One new model displayed a colored design only on the top of the spread which covers the pillows, the rest being in plain white candlewicking.

This attractive, crocheted bib collar is easy to create and is just the necessary touch of spring for these February days. The design is attractive and easy to follow. White mercerized cotton is an ideal medium and, when the collar is finished, it is dipped in a mild starch solution and stiffened slightly.

Don't Punish, but Help the Child Thief

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co, Inc.]

A renowned physician has made the statement that disease is natural. This is, to most of us, a surprising statement and a surprising thought.

Now, any inexperienced teacher is very likely, like a mother, to set up ideals of perfection for her chilren. She doesn't at first realize that red-blooded boys and girls will, at some time, do what we call "misbehave." It takes time for her to realize that it is natural for children not to be perfect according to our classroom ideals for them.

Some of them will inevitably do many things a teacher disapproves of. If these are slight offenses, she quickly comes to take them in her stride. It is when they assume a darker color, as when a child steals, that she is likely to take a step in the wrong direction, and feel only censure, and then resort to punishment in one of a number of forms.

Now this is all wrong. Instead of thinking in "black and white," and calling this child "bad" to herself, she should feel, "here is a child who needs to learn to live. Here is a child who needs help." And the way for her to provide that help is to dig around the roots of the action, gently, persuasively, and find out the cause for the boy or girl's dishonesty. Perhaps this boy, and with stealing it's more likely to be a boy than a girl, steals because he wants something his parents have not been able to give him, or to treat his crowd in order to "hold up his end," or perhaps to court popularity. It may be that he has no money for sports and supplies, such as a bat or a team uniform. A talk with him and, perhaps, a chance to earn money, and possibly a conversation with the boy's parents usually will clear things up.

What the child steals is often a clue to why he steals. This is a hint worth tucking away for reference. Sometimes, of course, a child steals for some remote reason. Lack of love at home, or a condition at home or in school which makes him feel emotionally hurt may find indirect expression in stealing. Then the difference is that the things he steals often bear no direct relation to his direct desires, except possibly candy, which has been proved to be a material solace for his deeper, unmaterial needs.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Smoke in Her Eyes.

A girl by the name of Lorraine discovered the other day that "smoke gets in your eyes" in the oddest ways. She was on her way to work, waiting for an el train when she noticed smoke clouds before her eyes. Yet, no man near her was smoking. The smoke got thicker and she got panicky and asked another loop-bound passenger if she could see what was burning. Merely Lorraine's felt hat . . . that was all . . . set afire by a cigaret butt, evidently tossed from the platform as she entered the station, and lodging in the brim of her hat!

Easing Up on Stenos.

The U. S. Civil Service commission has eased up on the requirements for junior stenographer. The former rule that any one who has been declared ineligible as a junior stenographer must wait 30 days before filing another application has been abandoned. Also the rate of dictation has been changed to 80 words per minute [in place of the 96 words a minute formerly required].

The beginning salary for junior stenographer is $1,440 a year, and for junior typist, $1,260 a year.

Thoughts on Digits.

Thoughts while adding a column of figures: Digit comes from the Latin word for finger, suggesting the oldest . . . and easiest method of counting . . . the Roman numeral X comes from the old system of notation, a series of ten strokes with a large X drawn through them. [The upper half of the X made V, the Roman numeral for five.]

Timely Advice.

ADVICE TO THE TIMELOST.

Dear Miss Greenwich:

It was 7 o'clock. As I stood in my bedroom looking out the window, it was pitch black outside. Was it a. m. or p. m.? Should I have undressed and gone to bed or eaten breakfast and gone to the office? How can a white collar girl tell?

PUZZLED.

Dear Puzzled:

Under the disconcerting circumstances you describe there is the somewhat outmoded solution of tossing a coin. Heads, morning; tails, evening. The danger lies in possible error and your boss may object to your sleeping at home all day.

Next, there is the color test. Draw a piece of fresh tissue across your lips. Rouge indicates p. m.

Again, you might apply the "spot check." Look on the edge of the bath tub under the towel rack where you hang your stockings. Damp spots denote evening. No damp spots mean you did your laundering twelve hours earlier.

Last, there is the old reliable which might be termed the "Critique of Pure Reason" if this Kant be called a plagiarism. If you feel fresh and rested you know it's evening after the usual long rest at the office. On the other hand, a distinctly tired feeling indicates morning and serves as a gentle reminder that you shouldn't have danced the extra hour with him, tho it was fun at the time, wasn't it?

With these tests you can't go wrong—on the time—that is—at least.

British 'Envoy' Brings Thanks to U. S. Women

BY JUANITA DALY.

Dr. Winifred Cullis, unofficial ambassador of British women in the United States, who has a distinguished record of service in medicine, public welfare, and education, last night thanked the women of America for their help thru the Red Cross in providing money, food, and clothing for the British populace.

She spoke before the national committee on volunteer service of the American Red Cross at a dinner given by Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy in the Casino. Miss Mabel T. Boardman, secretary of the Red Cross, who has served the organization for almost 40 years, introduced the speaker.

"We are especially grateful for the war nurseries," said Dr. Cullis, "the 46 which we now have and the 85 more that are coming on where bombed babies are nursed, clothed, and cared for. It would thrill your heart to see the youngsters jumping around, physically fit."

Dr. Cullis said many Americans had asked her why it was necessary to learn first aid, how to extinguish a bomb, and other civilian defense activities.

"We realized that it was possible to be hit by a bomb and be destroyed," she pointed out, "but many had not thought of having bombs fall all around, destroying all your home, belongings, the water mains, and still come out alive. Life had to go on. You can't do it suddenly, but people improvised and the earlier training made it possible for them to carry on."

The actual responsibility of war work today rightfully belongs to the generation of younger women whose husbands, brothers, and friends are doing our fighting, Mrs. Dwight W. Davis, national director of volunteer special services, said earlier in the day at the opening of the three day session of the committee in the Chicago Historical society.

"Young women are swarming to our chapters offering their services," she asserted, "and the Red Cross can well follow the example of our army and navy in putting more responsibility on youth.

"I am not saying that the counsel and advice of those who have had past experience is not of value. It is, provided that the person who gives it has kept abreast of the times. But if we do not give these young women a voice in the affairs of the Red Cross," Mrs. Davis warned, "they will join other organizations that will."

If you think the only thing you can do is to knit, then learn to do something else, Mrs. S. Sloan Colt, national director of production, urged in her production corps report. She estimated that more than 1,100,000 volunteers are busy sewing, knitting, and making surgical dressings, while at least another million would like to be doing the same.

"But there is a shortage of materials," she continued, "and we must abide by our agreement with the war production board and knit for the armed forces only to fill the demands of commanding officers—to make only those garments for civilian relief either at home or abroad which are necessary."

In addition to the priorities on materials, foreign war relief is being curtailed because in the areas abroad to which relief can be sent the needs are diminishing, Mrs. Colt added.

Whereas the production corps has plenty of workers, other services need volunteers according to the directors' reports on nurse's aids by Mrs. Walter Lippmann, canteen by Mrs. Graham Dougherty, camp and hospital service by Mrs. Archibald MacLeish, staff assistance by Mrs. Wilmarth Lewis, and Gray Ladies by Miss Mary Swiggart.

Martial Air at Tea

BY MARTHA MURPHY.

While dinner gowns and exquisite jewelry studded the scene of last night's dinner of the volunteer special services for the Red Cross, the tea and reception which preceded it had a decided martial air. Almost all the women who stopped in the flag-decked Chicago Historical society wore uniforms—the slate blue of the administration and staff assistance corps, the navy blue of the motor corps, or the soft blue and white of the canteen workers. A few slipped matching greatcoats over their uniforms, but more wore mink, sables, and Persian lamb.

Mrs. Farwell Winston and Mrs. King Mitchell, wearing the red shoulder-boards of the administration department on their uniforms, presided at one of the tea tables. Mrs. Leander McCormick was among the canteen workers in short sleeved blue percale and matching kepi who assisted at the tables.

Even the station wagons which waited at the doors of the museum were marked with the familiar red cross. Miss Nancy Bastien, who drove one of the cars, topped her motor corps uniform with a khaki trench coat bearing the green and red motor corps insignia on the left shoulder.

Another social highlight in the three day conference will be the cocktail party which Mrs. Henriques Crawford will give in her apartment in the Ambassador hotel this afternoon. Annabella, the spirit of "Bithe Spirit," and John C. Wilson, who came here from New York for the opening of that play last night, will be among the guests.

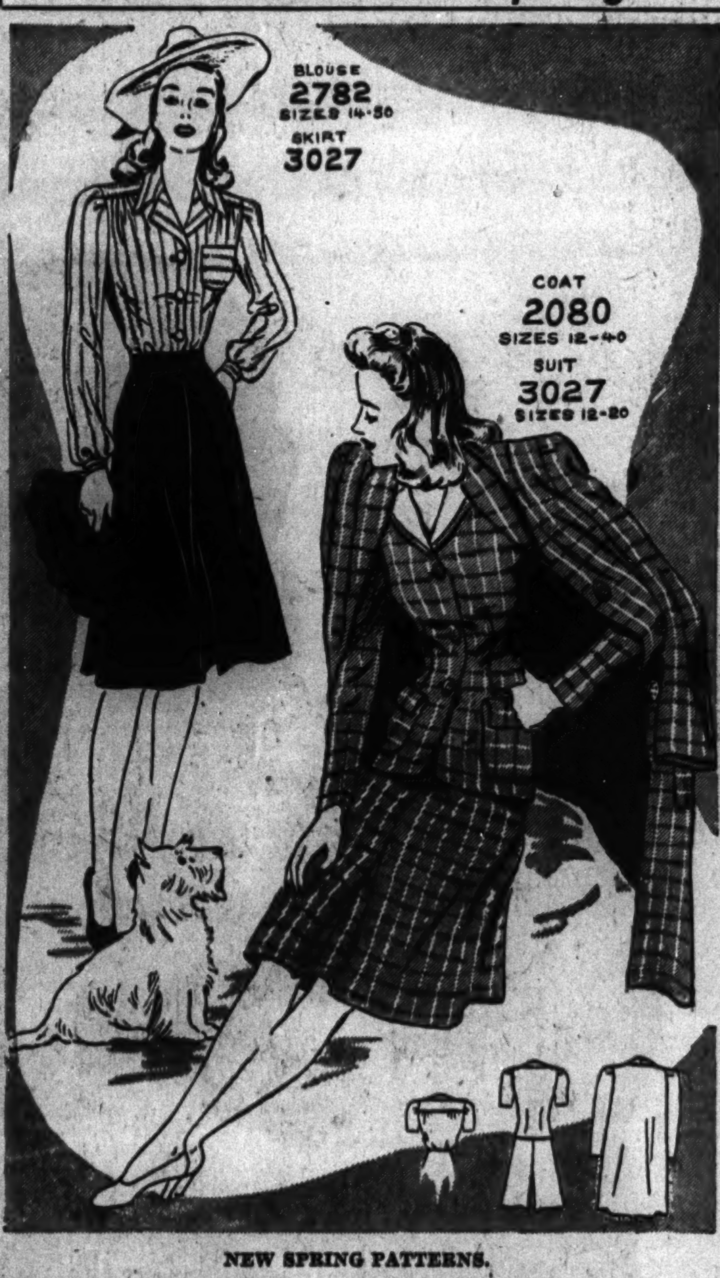
New Modes for Spring



NEW SPRING PATTERNS.

We're going to be tailored within an inch of our lives this spring, but it's going to be soft tailoring and the colors are going to be loud. Today's three patterns create ensembles you will like for your busy days. One is a blouse and skirt outfit; the other, a three-piece suit.

Style No. 2782 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 2 yards of 39 inch material.

Style No. 3027 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3 yards of 54 inch material for skirt and jacket of one fabric; 1½ yards of 54 inch for separate skirt.

Style No. 2080 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 16 requires 2¾ yards of 54 inch material.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT: Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The spring pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Words of Joel Hail Opening of Lenten Season

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

"Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare Thy people, O Lord, and give not thine inheritance to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God."—Joel ii., 17.

Catholic, Episcopal, and Lutheran congregations today will hear these words of the Prophet Joel from the Old Testament. It is the scriptural call for Ash Wednesday devotions.

Pastors predict the most widely observed Lent in many years. In addition to many extra devotions prepared in each church, the welfare of the nation in time of war will also call for Lenten intercessions. Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch announced yesterday that he is asking all Holy Name men of 370 branches to observe a national day of prayer on March 8.

Following the ancient symbolism, the ashes of the highest earthly triumph—from the burned leaves of the previous Palm Sunday, which each year recalls the throng's mistake of thinking of Christ as a mere earthly monarch—are imposed today on the foreheads of worshipers in Catholic and many Episcopal and other churches.

Ashes will be distributed in all Catholic and most Episcopal churches during all services today. At Holy Name cathedral, masses will be offered at 6, 7, 7:30, 8, and 12:10 o'clock. At 8 tonight ashes will be imposed at solemn benediction. Similar schedules will be observed in all Catholic churches. Many churches, especially near the loop, will begin noonday Lenten masses at 12:10. Among these are St. Mary's, St. Peter's, St. Patrick's, Holy Family, and Assumption.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John P. Campbell, pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes church, Ashland and Leland avenues, announced Lenten noon masses for the benefit of workers in nearby industries.

Bishop Wallace E. Conkling of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago will open the 46th noonday Lenten series in the loop today. Services will be held in Kimball hall. Thruout the 40 day period, noted preachers will speak. No noonday services are held on Saturday or Sunday.

At Central YMCA, 19 South La Salle street, the Great Chicago Lutheran Publicity association will hold services each Wednesday noon. The Rev. William C. A. Martens of Immanuel Lutheran church will be today's preacher.

Ash Wednesday services will be held in Chicago temple, 77 West Washington street, tonight. Mrs. Albert W. Palmer, president of the women's department of the Chicago Church federation, announced that World Day of Prayer will be observed on Friday, with two services at Chicago temple. Bishop Conkling will be the speaker at the afternoon session beginning at 1:15. The morning session at 10:15 will be addressed by Virginia MacKenzie of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, former missionary to China.

Dr. Charles H. Heimsath, minister of First Baptist church, Evanston, announced a series of five Sunday night Lenten services from Feb. 22 to March 22, culminating on Palm Sunday, March 29, in a union night service in First Congregational church, Evanston.

The Rev. Canon David E. Gibson, pastor of Cathedral shelter, 117 North Peoria street, announced that ashes will be imposed at services today at 8 and 12:10 o'clock. Noonday eucharists will be celebrated each noon thruout Lent.

First Violets Here: on Hats Suits, Dresses

BY REA SEEGER.

All they need is a recorded burst of "who'll buy my violets" music to complete the spring atmosphere in some of the stores downtown with all the violet hats and the violet colored suits and dresses promoted for early spring wear. Hats are extremely romantic affairs, small toques of the old fashioned outline of the naughty '90s, entire models covered with violets, others in pill box shape also made of violets with some of the pale green stems ashowing. Off-the-face finds, as mauve in shade as the others, are ideal accents for blondes, brunettes, and the coppertops.

Violet colored straws are also news! There are poke bonnet affairs, dashing brimmed sailors, tiny flapjack discs and the pompadour types for off the face headlines. Bunches of violets are pinned or attached smack-dab in the center of moderately brimmed suit hats. Other hats are trimmed with twin bunches, one primly secured at each side just over the ear. Some hats feature fat little bunches of violets heaped all the way round the crown and then tied with cerise or chartreuse green velvet ribbon.

They are the most romantic and most effective spring hats imaginable . . . flattering hats to wear with suits, with coats and with fur coats, the first violet hint of spring.

Stunning new suits and ensembles of dress and jacket or dress and long coat and the regulation two piece suits of skirt and jacket are exceptional finds in beautiful dark tones of violet wool . . . not the harsh difficult purples so trying to wear and to find accessories for, but the subtle parma and plum purples becoming to nearly all personalities.

Your Handwriting

BY SHIRLEY SPENCER.

Vivienne Segal is what I call an "emotional introvert" and since that is a contradiction in terms, you can guess that the person to whom I apply it must be contradictory. Miss Segal writes a very emotional script, but the slant is slightly backhand and many strokes swirl back with a leftward twist.

These are indications that the feelings come back and center around the ego. So while we see that a great deal of emotion is expressed, and expressed dramatically, we know that underneath the flashing, sparkling stream, represented by the spluttering flow of ink, we have deep currents.

This type dramatizes spontaneity and enthusiasm and sometimes the audience is fooled into believing that is all there is—but there is more. Look at the imagination in the "V," and the rollicking fun in the swing of the letters, but don't forget the dignity and aloofness by the size and angle of the letters. And this is what you must remember about this type—never, never presume or take them for granted.

For handwriting analysis send 10 cents (in coin) and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, together with a sample of handwriting, to Shirley Spencer, Box 116, General Postoffice, New York City. IMPORTANT: Write 25 words and signature in ink.

Counting out the opponents' hands—that is, their original suit distributions, often is a very simple process. In a hand such as that below, for example, there is no excuse for "misguessing" the one crucial play.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	2 hearts	2 spades	Pass
4 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the heart king. Fortunately for the defenders, East's singleton was high enough to resemble a "come-on" card, hence West continued with the ace and ten. East ruffed and returned the jack of clubs. Declarer won with the ace, hastily drew trumps and then, after much staring at the ceiling and openly moaning, "I'm sure to guess this finesse wrong," justified his own pessimism by cashing the king of diamonds and then finessing to dummy's ten. East swooped down with the queen, for the defeat of the contract.

This was a hand in which simple counting would have made the contract ironclad. After declarer had lost the first three tricks and won the club return, his three rounds of trumps were, of course, correct. But he might have taken the pains to note that West followed to those three rounds. The heart situation, already disclosed, made six more cards known in West's hand, and he had followed to one club. Thus, he still could have only three cards in the minor suits.

It would have cost declarer absolutely nothing to lead a club to the king, then to ruff dummy's losing club. With West following to three clubs he would be definitely marked with a maximum of one diamond. Obviously, all declarer had to do then was lead a low diamond to the ace and to claim a proved finesse on the way back. To "guess" about the diamond queen was the height of folly.

Stage Notes

"Angel Street," Patrick Hamilton's successful melodrama, will open at the Harris theater on March 15, following the extended run of "The Corn Is Green," which closes March 14. In the Chicago company are Sylvia Sidney, Victor Jory, Ernest Cossart, Judy Parrish, and Elfrida Derwent.

Little Theater of Western Springs will present Sydney Kingsley's "The World We Make" on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday under the direction of Mary Cattell at the Village club, Western Springs.

Reading was the whole of Abraham Lincoln's education. As a boy, he said: "My best friend is the man who'll git me a book I ain't read."

Where did he get his ideas about SLAVERY?

THE neighbors all said he read too much.

He was an industrious boy—a hard worker in the field. It was a pity, they said, he wasted so much time over books.

He would read late into the night, any book he could lay hold of. Who knows what thoughts galloped through his mind? Or from what page, in his midnight reading before the dying fire, came the first inspiration for those words:

"A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this Government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free."

READING was the whole of Abraham Lincoln's education. All the schooling he ever had amounted to not more than a year.

Today, no less than in Lincoln's time, the habit of reading is democracy's greatest, most powerful ally.

On a vaster scale than any other publication in America—THE AMERICAN WEEKLY, the magazine distributed from coast to coast through 20 great Sunday newspapers, has fostered and encouraged and fixed this habit of reading among the people.

It has done this by developing an editorial technique more far-reaching in its influence than many inventions that have been patented.

Through this remarkable editorial technique—THE AMERICAN WEEKLY brings the world of thought and imagination within the grasp of millions.

It gives honest recognition to the hunger for romance, adventure, sensation, excitement, in millions of lives. Its stories from real life about love, crime, intrigue and emotional adventure bring color and glamor to multitudes of hard-driven humanity.

It tells, in simple language, the splendid truths of science, history, biography, art, religion, making them fascinating and memorable to all types of minds.

It is in this way and through this means that THE AMERICAN WEEKLY has become the reading habit of more than 7,300,000 American families. Begun on Sunday, when the whole family is at home and at leisure, it continues to be read right along through the week, by every member of the household who is old enough to read at all.

The national advertiser who associates his product with such an institution is tying it up with the greatest known force in advertising. He is making his advertising message, like the rest of THE AMERICAN WEEKLY, the reading habit of more than 7,300,000 American families.

THE BIGGEST BUY IN ADVERTISING

A cycle of 13 BIG COLOR PAGES in The American Weekly at $18,000 each, or a total of $234,000 (less 4% discount), to run every fourth week throughout a year, represents the greatest consumer and dealer force in the entire field of advertising.

TEXAS PICKS MIGHTY GOLDEN GLOVES TEAM

BOWLERS: FREE TRIBUNE SCHOOL TO OPEN MARCH 2

ANDY VARIPAPA, NATIONAL STAR, IS IN CHARGE

Plan Courses for Three Centers.

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

Andy Varipapa.

Last fall THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE introduced the National All-Star bowling tournament, an event exclusively for the big names of the game of American ten pins.

Now THE TRIBUNE is ready to introduce to Chicagoland a program for the beginner in bowling, or for the man or woman who has followed the trial and error method for years and never advanced beyond the beginner stage on the score sheet—or even for the would-be bowler who thus far has lacked the courage to visit a bowling center for fear of rolling the ball in the gutter and being laughed at.

In short, it is to introduce The Chicago Tribune Bowling School, and as its teacher the nation's outstanding instructor in the sport, Andy Varipapa.

School Opens March 2.

The school is to open on Monday, March 2, at Ted Lyons' recreation, 71st street and Jeffery avenue. Then it will move to the Congress Arcade, 2047 North Milwaukee avenue, and next to one of the north side's most popular centers, the Lawrence Bowl, at 1820 Lawrence avenue. Andy will teach at Lyons for three successive days. He will be at Congress Arcade Thursday, March 5, and at Lawrence Bowl on Friday and Saturday, March 6 and 7, and on Monday, March 9.

The entire program will be linked with the Hale America movement in the civilian defense physical fitness drive. This program, as explained yesterday by Jack M. Willem, national coördinator of bowling, seeks to emphasize relaxation and recreation for the individual. It will encourage instruction as an essential part of the program. As evidence of the tie-up, Varipapa will wear the Hale America shield and in his lectures will stress the need of a healthier and thus better prepared America.

Instruction in THE TRIBUNE's Bowling School will be free. The pupils will be the group of bowlers, men, women, and high school students who are occupying the alleys when Andy introduces his course, at either 1:30 or 2 o'clock each day. Those bowlers simply will pay for their lines, just as they would were Andy not there.

Will Study Form.

Varipapa will open with a short lecture, explaining the fundamentals of the game—pointing out, among other instructions, that the successful bowler should take four or more steps in making his delivery. Then the bowlers will start rolling their lines and Andy will roam back and forth along the approaches, studying the form of the individuals and explaining the means by which faults may be corrected. He will remain for three or more hours—for as long as is necessary to give each bowler individual attention.

And the quality of the instruction? It will come from the man generally recognized by the bowling fraternity—proprietors and bowlers alike—as the nation's outstanding teacher. Ned Day, national match game champion, lists Andy as the best among bowling instructors and Chicago's Joe Wilman goes along with him.

Has Other Duties, Too.

That is not the full extent of Varipapa's day's work at an establishment, however. He returns in the evening and, after leagues have completed their play, bowls one game matches with whomever the management chooses to have him face. Then as the windup he gives his exhibition of trick shots which is recognized as easily the finest performed by any bowler—shots which have been employed in eight movies Andy has made.

Varipapa will be in Chicago for an indefinite period. He will teach in centers on all sides of the city and probably in the suburbs—wherever arrangements are made by his manager, E. L. [Hank] Shurmur. His program has improved the game of thousands of bowlers in other cities, among them Detroit, where he has taught close to 60 days this season after having been there 56 days last year.

Guard Watch.

Entombed in a vault of darkness, cropped by a cap of sky:
I lonely keep my vigil on a wooded trestle high.
The river laps its challenge to the sullenness of night
As a lone duck spirals upward in a frightened, quacking flight.
The grip on my rifle tightens to the snap of a twig nearby
A chill thru my body passing, I creep from tie to tie.
Tensely I crouch in the darkness, straining to clear the night,
Peering along the barrel over the blackened rifle sight—
I wait an hour long minute for a further sound or sight,
But only the river answers with its rolling liquid might.
My heart pumps the ice from my body and my rifle's slung in place
When the moon's fingered benediction rises over the mountain's face.
Like the darkness my fears are shattered by the lancing moon beam's thrust.
I finger a coin of my country that tells where to place my trust.

CHARLEY GILBERT TELLS CUBS HIS ANKLE IS STRONG

Joins Squad of 22 to Leave for Catalina Tonight.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Charley Gilbert, the soft spoken youngster from New Orleans, was the big answer man yesterday as another group of Cubs came into town for tonight's dash to the Pacific coast for spring training.

Every one wanted to know about the broken left ankle Charley suffered in Montreal last May four days after he had become property of the Cubs in the deal for Billy Herman. Gilbert expressed confidence that the member was as good as new. If it is, Manager Jim Wilson believes the 22 year old speedster will show the National league a lot of center fielding.

Played Lots of Golf.

"I played golf on an average of five times a week," said Charley. "On some days I played as many as 36 holes. This is just what I needed to strengthen the ankle and I'm sure it will give me no trouble."

He suffered the injury when he stopped quickly to avoid running into the outfield wall in Montreal. He heard the bone pop and thought at the time it was broken. But after X-rays, he was told he had a sprain. Later, the diagnosis was changed.

Bob Bowman, the right hander who came to the Cubs in the Hank Leiber deal, also showed up yesterday. Other arrivals were Walter Lanfranconi, rookie pitcher from Toronto, and Russell Meers, a left hander who won 16 and lost 5 for Nashville last season.

He Likes Cubs.

In his pure mountaineeer accent, Bowman, whose home is in Montcalm, W. Va., said he was glad to exchange uniforms.

"I've always been crazy about playing for the Cubs," he drawled, "and I've always wanted to go to California, too."

Reminded there are supposed to be mines strung in the channel from the California mainland to Catalina Island, the Cubs' training base, Bowman quipped:

"I'm not afraid. We've got mines in West Virginia, too—on top of the ground."

After relaxing by hunting and golfing, Bob took a laborer's job in a coal mine this winter with the idea of building himself up and raised his weight, good legitimate poundage, to 172 from 165.

Will Leave Tonight.

Bowman said he was sure he would win for the Cubs. He maintioned that during one two-month stretch of the 1941 season, he was called upon to pitch only one inning by the then Giant manager, Bill Terry. Bob hopes for steady employment and believes it will make him more effective. He had a reunion with Ken Raffensberger, Cub southpaw. They were roommates in 1938 at Rochester in the International league.

The squad of 22 will leave on the City of Los Angeles streamliner out of the North Western station this evening.

The 6:15 getaway time will be delayed a few minutes while the players are interviewed at the station by Bob Elson over station W-G-N.

Again Comes Corona from the Great Southwest!

Familiar to Tournament of Champions fans is sharp hitting Morris Corona, who will come to Chicago next week for the third consecutive year as a Texas Golden Gloves champion. A welterweight the last two seasons, Corona has trained down to the lightweight class and will be one of the favorites in that division when the three nights of slugging begin next Monday night in the Stadium. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

SERVO BATTERS LEW JENKINS IN 10 ROUND FIGHT

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 17 (AP).—Taking one of the worst beatings in his career, Lew Jenkins' hopes of regaining the lightweight boxing championship suffered a severe setback tonight when Marty Servo punched out a decisive 10 round decision over the ex-title holder before 8,000 in the Arena.

Jenkins, stung with a left to the body soon after the opening bell, was on the defensive thruout. Only his good condition kept him from being knocked out.

Round after round Jenkins was backed into the ropes and staggered from lefts to the head and hard rights to the body, but only in the seventh did he go down. He was floored by a particularly savage left and crumpled in a heap in a corner with his legs buckled under him. He took a count of nine, but managed to get up and go the distance.

ANGOTT CLAIMS SUSPECTS MADE HIM DRIVE CAR

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 17 (AP).—Described by Police Capt. Frank T. McQuaide as apparently the victim of a series of circumstances, Sammy Angott, world lightweight boxing champion, was questioned tonight about his association with two men suspected of robbing the Stanley theater here yesterday of $7,537.

"Sammy has admitted he was called Monday by the two men whom he met last December in New York thru his manager, Charles Jones, and that he drove them from Pittsburgh to Washington, Pa.," said McQuaide.

"Angott also says he was forced by them to accept $75 for the ride against his wishes. He says his wife sent the money to police at Akron, O."

The suspects, identified by Detective Inspector Walter Monaghan as Vincent Delucia, 48 years old, and Freddie Bucknell, alias Brownell, both of New York, were arrested in an Akron hotel after a woman complained they had annoyed her.

War May Prove Boon to Many Private Golf Clubs Near City

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Those Chicago private golf clubs located near public transportation lines are feeling right optimistic about their membership problems for this 1942 season, a canvass of several of them revealed yesterday. The new hazard of rubber priorities, as particularly related to automobile tires, may well prove, in the opinion of several new presidents and veteran members, to be a blessing in disguise for those clubs fortunate enough to be situated within walking distance of steam railroads and suburban electric lines.

Nearly every club queried admitted a number of resignations, but these were to be expected, it was pointed out, because of retrenchment in the matter of personal expenses in many cases. It was the consensus of opinion gathered yesterday that the imminence of March 15 and that little transaction with Uncle Sam undoubtedly caused a number of resignations.

Most presidents anticipate a considerable number of rejoinings once the income tax filing date is passed, many of those who dropped out having indicated that they plan to return once they balance their books.

Midlothian Very Much Alive.

Another interesting divot from yesterday's survey revealed that the rumor of the alleged demise of one of the town's oldest and best clubs has been greatly exaggerated. That would be Midlothian, which is very much alive, altho it has trimmed its sails against the economic uncertainties that are bound to be found in the coming season.

Thomas G. McMahon of Skokie, newly elected president of the Chicago District Golf association, pointed out that a 10 per cent turnover in memberships has been the rule, rather than the exception, for the last several years. For instance, it was not unusual, prior to the war, for a club with 300 members to lose 30, most of whom were replaced before the season's end. Mr. McMahon plans a questionnaire on the problems arising from the war, and has called a meeting of all CDGA club presidents for the night of March 3 in the La Salle hotel.

Trains to Serve Many.

Among the private clubs which are hopeful of better membership pictures because of their availability by rail are Olympia Fields, Flossmoor, Calumet, Idlewild, and Ravisloe, all served by the Illinois Central electric; Bob o. Link, Exmoor, and Skokie, within easy walking distance of the Chicago and North Western railroad and the North Shore electric lines, and Glen Oak, which has an Aurora and Elgin stop adjacent to its eighth fairway.

Of the clubs which are not so fortunate in public transportation proximity, Butterfield, Medinah, and Killdeer are three that can be named. Officials of the latter two could not be contacted yesterday, but John Gavin of Butterfield, a member of the CDGA's board, said that there has been no appreciable falling off in memberships because of the automobile situation.

Bob O' Link Has Increase.

Butterfield, he pointed out, has seldom accepted new members at this time of the year, but indications are that new ones are ready to join. Old members, he said, have been coming out on recent good Sundays, indicating an enthusiasm to get out and whack that ball. The ball, in fact, is causing more worry at the beautiful 27 hole layout than the auto, the

CORONA AWAITS THIRD START IN CHICAGO SHOW

Out of Town Bouts

THREE out of town Golden Gloves centers will pick their champions tonight. Three others will hold semi-finals. The schedule for this evening follows:

Cedar Rapids Gazette finals.
Omaha World-Herald finals.
Rockford Morning Star finals.
Springfield State Register semi-finals.
Streator Times-Press semi-finals.

Another strong team is coming up from Texas to fight for Golden Gloves in the Tournament of Champions next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday in the Stadium. Thru a hail of punches eight boys smashed their way to sectional titles in a state-wide tournament which was climaxed by the finals in Fort Worth Monday night.

Morris Corona, veteran of two previous Golden Gloves tournaments, will be back again with the prestige he acquired in beating his New York opponent in last season's intercity matches. In both of his previous attempts at Golden Gloves titles Morris was defeated by the boy who eventually went on to the championship. George Horne did it last season and Savior Canadeo in 1940.

Morris Is a Lightweight.

This time Morris has dropped into the 135 pound class. He had been campaigning previously in the welterweight division, but he was just on the boundary line and most of his opponents had quite a weight advantage over him. Among the lightweights his flying fists are expected to cause havoc.

In addition to Corona, Fort Worth will send two other veterans—José Andres, a flyweight, and Arlo Roye, a featherweight. The strength of the team is indicated by the fact that Eddie Russey, who had won two previous sectional titles, was beaten this time by Marvin Bryant of Dallas, who, thruout the tournament, had shown tremendous hitting power. Bryant is a welterweight.

Here's a Fightin' Corporal.

Fort Worth is equally as proud of its newcomers as it is of its veterans. The most sensational of these is reported to be Jim Phillips, a corporal from Camp Bowie. Fighting in the heavyweight class, Phillips chopped down an opponent who weighed 265 pounds and was 6 feet 6 inches tall.

The other Fort Worth champions are Hubert Gray, bantamweight; Eli Katich, middleweight, and Tom Attra, light heavyweight.

The Fort Worth finals drew a crowd of 6,500 cheering spectators. This event brought together the best amateur boxers from the entire state of Texas. They had earned their right to compete in Fort Worth by punching their way thru a series of preliminaries held in many other cities. The fact that Corona comes from Port Arthur, away down on the Gulf of Mexico, gives an idea of the scope of this tournament.

From Gulf to Canada!

On the same night that a boy from the gulf coast was earning the right to fight next week in the Tournament of Champions, another group of boxers from an area that reaches to the Canadian border were slugging in Minneapolis for Golden Gloves championships in that section. One defending champion, Jackie Graves of Albert Lea, Minn., came thru. In the bantamweight finals he beat last season's flyweight title holder, Norman Mastrian.

Fort Worth and Minneapolis are just two of the 36 out of town centers from which fighters are drawn for the Tournament of Champions. The competition in this vast area will be concluded within the next few days. Then all of the winners will head for Chicago to put on boxing's biggest show.

The Champions Are Coming to Town

The best amateur boxers from all of the huge Golden Gloves territory will march on Chicago to fight in the Tournament of Champions next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. There's still opportunity to get good seats for this big show. Just drop in at either of the Tribune's Public Service offices:

1 South Dearborn Street, 9 A. M. to 7 P. M.
Tribune Tower Lobby, 9 A. M. to 5:30 P. M.

TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS, Feb. 23 and 24—50 cents, 75 cents, and $1.10. (No more mail orders).

TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS, third night, Feb. 25—75 cents, $1.10, and $1.65. (No more mail orders).

TOURNAMENT FINALS, March 6—$1.10, $1.65, $2.20, and $3.30. Mail orders accepted. Make checks payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

BOB WHITES PULL SLEEPER PLAY ON UNWARY HUNTERS

Some Mississippi Birds Refuse to Flush.

BY BOB BECKER.

If a northern quail hunter goes into Grenada county, Mississippi, to hunt quail as we did a few days ago he'd better keep the word "sleeper" in mind, because sometime during a hunt a southern sportsman in the party may call out, "Look out for the sleepers." A Bob White that is called a "sleeper" is one that refuses to rise when the rest of the covey flushes and is shot at by a hunter.

Sometimes one, two or even more of the birds will "stick," as the hunter phrases it. We have gotten many shots at these birds that stay behind the covey rise on hunts in Florida and Georgia, but we never heard them called "sleepers" until we hunted with F. F. Dearman, director of the Mississippi game and fish commission, on our recent trip to that state.

Arrange Team Matches.

Dearman, an ardent quail hunter and good shot, joined our Bob White expedition for one day. After lunch in the field in the heart of the big Dubard plantation west of Grenada, a little team competition in quail hunting was arranged with Stan Schoff of Chicago and Bob Waller of Columbus, Miss., choosing their squad against Dearman, Skeet Futhy, a Mississippi warden, and us. Our party had a first line of offense consisting of Blackie, a wide going pointer, and two setters named Dan and Pal.

We were riding thru the brown sage grass in a beautiful open tract of the Dubard plantation talking with Dearman about his beneficial state-wide program of planting permanent food and cover for quail when Futhy called "point." There was Blackie standing like a living canine statue at the edge of a patch of sage grass.

He Encounters Sleepers.

By the time we got there the birds had moved ahead and scattered. Dearman, well over on our right, flushed them. They rose from a small stand of oaks out of range for us but right for Dearman. He got in one very nice angling shot before they disappeared and made a double on two cock birds. We didn't get a chance on a single bird. But we rushed ahead hoping for a straggler that may have stayed behind, a Mississippi "sleeper." Our hunch was right.

Two Bob Whites [very much in a hurry] roared out of the scrub oaks and sailed toward Dearman on the same line of flight taken by the rest of the covey. It flashed thru our mind that our partner could bag one of these birds so we picked the second quail and dropped it. Then we waited for Dearman's 20 gauge to sound off. Very busy with a dog retrieving his double Dearman didn't see this bird in time. But from that time on until near sundown both of us were on the lookout for "sleepers" in every covey.

Dorothy Goos, eastern senior champion, arrived from New York, ready to take part in a spirited rivalry with Chicago's Joan Mitchell, who took the corresponding title in the recent midwestern meet. Both of these girls are in the junior division for the national event. With Roberta Jenks of Boston, Caroline Brandt of Cleveland and Marcella May of San Francisco also trying for the same championship, it is considered likely that the contest in the ladies' junior division will be one of the most interesting of the entire meet.

Other Eastern Stars, Too.

Miss Jenks also arrived yesterday. This 17 year old girl was runner-up for the national junior last year and also was runner-up for the eastern senior.

Hildegarde Balmain of New York, who placed third in the recent eastern senior, and Betsy Nichols, runner-up in the national junior of 1940 will add to the brilliance of the contest among the junior ladies.

Girls of the Chicago area are expected to figure prominently in the meet. In addition to Miss Mitchell, there will be Barbara Raymond and Marilyn Telfer of Chicago. Joan Yocum, who was third in the midwest junior, will try for a national novice championship.

Chicago Pairs Teams Good.

Chicago is well supplied with contestants for the pair skating and dance events. The teams include Eddie Vander Bosche and Gail Sparks; Charles McCarthy and Dorothy Burkholder, and Dick Mershon and Barbara Lundgren.

CHRYSLER MEETS SPARTA SOCCER TEAM SUNDAY

The Chrysler soccer team of Detroit, Mich., which reached the finals last year of both the National open and Amateur cup series, will make an attempt next Sunday to stop the Sparta Ogden Dairy's winning streak when they oppose each other in the quarter finals of the national cup western series in the Sparta stadium, 51st street and Kostner avenue, at 3:15 p. m.

Delegates from 50 clubs of the International Soccer league will attend a special meeting tonight in the Atlantic hotel to arrange the schedules of the league's six divisions.

MAROON SWIM TEAM INVADES N. U. TONIGHT

Northwestern university's swimming team will meet Chicago in Patten pool tonight in the first of three home contests this week. The Wildcats will meet Minnesota on Friday and Wisconsin on Saturday.

Two evenly matched teams will face each other in tonight's meet. Chicago defeated Illinois, 51 to 33, a point better than the Northwestern margin against the Illini. The Maroons have lost to Minnesota and Iowa while the Wildcats were beaten by Michigan.

Northwestern will count on its strength in the crawl and diving to offset Chicago's superiority in the breast stroke and back stroke.

Chicago's strength is centered in its distance swimmers.

Tilden Beats Lindblom for Section Title

Tilden Tech's junior squad won the central section championship of the Public School league yesterday when it beat Lindblom, 47 to 25, in Tilden Tech gymnasium. It was Tilden Tech's seventh consecutive league triumph. It has only one game remaining on its schedule, meeting Harrison Tech next week before entering the league playoffs on March 2. John Perkovich, forward, starred for the champions against Lindblom, scoring 11 field goals and one free throw.

Manley, Kelly, and Farragut won three other central zone junior contests. Seymour Wolf scored seven field goals and seven free throws as Farragut triumphed over Du Sable, 47 to 43, on the Farragut court. Kelly registered its third victory of the season, defeating Gage Park, 42 to 14, on the latter's floor, and Monley conquered Phillips, 35 to 33, in Phillips' gymnasium. Lineups:

MARSHALL HIGH CAPTURES WEST DIVISION TITLE

City Champions Trounce Kelvyn Park, 45-15.

Marshall High school's junior basketball team, defending champion in the Public School league, took another step toward its second successive title yesterday. The west siders captured the west division championship by routing Kelvyn Park, 45 to 15, in Marshall gymnasium. It was Marshall's 53d consecutive victory and its eighth in league competition. Morrie Kaplan, forward, was Marshall's high scorer with six field goals and one free throw. Marshall will meet Medill in its final sectional game on Feb. 27.

Austin High's senior quintet remained in the running for a berth in the title playoffs by scoring its sixth triumph in eight games, defeating Washburne, 36 to 35, on the latter's floor. Austin led, 7 to 4, at the end of the first quarter, 19 to 16 at the half, and 31 to 29 at the conclusion of the third period. The victor's attack was paced by Forward Rosenberg, who contributed four field goals and eight free throws.

RED CROSS TO BENEFIT AGAIN THRU BOWLING

One Match Is Arranged, Another Planned.

One more Red Cross benefit bowling match, this one to involve the World Champion Vogel Brothers team, has been arranged, and another in which the Red Cross is to benefit conditionally announced. The first will bring the Vogels of Forest Park into competition with the Old Dutch team of Libertyville at Libertyville Saturday night, starting at 8 o'clock. In the second Joe Wilman and Tenpin Tattler Sammy Weinstein have agreed to donate their winnings—if any—in the Hyde Park Recreation's doubles sweepstakes March 14 to the Red Cross.

North Center Recreation, 4017 Lincoln avenue, will be the locale for tonight's Classic league matches. Blatz vs. Washington Shirts, National Bowling Equipment vs. Ambrosia, Monarchs vs. Schlitz, and Koenig Brau vs. Pabst are the pairings. . . . The Eden Insurance five shot 3,122, with a 1,139 game, for high score in the Beverly Major last week. Fred Fikejs of the Edens piled up a 727 total, Glenn Gersch was the league's second high with 699, including a 279 game, and Mike Straka got 698. . . . At Samuelson's tonight it's Mee & Ramme vs. Budweiser, Waggoners vs. Universal Musics, Goldammer Kids vs. Wallace Coals, and Michelobs vs. Fritzi Scheffs.

Lois Lindsay of Taft High has been named Chicago regional vice president in the American High School Bowling congress. Georgia Lydiatt of Berkeley, Cal., was chosen president in the national poll. AHSBC is to hold its first national telegraphic tournament April 4.

De Luxe Recreation, a second division team in the Greater Chicago Traveling league, fired a 2,984 total, high for the circuit, in winning two games from the Cascade Budweisers. Others winners, all of two games, were Playdium, Congress Arcade, Edelweiss, and Schlitz. . . . Chicago Recreation cut the Internationals' lead in the South End Traveling league to three games by winning a full set from Highland Recreation, while the Internationals were dropping two to Sandra Motors. Joe Schaffek's 673 was high.

members feeling more upset at the prospect of a shortage of same than they are of reaching the club.

Harry A. Newby, president of Bob o' Link, one of the two all-men's clubs in the district, was the only president to present concrete proof in a definite increase in membership. He cited 10 recent applications, with a possibility of six to follow, as against fewer resignations than in normal years.

Membership Rise Expected.

C. J. Thiebeault of Olympia Fields and David W. Lamoreaux of Flossmoor, south side neighboring presidents, said that while there has been no immediate evidence of a rise in membership because of the transportation convenience attached to each, they and their boards are convinced that there will be a rise.

Sam Rothermel, president of Skokie, said he feels that while such an increase of members, who would operate their cars at a minimum as long as they had an opportunity to take trains to their golf is definitely in prospect, that it is still too early to materialize at most clubs.

Midlothian Meets Problem.

Midlothian is prepared to meet the transportation problem, with special auto service from the Rock Island depot in the near-by town of Midlothian. The rumors that Midlothian was about to break up were definitely dispelled yesterday by Edward Burnell, president of the club.

"We merely adjusted our budget, trimming our financial sails to prevent ourselves from going head over heels into debt within this next season. We adjusted our budget, so that the dues are now $150, based on a membership of 170. At the last count, we had 182 members. We are going to concentrate all of our activities on golf, curtailing the social program. We plan to serve all our meals, including food that the average golfer will enjoy, in the grill above the locker room. Present plans call for the discontinuance of service in the main dining room. We pride ourselves on being in good financial shape. We liquidated all of our loans last year, and our bonded indebtedness is only about $27,500. And that is all in the members' hands, based on an annual $20 assessment per member."

FORT SHERIDAN IS BEATEN, 52 TO 37, BY LAKE FOREST

Fort Sheridan's basketball team last night suffered its fourth consecutive defeat at the hands of Lake Forest college, 52 to 37, on the latter's court. Lake Forest led, 26 to 14, at the end of the first half. Hugh Slugg, forward, led the Lake Forest attack with six field goals and one free throw.

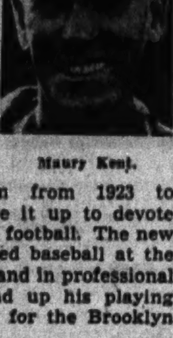
Kent Takes Over Baseball Post at N. U.

Maury Kent, a member of Northwestern university's athletic staff since 1922, has been appointed head baseball coach, K. L. Wilson, athletic director, announced yesterday. Kent succeeds Stan Klores, who resigned to enter the navy.



Maury Kent.

Kent, who has been freshman football coach for a number of years, coached the baseball team from 1923 to 1928, when he gave it up to devote his full attention to football. The new Wildcat coach played baseball at the University of Iowa and in professional baseball. He wound up his playing career as a pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

After retiring from baseball Kent entered the coaching field and served at Wisconsin and Iowa State before coming to Northwestern.

Indoor practice will start this week at New Trier High school. The Wildcats have canceled their annual southern training trip and will play instead a series of games with service teams and smaller colleges before opening their Big Ten season against Chicago on April 17.

Bruins to Meet Sheboygan Five on Cicero Court

It's win or be counted out of the National Basketball league playoffs for the Chicago Bruins as they meet the Sheboygan Redskins tonight in a contest in Cicero Stadium, 19th street and 52d avenue. Two CYO senior tournament games will precede the Bruins-Redskins contest, St. Anselm's playing Five Holy Martyrs at 7 p. m. and St. Leo meeting St. Stanislaus B. and M. at 8 o'clock.

The Bruins have a fighting chance to continue in the battle for playoff berths. Other teams still in the contention are Sheboygan and Indianapolis. In order to do this the Chicagoans must win all of their five remaining games.

Kotz Leads, Graham 2d in Big 10 Scoring

Johnny Kotz of Wisconsin, with 148 points scored, leads Western conference basketball players by 18 or more points with two-thirds of the Big Ten's 15 game schedule completed, records which follow last week-end's competition show. Kotz has scored 60 field goals and 28 free throws, while Otto Graham of Northwestern, who holds the runner-up position with 130 points, has made 47 baskets and 36 free throws. Three points back of Graham is Forrest Sprowl of Purdue, with 55 field goals and 17 free throws. The leaders:

Ali Baba Back —All Ready for Ole Olson

Ali Baba, heavyweight wrestler, who has not appeared in Chicago since defeating Fred Grubmier four years ago, will be back tonight, in the windup bout of a mat card in Rainbo Fronton, Lawrence avenue and Clark street. His opponent will be Ole Olson of Milwaukee. Supporting matches will bring together Seeli Samara and Jack Conley, Charles [Gorilla] Grubmyer and Jimmy Lee, Pete Schu and Ken Fenlon, and Ned Taylor and Stan Zeeman.

Tito Taylor, south side welterweight, yesterday was matched to meet Frankie Gilmore of Cincinnati in an eight round fight in Midway arena Friday. An additional contest of eight rounds involves Hezzie Williams, 1941 Chicagoland Golden Gloves light heavyweight champion, and Ira Hughes of Pittsburgh. Four round encounters will bring into action Gene Spencer, South Chicago lightweight, and Sam Scully; Armand Sicilia, Springfield, Ill., featherweight, and Jimmy Santora and Bill Parsons, Danville, Ill., lightweight, and Willie Jones.

Marcellina [K. O.] Borrado, Louisville 133 pound fighter, yesterday was signed to meet Harry Teaney of Cleveland in a 10 round match in the Coliseum Feb. 27. It will serve as a semi-windup to a 10 round engagement between Fritzie Zivic, former welterweight champion, and Tony Motisi of the Catholic Youth organization.

HAWKS TO OPEN THREE-GAME TRIP TOMORROW NIGHT

The recently ambitious Blackhawks, training their sights on a spot among the leaders in the National Hockey league, hope to make some medicine in the three game road trip that opens tomorrow night with a battle against the Red Wings in Detroit.

The Hawks and Wings have won three apiece in their series this season, but the Chicagoans appear to have the better club now on the basis of recent performances. After the contest in Detroit's Olympia, the Hawks move on to Montreal, where they battle the Canadiens Saturday. Then they face the league leading—but of late, floundering—Rangers in New York Sunday.

The Hawks' 43 points put them four points behind the crippled Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs who are tied for second place, and six points back of the Rangers.

MONTREAL DEALS RANGERS FOURTH STRAIGHT DEFEAT

Wins 2 to 1; Gains in Race for Play-off Spot.

New York, Feb. 17 (AP).—Montreal's Canadiens vastly improved their chance of a National Hockey league playoff berth tonight by scoring a 2 to 1 overtime victory over the slipping league leaders, the New York Rangers, who lost their fourth straight game.

The Montreal victory, spoiling the Ott Heller night program, left the Canadiens only half a game behind the Detroit Red Wings and Brooklyn Americans, who are tied for fifth place.

But the kid line got back to start the overtime period—and promptly won the game. At the face-off it shot in and over the Heller-Pratt defense and passed back and forth quickly until Buddy O'Connor was in scoring position. His low shot gave Goalie Jim Henry no chance. Both Heffernan and Gerry drew assists.

UNION MEMBERS CHARGE $600,000 IN DUES VANISH

Gov. Lehman Orders Probe of N. Y. Hod Carriers.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 17 [Special].—Acting on charges filed by union members, including an allegation that $600,000 in dues collected had dwindled to $120, Gov. Herbert Lehman today ordered the attorney general to conduct an investigation into alleged embezzlement and extortion by hod carriers, local No. 17, and its parent, the International Hod Carriers, Builders and Common Laborers union [AFL].

The governor thus stepped into a complicated labor union tangle involving union officials who bossed 5,000 workers on the 300 million dollar Delaware water supply project for New York City.

The governor acted on the complaint of a committee of 23 members of local No. 17. The governor directed Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr. to supersede district attorneys of Orange and Ulster counties.

Two Prosecutors Superseded.

District Attorney Henry Hirschberg of Orange county is disqualified to conduct the criminal proceedings, the governor said, because he represented local No. 17 as its attorney in the civil proceedings prior to the filing of criminal charges.

In view of the fact that the international union of the hod carriers, headed by Joseph V. Moreschi of Chicago, has its office in New York, District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of New York county is expected to coöperate in the probe.

The inquiry may cover as many as seven counties. Its implications are broad because it involves government action in a closed shop job, with union officials charged with depriving men of the right to work because they seek a union accounting.

Prosecutor Under Fire.

The committee of local No. 23, headed by Frederick W. Dusing, directed its complaint mainly at Samuel Nuzzo, once business agent of the union; Moreschi, James Bove, vice president of the international union, and also at District Attorney Hirschberg, who still is counsel to the group which local No. 17 has ousted from control.

The complaint charges that the accused union officials took in $600,000 in dues, voted themselves bonuses and pay raises, and, while expenditures should not have been more than $190,000, including $100,000 paid to the international union, only $120 of the $600,000 remains.

The members of the committee of 23 declared that at one time or another all were blacklisted or discharged because of their complaints against the way the union was being run, and it was impossible to work on the water supply project without being a member in good standing in the union because of the closed shop clause.

Lack of Franchise Charged.

Local No. 17 was reorganized in 1936 for the specific purpose of taking in the men working on the Delaware aqueduct project. Its last election, prior to a lawsuit settled in February of this year, was in 1937, despite a requirement in the constitution for annual elections.

The complaint recalled also that there had been no election held in the international union, headed by Moreschi, since 1911. It also reviewed charges of conspiracy between Nuzzo and contractors, in connection with working conditions.

MORESCHI OUT OF TOWN.

Joseph Moreschi could not be reached in Chicago last night. At the home of his son, John, it was said that Moreschi was out of town.

TRY TO IDENTIFY AMNESIA VICTIM, A GIRL ABOUT 20

Central police were attempting last night to determine the identity of a girl amnesia victim in her early twenties. The girl, who was wearing high heeled tap dancing slippers with metal plates on the soles, was taken into custody after she attempted to charge a blouse in a loop department store and then said she could not remember her name. She is about 5 feet 5 inches tall, and weighs 130 pounds. Her hair is brown. She was wearing a white woolen cap with a tassel, a green skirt, a striped blouse, and a black wool coat with a velvet yoke.

Can't Recall Swallowing Pin Found in Appendix

Surgeons at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, found a two inch bead headed pin yesterday in the appendix of Edward P. Kubiak, 25 years old, 602 Walnut avenue, Elgin. Kubiak could not recall when he swallowed the pin and the members of the family also were unable to explain the oddity.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Harriette G. Bunch.

Mrs. Harriette G. Bunch, chairman of the literature study groups and a member of the board of managers of the Chicago Woman's club, died yesterday in her home at 6558 Minerva avenue after a brief illness. She was born in New York state 75 years ago and had lived in Chicago since 1890. Mrs. Bunch had refused the presidency of the woman's club many times, and in 1940 was made a perpetual member in token of her 25 years of service. In 1922 she was head of a committee which organized the South Side Child Guidance center. Surviving are her husband, Richard H. Bunch, a retired businessman, and a daughter, Miss Alma L. Bunch. Services will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 4227 Cottage Grove avenue with burial in Oak Woods cemetery.

John Klingelhofer.

John Klingelhofer, 77 years old, a retired hay and grain dealer, was fatally injured yesterday in a fall in the yard of his home at 1510 North Lotus avenue. Mr. Klingelhofer, born in Germany, had lived in Chicago for more than 50 years and for 20 years operated a store at Chicago and Milwaukee avenues. He is survived by two sons, Otto and John H. Kling, real estate men. Services will be held at 5350 North avenue at 2 p. m. Friday.

Frank E. Spengler.

Funeral services for Frank E. Spengler will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 4325 Armitage avenue. Mr. Spengler, a cost analyst and engineer for the Work Projects administration in North Chicago, died Monday night at his home, 524 Chestnut street, Waukegan. He was 49 years old. Surviving are his widow, Esther, two daughters, Shirley and Mrs. La Verne Lorenz, and a son, Frank E. Jr.

Martin J. Hogan.

Funeral services for Martin J. Hogan, 64 years old, 4815 North Kostner avenue, sanitary district employé and Democratic captain of the 5th precinct of the 39th ward, will be held at 10:30 a. m. today at St. Edward's church. Mr. Hogan died unexpectedly last Saturday. His widow, Alice, and a brother, James A., president of the Illinois Crushed Stone company, survive.

Victor H. Munnecke Sr.

Private services were held Monday for Victor H. Munnecke Sr., 67 years old, who had been prominent in the meat packing business until his retirement two years ago. Mr. Munnecke died Feb. 14. His home was at 9241 Pleasant avenue. He was a former vice president of Armour & Co., and later was president of P. Brennan company, another meat packing concern. Surviving are his widow, Alice Louise, and four sons, Wilbur C., Robert C., Richard A., and Victor H. Jr. Mr. Munnecke had served as president of the Englewood Hospital association and of the Beverly Country club.

James T. Considine.

James T. Considine, superintendent of yards for the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation in Gary, Ind., died yesterday in Mercy hospital in Gary. He was 63 years old. Mr. Considine, who lived at 477 Arthur street, was known as the "father of Gary athletics" because of the support he had given various athletic teams there. A resident of Gary for 31 years, he had been with Carnegie-Illinois and its predecessor company for 47 years. Surviving are three sons, three daughters, and three sisters. Services will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow in Holy Angels church, Gary, where he had been a trustee for 25 years.

Mrs. Bridget Henneberry.

Services for Mrs. Bridget Henneberry, widow of John Henneberry, a veteran of the Haymarket riot and member of the Chicago police department for more than 30 years, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in St. Laurence's church, 72d street and Dorchester avenue. Mrs. Henneberry died Monday in her home at 6813 Harper avenue of injuries suffered in a fall Thanksgiving day. Surviving are eight daughters, Anne, Mary, Margaret, Juel, Ella, Gertrude, Regina, and Bernice, and a son, John.

Witold Prusinowski.

Witold Prusinowski, organist for St. Adalbert's parish for 15 years until two years ago, died yesterday in Hines hospital. He was 50 years old and lived at 3002 West 40th place. Surviving are his widow, Carrie, and three daughters. Services will be held at 10 a. m. Friday in the church.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO; KENOSHA MAN IS KILLED

Peter Graber, 47 years old, of Kenosha, Wis., was killed yesterday when the automobile in which he was riding stalled on the Broadway crossing of the North Shore line tracks in North Chicago and was struck by a southbound passenger train. The driver of the car, Torney G. Sturgeon, 51, also of Kenosha, was taken to Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan, where physicians said his condition was serious.

Robert H. Hartshorn, 28, of Hebron, Ind., a Gary insurance broker, was killed and his wife, Helen, 26, was injured when their car, driven by Hartshorn, hit the rear of a stalled truck parked on highway 53, six miles northwest of Hebron. Mrs. Hartshorn, a Gary high school teacher, is in the Methodist hospital, Gary.

William A. Renick, 55, 15919 Marshfield avenue, Harvey, a roller man employed at the Acme Steel company in Riverdale, was killed last night when a Baltimore and Ohio freight train struck his automobile at 137th street and Acme road in the suburb.

In the 24 hours ended at 4 p. m. yesterday no automobile accident deaths were reported in Cook county. Since Jan. 1 112 persons have been killed by automobile in the county. Of these, 88 were killed in Chicago, where 2,793 were injured in the same period.

TWO HOSPITAL BANDITS LOSE NERVE; FLEE

Their own shaky nerves frustrated two masked bandits in an attempted holdup last night in the Westlake hospital on 12th avenue, Melrose Park. The two strode briskly into the lobby, herded half a dozen visitors to one side, then ordered Miss Edna Edmister, 330 North Austin boulevard, Oak Park, the office stenographer, to open the safe.

Miss Edmister said she didn't know the combination. The robbers waited a minute or two. Other visitors walked past, leaving the hospital. The sight of the departing visitors, whom they did not try to stop, apparently unnerved the bandits, and they backed out of the door.

Truck Driver, Ill, Found Electrocuted in Bathtub

Herman Haase, 50 years old, was found dead yesterday in a bathtub in his home at 5215 Byron street. He had been electrocuted when an extension cord from a light touched the water in the tub. Detective Thomas Doyle of the Jefferson Park police said he had been informed Haase had been ill and unable to work regularly. He was a truck driver.

REVIVED BY INHALATOR.

Miss Jerry Parker, 26 years old, 119 North Parkside avenue, was revived by an inhalator squad yesterday after she had been found semi-conscious in her gas filled apartment.

RETIRED BELT COMPANY HEAD DIES IN PLUNGE

Meyer Pollock, 56 years old, a retired leather goods manufacturer, leaped or fell to his death late yesterday from the bedroom of his apartment on the ninth floor of the Surf hotel at 501 Surf street.

Pollock had been ill for two and a half years. He returned 10 days ago from a hospital but remained in the care of a nurse. The nurse stepped out of the room for a short time yesterday. When she returned, Pollock's bed was empty and the window was open. She looked out and saw him lying in the concrete alley below.

Pollock's widow, Mrs. Beatrice Pollock, who was in the apartment at the time, was prostrated by the tragedy. Surviving with her are two daughters, Mrs. H. L. Davidson and Mrs. J. M. Berlow. Pollock was president of the Reliable Belt company for many years.

GEORGE OVERTON, PRINTING HOUSE PRESIDENT, DIES

George W. Overton, president of the Reuben H. Donnelley corporation, printing house, died Monday night while visiting in Pasadena, Cal., it was learned yesterday. Mr. Overton, who was spending the winter in Palm Springs, Cal., was 54 years old. He had been associated with the Chicago publishing firm for 26 years, and had been president of the company since 1929. He lived in Geneva, Ill. Surviving are his widow, Florence; a son, George Jr., and two daughters, Jean and Catherine. Funeral arrangements had not been announced late yesterday.

MEN IN SERVICE WILL RIDE FREE IN CARS, BUSES

Two Lines Comply with Green's Request.

Free street car and bus rides in Chicago for uniformed members of the nation's armed forces were assured yesterday by the managements of the surface lines and the motor coach company in response to appeals by Gov. Dwight H. Green. The free transportation will continue for the duration of the war. It will not apply to the "L" lines.

Free rides on the buses will be started Sunday, and on the surface lines as soon as authorization is granted by the Illinois Commerce commission. The bus company obtained the authorization yesterday. The surface lines will file their petition in a few days.

Must Pay in Rush Hours.

The free service on the buses will not be in effect during rush hours. Similar restrictions are expected to apply to free rides on street cars.

In rejecting Gov. Green's plea for free rides for service men, A. A. Sprague and Bernard J. Fallon, trustees for the elevated lines, said the company could not afford to grant free transportation to any one because of financial difficulties.

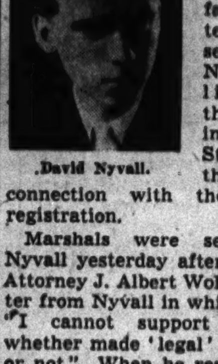
Gov. Green was told of the Surface lines' action yesterday in a telegram by Charles W. Chase, president.

"In Interest of Defense."

"The joint board of management and operation of the Chicago Surface lines, at their regular meeting held today," Chase wired, "voted unanimously to comply with your telegraphic request wherein you asked that we immediately prepare and file with the Illinois Commerce commission a formal petition covering transportation of uniformed men in the military and naval forces of the United States.

"Despite the loss of revenue, which is so sadly needed, the board of management and operation has unanimously directed compliance in the interest of national defense."

ARTIST ARRESTED FOR FAILURE TO SIGN FOR DRAFT



David Nyvall.

United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday ordered David R. Nyvall, 20 years old, 1460 East 57th street, an artist, held to the federal grand jury for failure to register for selective service Monday. Nyvall was believed to be the first person in the United States held on that charge in connection with the third draft registration.

Marshals were sent to arrest Nyvall yesterday after United States Attorney J. Albert Woll received a letter from Nyvall in which he declared, "I cannot support any murder, whether made 'legal' by government or not." When he reaffirmed his determination not to register, he was taken before Commissioner Walker.

Nyvall was accompanied to the commissioner's office by Robert Chino, 5646 Harper avenue, a Japanese who said he is an American citizen. Nyvall described Chino as "my adviser and friend." Chino was held for questioning by Woll.

Nyvall, a graduate of Hyde Park High school and a former student at De Paul university and the Art institute, is the son of David Nyvall, of 5450 Blackstone avenue, a music teacher at Chicago Teachers college.

Food Stamp Quiz

[Acme Telephoto.]
MRS. MARY ROCCARO.

New York, Feb. 17 [Special].—Mrs. Mary Roccaro, 26 years old, and her two brothers, proprietors of a hole in the wall grocery, were arrested today and charged with using their store as an outlet for more than $200,000 worth of stolen federal food stamps.

The brothers, James Fazzio, 29, and Joseph Fazzio, 23, were charged with receiving stolen goods.

Officials of the Surplus Marketing administration reported to police three months ago that four district offices had been rifled of half a million dollars' worth of food stamps. Detectives learned the Fazzios had cleared $100,000 worth of stamps thru three banks and had $112,500 awaiting Suplus Marketing administration approval. The sums were so out of line with the size of the store that an investigation was launched.

WARNS OF DRIVE FOR LICENSING QUACK HEALERS

A warning that quack healers and cultists are campaigning under cover of wartime confusion to obtain legal recognition and licenses to practice was sounded yesterday at the 38th annual congress on medical education and lincensure in the Palmer House. The meeting was under the auspices of the American Medical association's council on medical education and hospitals.

Dr. J. Earl McIntyre of Lansing, Mich., retiring president of the Federation of State Medical Boards of the United States, explained that there is a shortage of 10 per cent in the number of physicians available for civilian needs because of the war.

"Terrific pressure is being exerted by various groups and cults to have the bars let down and the cry of national defense is raised to confuse the issue," he said.

Dr. Walter E. Vest of Huntington, W. Va., president of his state's public health council, urged that full citizenship be required as a prerequisite to medical licensure. He cited laws and legal precedents to show that even in such callings as selling alcoholic liquors, the operation of pool and billiard halls, peddling and hawking and pawnbroking, full citizenship is demanded.

Suicide Verdict in Death of Accused Ex-Policeman

A coroner's jury decided yesterday that the death Monday of Edward R. Huber, 64 years old, retired police juvenile officer scheduled to go on trial on sex charges yesterday, was a suicide. Huber shot and killed himself in the basement of an undertaking establishment at 6311 North Clark street. Huber had been indicted on two sex charges involving several boys over whom he previously had charge as juvenile officer.

REMOVE THREAT OF TRUST SUITS AGAINST RAILS

ODT Orders Given Waiver by Biddle.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Transportation services will be permitted to pool their facilities for war purposes, upon authorization of the Office of Defense Transportation, without facing prosecution under the anti-trust laws, Attorney General Francis Biddle announced today.

He warned, however, against any attempts to establish transportation controls to create permanent monopolies under the guise of aid to the war effort while not actually doing so.

Many Feared Penalties.

Biddle's announcement was in the form of a letter to Joseph B. Eastman, director of the ODT, who had requested Biddle's views on the application of the anti-trust laws to coöperative actions of common carriers upon request of the ODT.

Many carriers and carrier associations have expressed apprehension that such coöperative action will subject them to the penalties of the anti-trust laws, according to Eastman's letter to Biddle.

"It is expected that whatever new functions they may perform, involving such matters as joint service, routings, diversions, embargoes, and the like, will be performed at the request or pursuant to the direction of this office, and this letter is limited to the latter situations," Eastman wrote Biddle.

Coupled With Warning.

"Acts done in compliance with the specific requests or directives made by the Office of Defense Transportation and approved by its general counsel in accordance with the procedure described in this letter will not be viewed by the department of justice as constituting a violation of the anti-trust laws and no prosecutions will be instituted for acts performed in good faith and within the fair intendment of instructions given by the ODT pursuant to this procedure," Biddle replied.

In a statement accompanying the release of the letters, Biddle said:

"The war effort will require joint action among carriers and the coöperation of every form of transpor-

WPB Lifts Ban on REA Power Line Project

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—The War Production board today granted the Brazos River Transmission Electric coöperative of Texas permission to complete construction of the main power line from 'Possum Kingdom dam to Garland, Tex., intended to serve factories producing tanks and airplanes.

The permission was given in an order which nevertheless questioned some of the statements submitted by officials of the coöperative, as to the extent of construction completed by Dec. 5. Effective on that date the government halted work on transmission lines less than 40 per cent completed, to save copper.

Signed by Knowlson.

"The purpose of the War Production board in making this disposition of your application," the WPB said in granting the permission "is to provide effective use of construction which is already under way, to afford the maximum utilization of all power facilities and at the same time conserve critical materials."

The order was signed by J. S. Knowlson, director of industry operations of WPB, who a week ago ordered all work on the Garland line suspended pending an investigation to determine whether the project was in compliance with the 40 per cent completion order.

Bars Several Spur Lines.

The order prohibited completion of approximately 330 miles of spur or branch lines and 15 substations. However, it did authorize completion of these portions of the coöperative's program:

A 66,000 volt line from 'Possum Kingdom [Morris Sheppard] dam to Garland; 66,000 volt line from junction with that line to Whitney; 33,000 volt line from Whitney to McGregor; hydroelectric plant substations at six points on the Garland-Whitney-McGregor lines.

COST OF LIVING RISES MORE FOR WAGE EARNERS

New York, Feb. 17 [Special].—Living costs for wage earners and lower salaried clerical workers increased from December to January in 67 cities, according to the national industrial conference board, a private business statistical survey. In the United States as a whole, the cost of living rose 1.4 per cent. Chicago showed a rise of 0.9 per cent.

The cost of living was higher in January than a year earlier in all 59 cities for which comparable figures are available, the average for the United States rising 9.9 per cent from January, 1941.

WPB EASES HURLEY MACHINE SUSPENSION ON PARTS DELIVERIES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—The War Production board today modified a suspension order against the Hurley Machine division of the Electric Household Utilities corporation, Chicago, to permit the company to deliver spare parts needed to repair its electric washing and ironing machines now in the hands of customers.

The suspension order, issued Feb. 6 on grounds the company exceeded its production quotas, prohibited the firm from delivering its product or any spare parts for them until Aug. 1.

WPB officials said the company had requested that the suspension be lifted, but that the board saw no reason to invalidate it.

Cuba Sets '42 Sugar Crop at 3.6 Million Long Tons

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 17.—President Fulgencio Batista today signed a decree fixing the maximum 1942 sugar crop at 3,600,000 long tons. The entire production has already been sold to the United States with the exception of 200,000 tons for local consumption and 65,000 tons for other markets. One-third of the crop will be produced in the form of molasses for war production.

Federal Life Payments and Assets Larger

L. D. Cavanaugh.

Increases in insurance in force and assets were reported at the annual stockholders and directors meetings yesterday of the Federal Life Insurance company, oldest legal reserve life insurance company in Chicago. L. D. Cavanaugh, president, announced that life insurance in force increased $4,735,228 during 1941 to a total of $81,902,094, while assets rose $792,912 to $18,777,466.

Payments to life policyholders and beneficiaries amounted to $1,391,975 and accident and health claim payments were $1,017,882. The company's income last year was $4,916,037 against disbursements of $4,149,304.

"The measure of an insurance company's service to the public," Cavanaugh told stockholders, "is not so much the assets it holds to meet future claims, as the money it pays out to meet current claims. It is interesting to note that payments to policyholders and beneficiaries during 1941 totaled $2,409,857, or an increase of $157,022 over 1940."

Cavanaugh reported that Federal Life has 36 per cent of its assets in government, municipal, industrial and utility bonds and cash. None of the bonds are in default, he said, and their amortized values at which they are carried are less than market values. He disclosed that an active real estate market last year resulted in the sale of a "considerable number" of properties acquired thru foreclosure during the depression years.

Federal Life was founded in 1900 by Col. Isaac Miller Hamilton, now chairman of the board.

SHIPS ON ORDER SHOW UPTURN OF 5 MILLION TONS DURING JANUARY

New York, Feb. 17 (AP).—J. Lewis Luckenbach, president of the American Bureau of Shipping, tonight reported a January gain of 763 ships of 5,049,020 gross tons on order or under construction in American shipyards. He said that on Feb. 1 there were 1,809 merchant ships of 11,511,690 tons building or under contract, compared with 1,046 vessels of 6,462,670 tons on Jan. 1. These figures, he said, did not include 52 ships being built for the British government by Todd Shipyards corporation.

COMBAT PLANES MOVE TO TOP OF PRIORITY LISTS

On Equal Basis with Tanks and Ships.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—Materials for combat planes were given the same top priority rating as materials for tanks and naval vessels in an order issued today by Donald M. Nelson, chief of the War Production board.

The order followed a conference last night with representatives of the air corps and the army and navy aviation board. Last week spokesmen for the aviation industry charged that without a top priority rating it could not deliver on President Roosevelt's request for 60,000 planes in 1942 and 125,000 planes in 1943.

Restricts Light Plane Sales.

The WPB today also limited sales of light aircraft, less than 500 horse power, and restricted the amount of aluminum that can be used in their production. The notice to manufacturers said that a large number of these light craft will be needed in the immediate future by the army, the navy, the civilian air patrol, the civilian pilot training program, and various state guard units.

Except to these and to other official agencies, all sales are prohibited except with specific approval of the WPB. The other agencies include lend-lease authorities, the maritime commission, the Panama canal, the coast and geodetic survey, the civil aeronautics authority, the national advisory committee for aeronautics, and purchasers specified in a delivery schedule approved by the joint aircraft committee.

Formula for Aluminum Restrictions.

The restrictions on use of aluminum in the manufacture of light aircraft do not apply to production for the above named specified purchasers.

In boosting the priority rating on materials for combat planes, Nelson said he was removing a production bottle neck which he described as psychological rather than concrete. He said that the plane factories have been allotted materials in accordance with needs, rgardless of the priority rating, but that the change in priorities will remove any umbrage felt by the aircraft industry.

Begin Survey Today to Find Junked Autos

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—A nation-wide survey of automobile graveyards will begin tomorrow in a move by the War Production board to reclaim scrap iron for armaments.

The announcement today by the bureau of industrial conservation of the WPB said that betwen 2 and 3 million tons of scrap is the goal. Between 3 and 4 million automobiles will be involved.

The announcement said that the nation's steel mills and foundries are faced with a shortage of approximately 6 million tons of scrap in the coming year.

2 or 3 Weeks' Task.

About 30,000 persons will be engaged in the graveyard survey, which will be completed in two or three weeks. Cities and suburban areas will be covered by the Work Projects administration. Rural areas will be checked by the department of agriculture thru its county agents.

The survey will list locations, names of owners, and the number of junks in each yard.

This graveyard directory, to be compiled in Washington, will be used in aiding the steel industry to buy the scrap. If the owners refuse a fair price—congressional committees have heard charges of hoarding—the WPB threatens to exercise its powers to confiscate.

Fair Offers Assured.

"Eighty of the larger users of scrap," read the announcement, "have been asked by WPB to make sure that dealers thru whom these companies normally buy scrap make fair offers for the contents of graveyards within economical transportation distance of the various steel plants."

A regular reporting procedure has been set up under which the potential buyers notify the bureau of the results of their visits to the graveyards.

PICK CHICAGOLAND CHIEF.

The Chicago office of the WPB's bureau of industrial conservation last night named Eugene L. Dunne director of the scrap supply survey of automobile "graveyards" in the Chicago steel producing area. The area includes Illinois north of Peoria, southern Wisconsin, and all of Iowa.

Discuss Price Ceilings on Non-Ferrous Castings

Problems resulting from the Office of Price Administration's informal ceiling on nonferrous castings prices will be discussed this afternoon by more than 400 representatives of the nonferrous foundry industry at a Chicago regional meeting in the Stevens hotel.

CHRYSLER CUTS DIVIDEND TO $1; PROFIT LARGER

Tax for Year Equal to $15 a Share.

K. T. Keller.

New York, Feb. 17 (AP).—Chrysler corporation directors today cut the dividend on the company's common stock to $1 a share from the $1.50 which was paid quarterly in 1941.

The dividend was reduced in the face of a gain in 1941 profits over the preceding year but the company explained in the preliminary report that the year's taxes amounted to $66,982,920, the equivalent of $15.39 a share on the capital stock. It also said that by government order production of civilian passenger cars stopped on last Jan. 31 and output of light trucks terminated Feb. 10.

Profit Tops 40 Millions.

Chrysler's 1941 net profit [including wholly owned subsidiaries] from United States operations was $40,114,419, equal to $9.22 a common share, against $37,802,279 or $8.69 a share in 1940. Sales totaled $888,366,410, compared with $744,561,239. K. T. Keller, Chrysler president, wrote stockholders:

"During 1941 we delivered war materials and munitions of one kind or another valued at $116,693,067 to the various services and agencies of the United States government and of other united governments and procured facilities for production for the United States government of $24,451,475.

Expanding Arms Capacity.

"When all of the facilities for the manufacture of war material for which we now either have orders in hand, or have been officially designated as a prospective source of supply for the government, are completed, our annual capacity for producing munitions will be in the neighborhood of 1¾ billion dollars a year at present prices.

"This is nearly three times our average annual sales during the last five years and considerably more than twice our greatest annual sale of peacetime products."

The Supervised Agency arrangement with the Trust Company takes a load off my shoulders

I've got more time now for my business!

And I'm getting the advice and help I've wanted for years

For men who wish to conserve their time for other enterprises . . . and for concerns whose investments warrant expert supervision and review . . . a Supervised Agency account with Chicago Title and Trust Company is in the nature of a revelation.

Under this plan, our staff of business specialists becomes your own. They watch the holdings, investments, and real estate which are your personal or company assets . . . and advise you on trends, movements, and conditions in their special fields. RENEWED DOUBTS ABOUT WAR HIT LEADING STOCKS

Trading Light as Market Lacks Animation.

New York, Feb. 17 (AP).—Renewed war doubts assailed the stock market today and, while pressure was light thruout, leading issues suffered their most severe losses in a week.

The list lacked rising animation at the start and, as bidders withdrew in many cases, prices retreated fractions to a point or more. At the worst a few "blue chips" were off better than 5. Prices improved slightly here and there in the final hour.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended with a net decline of .6 of a point at 36.5; largest setback since last Tuesday. Volume was negligible thruout and transfer for the full proceedings amounted to 389,100 shares compared with 376,180 the day before. It was another of the smallest aggregates since last June.

Singapore Disaster Discounted.

The consensus in the financial sector still was that the market had discounted to some extent the Singapore disaster and other allied reverses but the question arose as to whether repercussions from Japanese far Pacific conquests might yet have to be taken into account in adjusting speculative and investment portfolios. The inclination, consequently, was to conserve buying power pending a turn in the news tide.

Chrysler was off 1⅜ at 47½ and, after the close, directors voted a dividend of $1 on the common compared with $1.50 disbursed in the four previous quarters.

United Fruit, Air Reduction, du Pont, Dow Chemical, and Allied Chemical hit new lows for the year with recessions of 2 to 4 points.

Oils declined with Standard [N. J.] down 1⅛. Chilling this issue were more tanker sinkings and threats to the company's important refineries in the Dutch West Indies. Another handicap for the petroleum group was talk of substantial curtailment of oil products on the east coast, suggestions of nearby rationing to consumers and falling gasoline sales as automobile and tire shortages increased.

Turnover on the curb approximated 78,000 shares versus 71,000 yesterday.

CHICAGO VOLUME RISES.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange declined yesterday as trading volume increased moderately to 20,000 shares. Of 72 issues traded, 13 advanced, 31 declined, and 28 were unchanged. Volume leaders included Chicago corporation, 2,650 shares, closing at 1⅛, unchanged, and Commonwealth Edison, 1,450 shares, off ⅛ at 21⅛. In the final half hour Spiegel, Inc., advanced ⅛ over the New York close at 3⅝.

FOUNDRY FIRM CLEARS ARREARS ON SENIOR STOCK

Directors of the Central Foundry company yesterday cleared arrearages on $5 preferred stock with the declaration of two dividends on the issue. A payment of one share of common stock, valued by the directors at $10, will be made to cover the last quarter of 1937, all of 1938, and the first three quarters of 1939. A cash dividend of $12.50 will cover the last quarter of 1939, all of 1940 and 1941, and the first quarter of 1942.

ICKES SEEKS CUT IN EAST COAST OIL CONSUMPTION

Favors Directing Curb at Use of Gasoline.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—A 15 per cent curtailment in the consumption of petroleum products on the east coast was recommended today by Petroleum Coördinator Harold L. Ickes in testimony before an oil subcommittee of the house interstate commerce committee. Ickes said the curb should be directed at gasoline, "since 25 per cent of the motor fuel consumption today is nonessential."

Ickes testified the eastern states of New York and Pennsylvania and New England are confronted with a scarcity of heavy fuel oil required for war industries. He said supplies of light fuel oil, needed to heat homes, are shrinking and asserted that a cold spring would create a shortage.

Carrier Cargoes Shifted.

To combat the oil shortages, caused by tanker sinkings and by the transfer of tankers to other duties, Ickes said some of the gasoline carriers were being switched to heavy and light oil transportation. He said orders also are being drafted to convert industries from use of oil burners to use of coal burners.

Ickes announced he also was going to renew an application for priorities for construction of a 24 inch pipe line from Texas to New York. The Supply Priorities and Allocation board rejected such an application last fall. Ickes said construction could be completed in 90 days at a cost of between 80 and 90 million dollars. The capacity would be 350,000 barrels a day.

Ickes said he hoped a reduction of 15 per cent in gasoline consumption from now until April 1 can be effected on a voluntary basis. He said his office is considering the advisability of closing gasoline stations Sundays and between 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. nightly.

Ration System Discussed.

"Of course," Ickes said, "if the need for curtailment should extend to larger proportions an equitable distribution could be had only thru the systematic rationing to the consumer by coupon or other means, but the comparatively mild restriction which is suggested ought to be possible on a voluntary basis.

"I have discussed with Leon Henderson, as the administration of civilian supply, the question of a rationing system, should it become absolutely necessary that one be installed, and the staffs of our respective offices already have done much work in the perfection of a plan."

STEEL FOR SHOT AND BULLETS TO BE ALLOCATED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—In a move to halt overbuying and reduce excessive inventories, the War Production board today placed shot and bullet core steel under complete allocation control, making all deliveries after March 1 subject to government approval.

The allocation applies to steel for 20, 37, 40, 57, and 75 millimeter and three inch armor piercing and semi-armor piercing shot, and to .30 and .50 caliber bullet cores.

At the same time, the board restricted the use of Madagascar flake graphite to the manufacturer of crucibles for melting nonferrous metals. Such crucibles may be used only in war production, the order stipulated.

Start Clearing North State Site for New Food Mart

Wreckers have started clearing the site at 1206-12 North State street, 66 feet north of Division street, for a $35,000 building which has been leased for five years for an A. & P. supermart food store. The property fronting 78 feet, with a depth of 130 feet, on the west side of State, is owned by John Pierre Roche of Roche, Williams & Cunnynham, Inc., advertising. Designed by Jensen & Teutsch Architects, Inc., the new building will be one story, with limestone front. Completion is set for June 1.

PULLMAN SETS ASIDE 1,500 CAR RESERVE TO TRANSPORT SOLDIERS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—Testifying before the Interstate Commerce commission today on a request for a 10 per cent increase in sleeping and parlor car rates, D. A. Crawford, president of the Pullman company, disclosed that a fleet of 1,500 cars had been set aside for troop movement, and that on peak days the number needed might reach 2,900.

Crawford said there might be such a heavy demand for Pullman cars for troop movement that some facilities for civilian travel might be cut, but that thus far there had been no curtailment. The company has 7,000 cars, he said.

He disclosed also that the Association of American Railroads had suggested construction of special cars for troop movement. The Pullman company has submitted a design for a three-decker sleeping car which would accommodate 45 men, he said. Present cars have two decks and sleep about 30.

Crawford said that on the basis of 1941 operations, the proposed fare increase would total $6,165,000, and that the average increase would be less than 35 cents for three-fourths of Pullman passengers. He estimated the total increase in wages and pay roll taxes this year, on the basis of 1941 expenditures, at $6,024,000.

Anti-Trust Suit Postponed.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 17 (AP).—A special federal court postponed today until June 1 further proceedings in the government's anti-trust suit against the Pullman company because of defense work in which the company is engaged.

Argentine Butter to Be Sold in Chicago Early Next Week

Argentine butter is being brought into Chicago for the first time to compete with domestic production. A shipment of 8,000 boxes of 56 pounds each was being unloaded from a boat in New Orleans yesterday, dairy products dealers reported, and part of it is being shipped to Chicago. First cars are expected Monday or Tuesday.

The butter is priced to sell for 33¼ cents a pound in Chicago, or about 1 cent a pound less than Illinois, Wisconsin, and Iowa butter of similar grade. It is expected to grade 91 score, a fairly high grade butter.

Part of Cargo Sold in South.

Sale of the butter is being handled by Frank Collyer, Chicago produce broker. Collyer said last night part of the cargo had been sold in the south and he did not know how much would be shipped to Chicago.

Dairy products dealers say Argentine butter has been arriving in this country since last fall. They said lend-lease purchases of dairy products and the government's support of the butter market thru open market purchases of the Dairy Products Marketing association have held prices at such high levels to make imports of South American butter profitable.

Yesterday the DPMA purchased 162,288 pounds of fresh and storage butter in New York. The Agricultural Marketing service of the department of agriculture reported domestic butter was meeting strong competition on that market from Argentine butter which was available in large quantities.

Butter Prices Decline.

Butter prices on the Chicago Mercantile exchange declined .05 to .10 cent a pound, with closing sales of February contracts made at 33.20 cents. Wholesale butter prices were unchanged, with best grades selling at 35 to 35½ cents a pound.

Egg prices sagged, closing .10 to .20 cent lower, with February contracts at 31.90 cents a dozen. Wholesale prices were unsettled as government buyers lowered their prices for specials ¼ cent a dozen. Best grade eggs sold for 28 cents.

LOW COST INSURANCE DEMAND TO INCREASE, CHICAGO GROUP TOLD

Low cost insurance will be in heavier demand as individuals feel the pinch of rising taxes and living costs and two new policies designed to meet the requirement will be offered by Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, J. Roger Hull, vice president and manager of agencies, told a Chicago group yesterday.

J. Roger Hull.

A. E. Patterson.

Hull and Alexander E. Patterson, executive vice president, both of New York, addressed 125 of the company's field representatives, office managers, and executives at a meeting at the Hotel La Salle.

"People will not have as much surplus cash to buy life insurance, and emphasis will be on low cost protection," Hull said.

Patterson, active head of the company while Lewis W. Douglas, president, is absent on war duty, said the policies bought prior to the war have increased in value and importance because in many cases their terms are more liberal than can be obtained now.

CHICAGO SALES IN '41 NEAR PEAK LEVELS OF 1929

Chicago manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers sold nearly as much goods in 1941 as in the boom year of 1929, Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said yesterday. Total sales were estimated at 11 billion 700 million dollars, or approximately 7 per cent of the total trade in the United States last year.

"Sales in all lines of trade in 1941 compared with 8 billion 400 million dollars in combined sales in 1939, 6 billion 800 millions in 1935, 4 billion 800 millions in 1933, and 11 billion 900 millions in 1929," Lyon said.

Retail sales in 1941 of 2 billion 300 millions and manufacturers' sales of 4 billion 300 millions were larger than similar business in 1929, he observed. Wholesale trade of 5 billion 100 millions fell below the 1929 level.

Industrial sales reported only were for factories within the city limits, Lyon explained. For the Chicago industrial area total factory sales were estimated at 6 billion 400 millions in 1941.

NOMINATES AAA CHIEF RESERVE BOARD MEMBER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—President Roosevelt today nominated Rudolph M. Evans, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, to be a member of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve system, succeeding Chester C. Davis, also a former AAA administrator, who resigned from the board last year to become president of the Federal Reserve bank in St. Louis.

Evans is 51 years old and a native of Cedar Rapids, Ia. He became administrator of the AAA in 1938 and is also director of the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, the Commodity Credit corporation, and the Federal Crop Insurance corporation. He is a Democrat and served with the army engineer corps in France during the first World war.

Crude Oil Flow Lower in Second February Week

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 17 (AP).—Daily crude oil production for the United States declined 260,335 barrels to 4,071,060 for the week ended Feb. 14, the Oil and Gas Journal said today. Illinois production fell 31,905 to 339,140.

WELDERS STRIKE AT GULF PLANT BUILDING SHIPS

West Coast Walkout by Union Ended.

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 17 (AP).—Operations at the Gulf Shipbuilding corporation's shipyard at nearby Chickasaw were curtailed today when welders stayed away from their jobs in protest against union requirements.

This action came a few hours after welders at Tacoma, Wash., had ended a lengthy walkout brought on by a similar dispute. Fred Huddleston, secretary-treasurer of the United Brotherhood of Welders, Cutters and Helpers, an independent union, said approximately 800 men were out.

A spokesman for the welders said "the men have quit their jobs as a protest against requirements they carry membership cards in the American Federation of Labor." The management made no statement.

Agree to End Alcoa Tieup.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 17 (AP).—Settlement of a strike at the Detroit plant of the Aluminum Company of America, the second within 72 hours, was announced tonight by Victor C. Swearingen, state labor mediator. He said the agreement would be submitted at 10 a. m. tomorrow to the Aluminum Workers of America [CIO], and, if ratified, production would be resumed on the afternoon shift at 4 p. m.

"The work stoppages at the plant have seriously affected its output of aluminum needed in aircraft factories," the mediator said. He estimated the loss in work at 41,958 man hours.

Another Tieup to End.

Striking employés of the Detroit Nut company, heeding the urging of a United Automobile Workers [CIO] official, decided today to end their two day strike and leave their dispute for future settlement negotiations.

Altho the company employs only about 60 workers, some gigantic defense industries were said to be dependent on it for parts. The strikers stopped work Sunday in an attempt to enforce demands for recognition of the union.

INSURANCE MEN TOLD: REGULATE YOUR INDUSTRY

Paul F. Jones, Illinois insurance director, speaking at the 22d annual meeting of the Insurance Federation of Illinois in the Union League club yesterday, said the country's insurance industry must regulate itself if it is to offset the "increasing pressure" for state and federal regulation. He asserted the industry must be managed "in such a manner as to stay the trend toward national socialism."

E. V. Mitchell, general counsel of the Continental Casualty and Continental Assurance companies, Chicago, was elected president of the federation. He succeeds John P. Keevers, Chicago, resident vice president of the Maryland Casualty company, who will become chairman of the board. Mrs. Lillian Herring was reëlected secretary. George H. Ahrold was reëlected treasurer.

Former Iowa Governor Assumes Post with WPB

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—Dan Turner, former Republican governor of Iowa, reported for duty today in the government requirements branch of the War Production board and will contact state governments on their steel and iron needs. Maury Maverick, head of the branch, said Turner's first job was to settle the motor vehicle license problem for the entire nation.

Detroit Abandons Plans for Immediate Refunding

Detroit city officials have abandoned plans for an immediate sale of refunding bonds because of a generally unfavorable municipal bond market, it was announced yesterday. Earlier this year the city had expected to sell $29,994,500 of refunding bonds.

FIRM IS WORKING FOR U.S., WILSON HEAD DECLARES

Packer Contributes Meat and Taxes to War.

Wilson & Co., Inc., in more ways than one is now working for the government, Edward F. Wilson, president, asserted yesterday at the large meat packing company's annual meeting. He indicated that stockholders no longer can be the first consideration of the company.

E. F. Wilson.

"We are not any longer working for you as stockholders, but we are working for the government," he said. "Our first job is to turn out products at the bidding of Uncle Sam."

Then, pointing to several stacks of canned meat products before him, he said:

"There is the tangible proof. This type of food is going to the armed forces and to foreign countries under lend-lease.

Taxes Total Six Millions.

"But in another way we can be said to be working for the government. Last year we incurred taxes of 6 million dollars and our tax load is getting heavier."

Wilson commented that the 1941 taxes would provide sufficient food to feed 200,000 soldiers for one year.

Discussing the company's operations, Wilson said that sales in the 1941 fiscal year ended last Nov. 1 increased 33 per cent over 1940 volume. He added that the gain is continuing in the current fiscal year. He said that the Omaha plant which appeared to be a "white elephant" three years ago is now a "distinct asset" and is providing needed facilities for packing and processing.

Need for Cash Greater.

In reply to stockholders who had written asking about prospects for resumption of common stock dividends, unpaid for more than 4 years, Wilson said that the company's expanded operations have necessitated larger borrowing from banks for working capital.

"We cannot resume common dividends so long as we have $3 a share in arrears on the preferred stock," he said. "It would be unwise to borrow the cash needed to pay dividends at a time when we need all available cash for our operations."

He noted that the company is in an advantageous position in relation to the war because it performs an essential service and has not had to undergo any radical adjustments.

Wilson criticized Thurman Arnold, head of the justice department's anti-trust division, for his actions against the meat packing industry. He said that the litigation is unjustified and that the packers should be allowed to produce food for the nation without being annoyed by unreasonable lawsuits.

Golf Ball "Out" for Duration.

The effect of wartime restrictions on the use of certain materials, such as tin and rubber, was outlined by Wilson's father, Thomas E. Wilson, board chairman of the company. The elder Wilson said that the company's sporting goods subsidiary has a limited supply of golf balls but that this would be the last unless some satisfactory substitute is found.

Limitations on the use of tin cans has hit the company's dog food line, an important source of revenue. He said that the Wilson research department is testing a dehydrated form of dog food and is also considering the use of glass containers.

The stockholders reëlected Col. A. A. Sprague, Bernard E. Sunny, and E. H. Rawls, as directors for three year terms.

At the annual meeting of Bliss and Laughlin, Inc., the incumbent directors were reëlected and Paul R. Doelz, Minneapolis investment banker, was added to the board.

PREMIUM INCOME OF LUMBERMEN'S MUTUAL CLIMBS

Premium income of the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty company in 1941 rose 18 per cent to a new peak of $34,498,364 for the 30th consecutive year of the company's history, James S. Kemper, president, reported yesterday. This represented a gain of $5,251,850 over 1940 income, the largest for any previous year.

New records were established in all branches of insurance handled by the company, Kemper said. Among the largest were a 37.4 per cent rise in workmen's compensation and 33.9 per cent in boiler and machinery underwriting.

Assets of the company also increased to a new high of $45,363,288, a gain of $3,980,561 in the year. Cash holdings of $11,392,738 at the end of 1941 and government bonds of $23,429,254 represented 77 per cent of total assets, Kemper said.

Grain Prices Rise to Peak for February

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Grains sold at the highest levels since Jan. 30 on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Prices advanced around ½ to ¾ cent a bushel with wheat closing at $1.31 for May delivery.

Lard rose 5 cents per hundredweight as hogs sold at a new 22 year peak for February. Only the soy bean market receded, breaking ½ to 1¼ cents a bushel, primarily as the result of a report from Washington that 1942 acreage was to be reduced and prices frozen. This was denied by the department of agriculture.

Wheat Trade Larger.

Considerations in yesterday's advance in grain prices were:

1. The biggest mill buying of wheat for flour in several weeks. Pit traders estimated wheat-flour transactions at 300,000 bushels.
2. An equally large trade in the corn pit originating with processors. Futures transactions for one corn processor were placed at approximately 300,000 bushels.
3. Washington reports that the farm bloc bill to prohibit the sale of government owned commodities at below parity prices had gained widespread support. Passage was conceded in many quarters.
4. A provision in the new 32 billion dollar war appropriations bill calling for one billion 300 million dollars to be spent for lend-lease food supplies, which was interpreted by grain men as indicating even larger quantities of corn and other feed grains would be needed on the farms to produce fatter hogs, and more milk and eggs.

Revises Buying Program.

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard said lend-lease buying would concentrate on purchases of meat, dairy products, and dried eggs. He was quoted as saying less corn and cotton would be bought for lend-lease.

Grain traders are making every effort to gain passage for the farm bloc's bill. Philip R. O'Brien, president of the Board of Trade, has been in Washington all week seeking support for the measure.

REPORTS UPTURN IN CIRCULATION OF NEWSPAPERS

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 17 [Special].—The circulation of English language daily newspapers in the United States during 1941 averaged 42,385,807, an increase of 1,612,870 over 1940, the new edition of N. W. Ayer & Son's Directory of Newspapers and Periodicals reported today.

The gain was made despite a decline of 24 in the number of dailies published in 1941 to 1,974. There were 1,548 afternoon papers with a combined daily circulation of 25,880,325, a gain of 1,374,774, and 419 morning papers with a combined daily circulation of 15,562,327, a gain of 194,203. The directory classifies seven papers as "all day" papers. There were 549 Sunday editions of daily papers with a combined Sunday circulation of 33,199,248, a rise of 948,573 over 1940.

The number of newspapers of all kinds published in 1941 was 13,204, a decrease of 177. Periodicals totaled 6,709, a gain of 241.

DECREE ON FINANCING OF CAR SALES AGAINST CHRYSLER EXTENDED

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 17 (AP).—A consent decree prohibiting the Chrysler corporation from acquiring an interest in any automobile financing company has been extended for one year, starting last Jan. 1.

Federal Judge Thomas W. Slick ordered the extension yesterday on recommendations of government attorneys and over objections of corporation counsel, who plan to ask a review by the United States Supreme court.

Extension of the consent decree was asked until setlement of a civil suit pending in Chicago which seeks to separate General Motors corporation and General Motors Acceptance corporation.

PAPER INDUSTRY WARNED OUTPUT MAY BE REDUCED

Darrow Terms Big Scale Shutdown Unlikely.

New York, Feb. 17 [Special].—While large-scale shutdowns in the paper industry as a result of the war effort are "improbable," many paper mills will be forced to curtail operations 10 to 30 per cent below present levels before the end of the year, John Darrow, Washington representative of the American Paper and Pulp association, declared today at a priorities clinic meeting, held in conjunction with the organization's annual convention.

This curtailment will be forced by power, transportation, and labor shortages, he said, and the fact that production of nonessential paper products will be ordered reduced. He advised manufacturers to analyze their production and where possible to switch from nonessential to essential products.

Sees Chlorine Shortage.

The policy of the War Production board, Darrow predicted, will be to keep all pulp mills running thru making available repair and maintenance items. However, all applications for a major piece of equipment will be denied, he said.

He predicted that within the next five months chlorine supplies for paper making will dwindle and before the year ends will have practically disappeared except for a few essential purposes. Paper machinery manufacturers are being switched to ordnance work, he said.

Doubts Lack of Pulp.

J. L. Ritchie, chief of the priorities and income allocations section, pulp and paper branch, WPB, reported that all requests for materials for increasing output would be denied.

In an address before the annual meeting of the National Paper Trade association, E. W. Tinker, executive secretary of the American Paper and Pulp association, said that, while for a year and a half there had been predictions of a pulp scarcity, "as yet this has not developed and there is every indication that while maldistribution is real, actual shortages do not and will not exist for some time to come."

PAPER MILL CLOSED.

Hackensack, N. J., Feb. 17 [Special].—Failure of collections of scrap paper today closed the Continental Paper company of Ridgefield Park, largest of four nearby mills that convert waste paper into cardboard casing. Some 350 employés were made idle, and the Standard Container corporation which uses the Continental cardboard for army shell cases, also shut down because of lack of material.

PRUDENTIAL MAY BUY UP LAST OF ITS OWN STOCK

Newark, N. J., Feb. 17 (AP).—The Prudential Insurance Company of America announced today that an agreement had been reached with holders of the 536 shares of stock outstanding for its acquisition by the company.

The outstanding issues had been held mostly by the heirs of Leon and Milton E. Blanchard, whose father, Noah Blanchard, was one of the original stockholders of the large insurance company.

The rest of the 40,000 shares, excepting directors' qualifying stock, is held by trustees for the benefit of policyholders. Under a mutualization plan set up by state statute, the stock was valued at $455 a share in 1914 by court approved appraisers.

The directors voted yesterday that the offer of the remaining stockholders to sell at $1,500 per share be accepted, subject to approval by the chancellor.

CLEARS WAYNE PUMP OF PRICE FIXING CHARGES

Monopoly Case Quashed in Federal Court.

Indictments charging the Wayne Pump company, Fort Wayne, Ind., three other companies, five individuals, and a trade association with conspiracy to fix prices of computer type gasoline pumps were quashed yesterday by Judge Philip L. Sullivan in federal District court. Judge Sullivan killed the charges by sustaining demurrers to the indictments filed by the defendants.

The defendants, indicted a year ago, were accused of establishing a monopoly in the manufacture and sale of computer pumps and price fixing in the sale of such equipment. Judge Sullivan ruled the government indictments were invalid because the complaints they contained were not specific and did not include illegal actions.

Patent Provided Rights.

"I do not find that the defendants are charged with doing anything which they did not already have the right to do under their patent," Judge Sullivan declared. "The fixing of prices and monopoly to manufacture and sell computer pumps, here complained of, were the very rights which the Wayne pump company and licensees enjoyed by virtue of ownership of patent."

Daniel B. Britt, special assistant to the United States attorney general, obtained permission from the court to postpone further action until Monday in order to study Judge Sullivan's decision.

Dismissal to Be Presented.

Ballard Moore, Chicago attorney representing the Tokheim Oil Tank and Pump company, Fort Wayne, a defendant, said a formal order dismissing the indictments would be presented for Judge Sullivan's signature at that time.

Beside Wayne Pump and Tokheim, the defendants were the Gilbert and Barker Manufacturing company, West Springfield, Mass., a subsidiary of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey; Veeder-Root, Inc., Hartford, Conn., and the Gasoline Pump Manufacturers' association, New York City. The individual defendants were officials of Wayne Pump, Gilbert and Barker, Veeder-Root, and the trade association.

BIGGEST PROFITS IN DECADE SHOWN BY BIG RAILROADS

Preliminary reports issued yesterday by railroad companies disclosed 1941 as the most profitable year for the Pennsylvania and the Santa Fe since 1930.

The Pennsylvania reported net income for the year ended Dec. 31 of $52,383,958, the equivalent of $3.98 a share on the common stock, compared with $40,775,830, or $3.09 a share in 1940. It had a $68,952,717 profit, the equivalent of $5.29 a share, in 1930. December profit dipped to $5,086,826 from $5,288,584 a year earlier.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway system reported a preliminary 1941 net income of $30,236,581, the equivalent of $9.90 a share on the common stock.

ANOTHER TENANT TO QUIT AMERICA FORE BUILDING

Another large tenant of the 12 story America Fore building, 844 Rush street, recently bought by the United States government to house the Railroad Retirement board, now in Washington, will move to the loop. The Firemen's Insurance company's Loyalty group of fire insurance companies has leased 35,000 square feet of space in the 120 South La Salle Street building for 15 years.

James R. Sterling, of Ross, Browne & Fleming, managing agent of America Fore, represented the lessee, and Arthur C. Weinrich and E. C. Kohlsaat the owner of 120 South La Salle. The home office of the Firemen's Insurance company is in Newark, N. J. The Chicago office, headed by Herbert A. Clark, vice president, has been in America Fore since it was built in 1923.

The America Fore group of six insurance companies, which occupies much of the space in the America Fore building, recently leased about 2,000 square feet in the Field building.

PRICE AVERAGE CONTINUES RISE IN HOG MARKET

Average price of hogs advanced 20 cents to $13 per hundred pounds yesterday, highest February average in 22 years. This price compared with an average of $7.90 per hundred pounds the same day last year and with $5.20 two years ago. Top loads sold at $13.25, the highest February price in 16 years.

February average costs were higher in only three other years, 1918, 1919, and 1920. Gains for the day in various classes ranged from 10 to 25 cents. Despite the high level of the market, farmers continued to hold receipts below the volume handled at this time in 1941 and 1940.

Hog raisers sold 138,000 head at the eleven leading markets, Monday and yesterday, compared with 165,000 the same two days in 1941 and 181,000 two years ago.

Outstanding consignments of heavier stock were 326 pound butchers at $12.90 and 385 pounders at $12.85. Slaughter lambs advanced 10 to 15 cents. Top loads sold at $12.25 per hundred pounds, with the bulk from $12 to $12.15. Top yearling wethers were quoted at $10.50, and best old ewes at $7.

Best steers and yearlings held steady, but the bulk sold off 10 to 15 cents.

PENSIONS VOTED FOR EMPLOYES OF HELLER & CO.

Stockholders of Walter E. Heller & Co., Chicago instalment banking firm, approved an employé retirement pension plan at a special meeting yesterday. Later, at their regular annual meeting, the stockholders reelected the five directors, added a sixth—L. C. Herrick, vice president in charge of the New York office—and approved an amendment to the certificate of incorporation. The amendment removed from the charter a provision barring issue or guarantee of any obligations of more than 12 months' maturity without consent of the preferred shareholders in cases where such issue would increase total debts to an amount exceeding 3½ times the company's net worth. The directors met and reelected all officers.

DRUG PRODUCER REPORTS PROFIT FOR SIX MONTHS

Reorganized McKesson Nets 3.9 Millions.

McKesson & Robbins, Inc., drug manufacturer, reported yesterday for the six months ended Dec. 31 consolidated net profit of $3,957,543 after charges and setting up a contingency reserve of a million dollars.

The statement was the first issued since the return of the company to private management after its prolonged period of reorganization. W. J. Murray, president, said sales in the period amounted to $102,451,571, compared with $80,861,566 in the comparable period of 1940.

English Business Profitable.

The only foreign assets of the company are owned thru McKesson & Robbins, Ltd. [London], a wholly owned subsidiary whose stock is carried on the balance sheet at $22,983. This company is continuing to earn a small net profit even under difficult conditions existing in England, the report stated.

United Electric Coal companies reported an increase in profit for the six months ended Jan. 31 to $457,919, equal to 88 cents a common share, from $200,155, or 38 cents a share, in the corresponding period a year earlier. The company, with offices in Chicago, has properties in Illinois and Indiana and markets soft coal in the Chicago and St. Louis areas.

NORTH WESTERN ASKS TO ISSUE CAR TRUST NOTES

Authority to issue $3,750,000 in equipment trust certificates to finance 75 per cent of the total cost of $5,079,750 for 1,750 new cars was asked of the Interstate Commerce commission yesterday by the Chicago and North Western railroad. The carrier proposed the purchase of 500 fifty ton steel sheathed and wood lined box cars, 1,000 seventy ton steel gondolas with wood floors and 250 fifty ton steel flat cars with wood floors.

Charles M. Thomson, the railroad's trustee, has invited bids on the issue which will be received until noon Feb. 25.

The orders will be divided among the Bethlehem Steel corporation, General American Transportation company, American Car and Foundry company, and Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company.

Kentucky Utility Files Issue of Bonds with SEC

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17 (AP).—Louisville Transmission corporation, a subsidiary of the Louisville Gas and Electric company, filed with the Security and Exchange commission today a registration statement covering $3,850,000 of first mortgage sinking fund bonds due March 1, 1967. The issue will be sold at competitive bidding to raise funds for a proposed power transmission line.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

AUBURN CENTRAL.

I noticed the other day that the Auburn Central Manufacturing corporation paid an initial dividend on its preferred stock. Is this a new company? Is there any connection with the old Auburn company that manufactured automobiles? Where is its stock listed?—T. J. L.

Answer: The Auburn Central Manufacturing corporation was organized in May, 1940, in Indiana as successor to the Auburn Automobile company. Auburn Central manufactures a light delivery truck, automobile bodies for other companies, and sheet metal products such as refrigerator cabinets and sinks. Early last year an aircraft products division was formed. The company received an order for military airplane wings involving several million dollars. The no par common stock is listed on the New York Curb exchange. The 4 per cent preferred, $50 par, is traded "over the counter."

UPS AND DOWNS.

I would like to know how many common stocks on the New York Stock exchange advanced and how many declined for the year of 1941. —D. B.

Answer: From Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 last year, 206 common issues advanced and 628 declined, on the New York Stock exchange. The advancing issues represented about one out of every four common stocks listed on the exchange.

TAX REFUND.

If I should overpay my federal income tax either thru failure to make allowable deductions or reporting of excessive income, how do I go about claiming a refund?—K. H. M.

Answer: You may file a claim for refund within three years from the time you filed your return or within two years from the time you paid your tax. The claim should be filed on a special form at the office of the collector of internal revenue where you filed your return. A separate form must be filed for each year a refund is claimed.

BANK DEPOSITS.

How many deposit accounts are there in the Bank of America?—L. M.

Answer: The annual report of the Bank of America National Trust and Savings association showed more than 2,600,000 deposit accounts at the end of 1941.

NOT ALLOWED.

I formed a new company last year and incurred considerable expense in the organization procedure. Is this expense deductible for tax purposes? —R. B. O.

Answer: Expenses incurred in the organization of a corporation or business such as incorporation fees, title charges, and attorney and accountant fees are considered capital expenditures and are not deductible.

NEW YORK BOND TRANSACTIONS

Biddle Waives Joint Action Ordered by ODT.

tation service on railroads, public highways and public waterways. It is important, however, that the necessity for coöperation and joint action among carriers not be used as a cloak under which private groups may secure permanent control over competition in the transportation field. The war emergency should not be the occasion to reëstablish the transportation controls which have created hardships upon farmers and small businesses prior to the development of motor and water carrier transportation.

"The assistance of the anti-trust division will be directed solely against the acquisition of power by private groups which go beyond the jurisdiction or the intention of the Office of Defense Transportation."

Okays Use of Committees.

Biddle said he saw no objection to the naming of existing carrier committees and associations to represent the roads before the ODT, but that such groups must confine themselves to "collecting and analyzing information, studying and developing plans for the coördination and most effective use of existing domestic transportation facilities for the prosecution of the war," and then making recommendations to the ODT.

They must not undertake to determine policies or compel compliance, he declared, since request for action must come from the transportation office.

The general character of proposals for coöperative action must be cleared thru the justice department and once given approval, requests for specific action under the plan need be submitted only to the ODT.

Jewel Tea Sales Exceed Year Ago by 50 Per Cent

The Jewel Tea company, Barrington, Ill., yesterday reported dollar volume of sales for the four weeks ended Jan. 31 was $3,953,340, an increase of 50.7 per cent over the total of $2,622,197 for the corresponding period of 1941.

Loans to pay income taxes

You must pay at least one-fourth of your total Federal Income Tax by March 16th. If you have a job, you can borrow the cash you need. Loans made to single people and married couples on own signature or furniture or auto. No endorsers on any loan. No credit inquiries of friends or relatives. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. There is nothing else to pay.

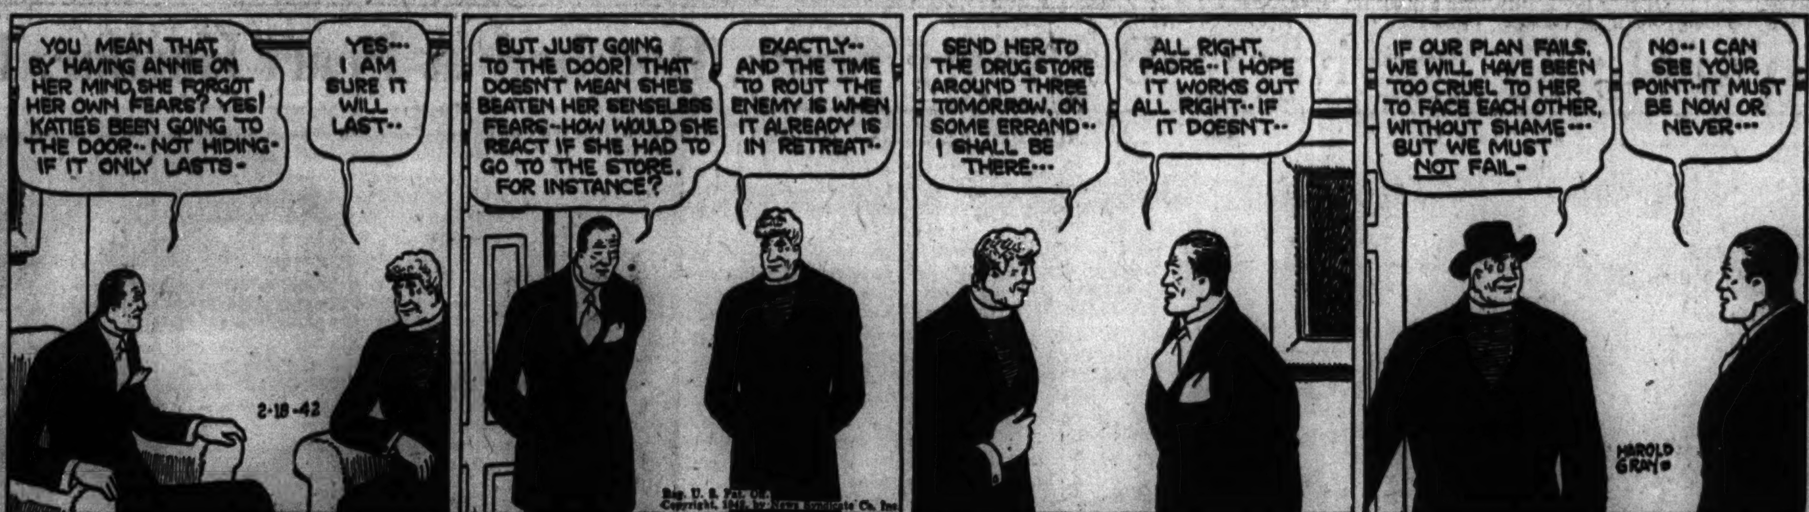
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Trial by Ordeal



YOU MEAN THAT, BY HAVING ANNIE ON HER MIND, SHE FORGOT HER OWN FEARS? YES! KATIE'S BEEN GOING TO THE DOOR-- NOT HIDING- IF IT ONLY LASTS-
YES--- I AM SURE IT WILL LAST--
BUT JUST GOING TO THE DOOR! THAT DOESN'T MEAN SHE'S BEATEN HER SENSELESS FEARS--HOW WOULD SHE REACT IF SHE HAD TO GO TO THE STORE, FOR INSTANCE?
EXACTLY-- AND THE TIME TO ROUT THE ENEMY IS WHEN IT ALREADY IS IN RETREAT-
SEND HER TO THE DRUG STORE AROUND THREE TOMORROW, ON SOME ERRAND-- I SHALL BE THERE---
ALL RIGHT, PADRE--I HOPE IT WORKS OUT ALL RIGHT--IF IT DOESN'T--
IF OUR PLAN FAILS, WE WILL HAVE BEEN TOO CRUEL TO HER TO FACE EACH OTHER, WITHOUT SHAME--- BUT WE MUST NOT FAIL-NO--I CAN SEE YOUR POINT-IT MUST BE NOW OR NEVER---
